Ash Wednesday: March 5th, This day is dedicated to prayer and fasting. It marks the first day of Lent, the six weeks of penitence before Easter. The blessing of Ash Wednesday is the reminder that though we are born from dust and return to dust and that sin brought the curse of death to the world. Placing ash on your forehead is a symbolic act of repentance and a reminder of mortality, signifying that “you are dust and to dust you shall return,” focusing on self reflection and renewal through prayer.

REFLECTION: EIGHTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY

TIME: On the Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time, the central reflection focuses on the hypocrisy of judging others while ignoring our own faults, as Jesus teaches in the Gospel of Luke; essentially reminding us to examine our own shortcomings before criticizing others and to strive to be like a “good tree” producing good fruit, reflecting our inner character through our words and actions. Before pointing out flaws in others, take a deep look at your own behavior and motivations to avoid hypocrisy. Just as a good tree bears good fruit, strive to be a positive influence on others by speaking and acting with kindness and compassion. Avoid rash judgement and criticism, instead, approach others with understanding and a desire to help them grow. Our words should reflect our true character, so be mindful of the intentions behind what you say. When you find yourself criticizing someone, pause and consider if you are being overly critical or if you are projecting your own insecurities.

Jesus' parables in this week's Gospel are a reminder of the importance of continued learning, prayer and reflection, and humility in our discipleship. We shine God's light in the world when we are "lit from within" with God's grace, willing to examine our own conscience and recognize our own need or transformation through Jesus. As busy parents responsible for our children's physical, emotional, and spiritual growth, we may sometimes be challenged to find time and energy to care for ourselves and attend to our own spiritual growth. Yet doing so can improve our family relationships and help us guide our children in their faith. We can be reminded of the simple safety instruction we hear when flying, to put on our own "spiritual" oxygen mask before helping others.

SUNDAY GOSPEL REFLECTION

First Reading: Sirach 27:4-7 In his conversation is test of the man.

Responsorial Psalm: 92:2-3,13-16 The just shall flourish like a palm tree.

Second Reading: 1 Corinthians 15:54-58 Thanks be to God who has given us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Gospel Reading: Luke 6:39-45 Each tree is known by its yield.

The third and final section of Luke's Sermon on the Plain begins: and he told them a parable. There are actually four parables, three of which we read today. They are all about how to be a good disciple. The blind cannot lead the blind. A disciple cannot be a good disciple unless he or she has learned from the teacher. Everyone who is fully trained is like the teacher who knows how to cure the blind. Before you can be a good disciple and teach others you must take care of yourself. Do not try to take a speck out of your brother's eye until you have taken the board out of your own. Finally, only when you have purified yourself can you produce the good works that the teacher requires. Discipleship asks us to produce good deeds. But to produce them requires the integrity and purity of heart found in the teacher. When people see your good deeds they will know that this is because you have a good heart. The final parable, which we do not read today, is about building on the solid foundation of rock and not on sand. This is the only way to face the difficulties a disciple will encounter and survive. Every tree is known by its own fruit. We know the apple tree was good and strong because the apple is shiny. In the same way, people are known by their deeds. When we do good deeds, we show others that we have the good, loving heart of a disciple. Being a disciple of Jesus means that we show our love for God in what we say and do. Ask yourself what will you do and say today to show you have a heart of a disciple. We are good disciples when we model Christian love and make good, moral choices. When we see someone do something that we think is wrong, we do not have to participate. Instead we can become a positive influence.
