Food For Faith Living from the desk of Fr. Mark

We are familiar with Isaiah (1st rd.) depicting the Suffering Servant. Though applicable to Jesus, God's message was to identify Israel as the servant and remind them that their sinfulness is forgiven, life is restored and a blessed future awaits. Sinfulness is no secret and no one avoids it. That's not an excuse for our frailty. It calls people back to a faithful, loving God Who perseveres in mercy and restores relationships by His Words and Actions. It is the cornerstone of faith.

Hebrews (2nd rd.) describes Jesus as "a great high priest, a man who sympathizes with our weaknesses, tested, like us, in every way, yet without sin." It is through His Love and Sacrifice that "all receive mercy and find help to live faithfully."

Human ego and ambition can blind us to the meaning of God's love. The first followers are aware of their good fortune in Jesus inviting them to follow Him. They envision a glorious future! They aspire to sit on His right and left in heaven! Jesus asks if they can do what He must do and they say, "We can!" As always, they don't understand and won't until they receive the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. Jesus says it plainly, to them and us, "whoever wishes to be great among you must be your servant!" God's love is clearly laid out before them and us. The truth of salvation and redemption is God's faithfulness in the face of our unfaithfulness. Jesus came "to serve and not be served and to give His life for our ransom!"

Once enlightened to God's meaning and purpose, The disciples did serve. So do we when we are convinced of God's truth and love, personified in Jesus Who invites us "to take up our cross and follow Him." It is a cross of love and forgiveness, resisting evil and undoing injustices, of reconciliation and healing, all leading to the joy and peace of fulfillment, a life lived as God's daughters and sons participating in the building of the kingdom.
