REFLECTION: THIRTY FIRST SUNDAY IN

ORDINARY TIME The readings invite us to reflect on love, loyalty, and faithfulness. These themes are evident in the commands given in Deuteronomy, the eternal priesthood of Jesus in Hebrews, and Jesus' teaching on the greatest commandments in Mark. These readings guide us in understanding love, obedience, and Jesus' eternal priesthood. Reflections on the 31st Sunday often focus on the importance of loving God and one's neighbor, and the sacrifice of love that we are called to make. We are called to love God and our neighbor as we love ourselves. This means respecting what others say, not stealing from them, and not harming them. Christians are called to make a sacrifice of love, similar to the one that Christ made. This sacrifice can be demonstrated through small gestures, such as a smile, kind words, or charity. Christians should recognize God as the source of strength and make him their fortress. We can get to know God by getting to know love as it was made visible in Jesus Christ.

Saint Charles Borromeo: Feast Day Monday November 4th, There are four lessons we can learn from Saint Charles. The first is not to be a fake believer The second is forgive one another constantly, time after time, day after day, at least seven times a day, The third is plant the tiny seed of faith deeply and securely in your heart and then you transform the world. The fourth is commit yourself to service. Saint Charles cared about people and wanted them to know that the Church of God cared about them.

FAMILY CONNECTION

As Christians, our moral behavior is guided by the two part commandment taught by Jesus in today's Gospel: love God and love your neighbor as yourself. Many of us learned to use this framework as an examination of conscience. By examining our lives through the lens of these commandments, we have learned that the challenge of these commandments is not in our desire to follow them but in our capacity to consistently honor these commandments in our daily lives. For one week, identify and collect new reports of How Christians show their love for God by loving and serving their neighbor. As a family talk about ways in which your family might contribute to the examples of Christian service you found. Conclude in prayer together asking God to help us show love to our family members and friends.

SUNDAY GOSPEL REFLECTION

First Reading: Deuteronomy 6:2-6 Moses teaches the people to love and worship God alone.

Responsorial Psalm: 18:2-3,3-4,47-51 A prayer of praise to God our strength.

Second Reading: Hebrews 7:23-28 Jesus intercedes for us as our eternal high priest.

Gospel Reading: Mark 12:28b--34 Jesus is questioned by a scribe about the greatest commandment.

As we continue to read from Mark's Gospel, our Lectionary skips a chapter that helps set the context for today's reading. If we were to read the sections skipped we would hear about Jesus' entry into Jerusalem, his cleansing of the Temple, and the questioning of Jesus' authority by the chief priests, scribes, and elders. The context, therefore, for this Gospel is Jesus' growing exposure before the Jewish authorities. Jesus is being questioned and tested by the Jewish authorities, yet the scribe who addresses Jesus in today's Gospel seems to be an admirer; he is not testing Jesus. The question posed in today's Gospel requires Jesus to interpret the Law of Moses. The Mosaic Law consists of the Ten Commandments and many additional commandments, numbering into the hundreds. For a devout Jew, adherence to the Mosaic Law is an expression of faithfulness to God's covenant with Israel. The ranking of these was regularly debated among the teachers of the Law. Jesus was not the only Jewish religious teacher to connect these two commandments. Love of God and love of neighbor. Both of these commandments were central elements of the religious tradition that Jesus learned from his Jewish community. These commandments continue to be central aspects of contemporary Jewish religious understanding. Jesus' response to this questioners proposed an integral connection between these two aspects of the Jewish Law. Love of God finds its expression in our love for our neighbor. Many believe, that this connection was heard in a new and fresh way when spoken by Jesus. Jesus teaches that the commandments to love God and love neighbor stand above the commandment to offer worship and sacrifice in the Temple.
