HOLY GUARDIAN ANGELS
Feast Day: Monday October 2

In the Old Testament, there are numerous examples of angels of the Lord that are sent to guard and protect humanity. Psalm 91 proclaims: For he commands his angels with regard to you, to guard you wherever you go. The Lord has not revealed whether one specific angel is assigned to watch over each person, but you can be assured that divine protection and comfort are available. Through faith in God, angels will give you strength.

REFLECTION ON THE TWENTY-SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME:

Today's readings focus on staying on the path of discipleship, when we do sin, we need to turn to God. He will show us the way. It requires a humble heart to admit we have sinned and seek to get back on the right path. Christ is our model of obedience and humility. In the parable of the two sons, Jesus warns us that our words mean nothing if our promises aren't followed by action. Which of the two did his father's will? They answered, "The first." Jesus said to them, "Amen, I say to you," tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the Kingdom of God due to genuine belief.

RESPECT FOR LIFE begins today, which kicks off Respect Life Month. We consider more deeply why every human life is valuable and reflect on how to build a culture that protects life from conception to natural death. Join in the Respect Life Novena October 13-21 by going to respectlife.org and entering your email address next to "Respect Life Novena".

FAMILY CONNECTION

The example Jesus poses in today's Gospel could have been taken directly from family experience. Each of us can recall instances in which family members spoke one thing but then did another. The point of Jesus' story is to show that our actions speak louder than words, even with God. Gather as a family, talk about times when a family member said one thing and then did another. Acknowledge that sometimes the action taken displays a true change of heart. Observe that Jesus faulted the religious leaders for not allowing John the Baptist's message of repentance to change their hearts and actions. The word we sometimes use for this change of heart is conversion. Jesus wants us to do more than pay lip service to the Gospel; he wants us to be transformed by his word. Pray together that your family will experience a conversion to God and show evidence of this in both actions and words.

SUNDAY GOSPEL REFLECTION

First Reading: Ezekiel 18:25-28 It is possible to turn from sin and preserve one's life.

Responsorial Psalm: 25:4-9 A prayer to God for mercy.

Second Reading: Philippians 2:1-11 Be like Christ who humbled himself and was exalted by God.

Gospel Reading: Matthew 21:28-32 Jesus poses a question to the chief priests and elders on the meaning of obedience. The context for today's Gospel is the mounting tension between Jesus and the Jewish religious leaders. Jesus has entered Jerusalem and overturned the money changers' tables in the Temple. Jesus has caught the attention of the religious authorities; the chief priests and elders question Jesus about the source of his authority. Jesus refuses to name for these religious leaders the source of his authority. Instead, he questions the priests and elders through the parable we hear in today's Gospel. The answer given by the religious leaders is correct, but it convicts them for their failure to heed the call of John the Baptist and for their inability to recognize the Kingdom of God. The situation Jesus poses is straightforward. Given the same task by their father, one son asserts his disobedience in words, but then obeys in his actions; the second son obeys with his words, but disobeys in his actions. The question that Jesus poses is pointed and direct: Which son did what the father wanted? All would agree that "actions speak louder than words" and that even if his words were disobedient, the son who did the work as ordered did the father's will. Jesus' conclusion is also direct. The chief priests and elders, the ones who speak most often about God, did not act accordingly. They did not respond to the message of repentance announced by John the Baptist with a change of heart. Instead, John's message was heeded by those one would not expect to repent tax collectors, prostitutes, and other sinners. These sinners will enter the Kingdom of God ahead of the religious leaders. Jesus could ask us the same question. Do our words indicate our obedience to God? If not our words, do our actions? God desires a full conversion of heart, that our actions and words will give evidence of our love for God.
