REFLECTION: TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN

ORDINARY TIME Today’s readings highlight God’s healing and justice. They remind us of God’s care for the needy and the importance of treating everyone equally. In the Gospel we hear that Jesus is healing in the district of the Decapolis. The “Decapolis” comes from two Greek words: “deca” for ten and “polis” for cities. These ten cities were east of the Jordan, which means they were in the area of the Gentiles, that is, non-Jews. After healing a deaf man, the Gentile crowd was told not to tell anyone. The crowd had just witnessed a miracle and “was exceedingly astonished,” but was told to tell no one. If you saw this happen in downtown Edmond or at the mall, how quiet would you be when you got home? There are other stories in the Gospels in which Jesus does a miracle and then tells the observers to say nothing. It seems to have just the opposite result, which is good in our case since we are not supposed to be quiet, but as a result of our baptism. We are supposed to spread the good news about Jesus Christ.

Jesus Heals the Deaf Man
 Mark 7:31-37

FAMILY CONNECTION

Today's Gospel invites us to consider how we witness the healing presence of Christ in our care for and ministry to those who are sick. We notice that the deaf man is brought to Jesus for healing by his friends. These people beg Jesus to lay his hands on this deaf man so that he might be healed. Jesus' healing power is shown in his opening of the man's ears and restoring of his speech. When Family members care for one another when they are sick, they bring Christ's healing presence. When we pray for those who are ill, we ask God to show his healing power. When health is restored, we share that good news with others. Gather as a family and recall a time when a family member was ill. What steps were taken to help restore this family member to health? Talk about what it feels like to care for a person who is ill.

SUNDAY GOSPEL REFLECTION

First Reading: Isaiah 35:4-7a Isaiah Prophesies about God's vindication.

Responsorial Psalm: 146:7,8-9,9-10 A song of praise to God.

Second Reading: James 2:1-5 James teaches that there is to be no partiality within the Christian community.

Gospel Reading: Mark 7:31-37 Jesus restores a man's hearing and speech.

Today we continue to hear the Gospel of Mark proclaimed. Jesus heals a man who was deaf and had a speech impediment. This is a story about Jesus' healing power, and in it we find clues about our understanding of sacrament. We are struck by the physical means used to heal the man, the use of spittle and touch. The Church continues to celebrate the sacraments using physical means. In the Sacrament of Baptism, water and oil are used to show the power of the Holy Spirit. In the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, we are anointed with holy oil on the forehead and the hands. In the Eucharist, bread and wine become the Body and Blood of Christ. We are a sacramental people who believe that God's grace is given to us through these physical signs. Some, however, see in this Gospel and image of the proclamation of the good news of Jesus to the Gentiles. The geographic references tell us that Jesus is journeying through Gentile territory. Jesus has previously visited this region and healed a person possessed by a demon. Jesus was already famous there, which explains why people brought the deaf man to him. The story that preceded this reading in Mark's Gospel sets the stage. Jesus encounters a Gentile, a Syrophenician woman who asks him to heal her demon possessed daughter. Jesus engages her in a dialogue about not feeding to dogs the food intended for children. Jesus is struck by the woman's great faith when she replies that even dogs eat the food that falls from the table, and he heals her daughter immediately. The faith of this Greek woman compels Jesus to respond to her plea. In Mark's Gospel Jesus gives the man the gift of speech, but then tells him not to use it. Jesus asks that the news of his healing power, which is evidence of his identity as the Messiah, not be spread.
