

TEMPLE
SOLEL Pathfinder
MAY 2022 / NISSAN IYAR SIVAN 5782

May is celebration month for our preschoolers.

Teacher Appreciation and Mother's Day are both celebrated in May. Both these celebrations honor special people in the lives of a preschooler. Here are some ideas that will help teachers and Moms feel special, loved and recognized on their special days.

- Bring a special treat
- Write a note – draw a picture
- Give flowers
- Make a craft project
- Make a gift basket with their favorite things, snack, lotions, perfumes, music CD
- Make a happy memories box. Decorate a box or a tin and fill it with favorite memory pictures or written notes.
- Make a donation to a favorite charity or organization.

These are just a few suggestions. I am sure children will have many other fun and crazy ideas to share. Fun and love are the important factors in children making the special people in their lives feel important.

Celebrating Prekindergarten graduation with a ceremony is a great opportunity to acknowledge learning and to recognize milestones and educational achievements. It helps give children a sense of accomplishment and pride. Teaching about graduation also helps children transition into kindergarten. Easing children into the transition is a huge benefit in their future learning experiences. Graduation is such a special milestone in a child's life.

We have more to celebrate at our wonderful Solel Preschool. We are excited for Mary Ann Bloom; she will be retiring as Director of The Temple Solel Preschool on June 30th of this year. Mary Ann will now have more time to enjoy what she loves most in life. Spending time with her children and grandchildren, golfing, Pilates, attending concerts and vacationing with her family.

Linda Irish, who is the Assistant Director of The Temple Solel Preschool will be the new Director starting July 1st of this year. We are excited to welcome Linda and are looking forward to the new ideas she will bring to our fabulous school.

Let's also celebrate successfully making it through another wonderful school year. Have a great summer.

The mission of Temple Solel is to be a vibrant, inclusive and engaged Reform community, grounded in relationships and deeds, and elevated by Shabbat and Torah.

We see the divine spark in each individual by together:

Warmly welcoming all who enter

Nurturing lifelong learning

Creating joy through prayer and music

Celebrating holidays and sharing life cycles

Fostering a love of Israel, and

Working for tikkun olam — repairing the world

A Tree Grows in Solel

The purchase of a leaf on Temple Solel's Tree of Life provides a special way to commemorate a life-cycle event, while at the same time providing needed funds for our children's religious education. You have probably noticed the inscribed leaves, each one reminding us of a special Simchah or thought celebrated by a temple member or organization. These leaves can be purchased for $180 .

All funds are used to support Temple Youth and Education Programs.

The first Torah portion that we read this month is Kedoshim. It contains the holiness code, which includes the words ‘You shall be holy, for I the Lord your God am holy.’ It also contains many mitzvot about charity, morality, equality before the law, honoring one’s parents and the sacredness of life. But perhaps the most well-known part of this portion is that we are to ‘love your neighbor as yourself.’ This raises some interesting questions. It assumes first of all that we are able to love ourselves. For some of us, we may have a relationship with ourselves that is broken or wounded. We may judge or criticize ourselves harshly. We may hold ourselves to standards that are unrealistic or overly demanding, based on our particular life circumstances.

In order to treat others with kindness, therefore, we need to be kind to ourselves. In order to treat others with grace, we need to allow ourselves the space to try and to fail without judgment. In order to forgive others, we must learn to first forgive ourselves for the ways we have not lived up to our own potential. Self-care is sometimes viewed as overly indulgent or something reserved only for the wealthy.

In reality, taking care of ourselves is a daily necessity and something that we must give a high priority to in our lives.

During this time of the Omer, when we are counting the days between Passover and Shavuot, let us take some time to see where we have been hard on ourselves. Through my own work in developing self-awareness, I have recognized this pattern in myself. I have also seen that sometimes these things that seem imperfect are the very things that others relate to the most. My hope is that we can learn to really love ourselves, so that we have the capacity to truly love those around us. Let us recognize our own humanity and bring to ourselves a sense of acceptance. Hillel once said, ‘That which is hateful to you, do not do to your neighbor.’ Let us also not do those things to ourselves. By cultivating a sense of respect and generosity towards ourselves, we will become the kind of neighbors we want to be.

This Friday, May 6 will be a special one. It will be a Shabbat Shira service, featuring the full band. It will also be our Confirmation service, where our teens will affirm their commitment to being a part of the Jewish people. Being in community will make the service even more meaningful, but you are always welcome to join us online.

Dear Temple Solel Families

What a wonderful and challenging year this has been! Thanks to our teachers, parents and grandparents, your students have had a year of Torah, Jewish history, Jewish music, Jewish culture, Jewish food, Jewish holidays, Hebrew and Jewish community! I also want to thank our much needed and important Madrichim. They light up any classroom and give strength to our Solel Community. They are: Sasha Ambroson, Ben Cherny, Miles Chovnick, Logan Costello, Ella Feuer, Stanley Kowitz, Declan Travis, Kyla Tucker, Ava Ganz, Greer Ginis, Adlai Lipton, Erica McGadney, Cole Nelson, Chase Sorosky, William Steen-Koppell, Maya Superfon, Samantha Sweet, Sophia Yudell, Benjamin Kravets, Eli Resnick, Livia Goodman, Nate Spierer, Emerson Ornstein, Isaac Speyer, Owen Eckstein, Ryan Raskin, Sammy Brodsky, Stella Kowitz, Talia Udelman, Ariel Eisen, Cali Travis, Drew Kolber, Soleil Travis, Arielle Nelson and Elsa Steen-Koppell.

I am looking forward to next year, when if we don't get grounded by another pandemic, we will build our curriculum by adding electives, retreats and youth activities.

What is New?

Next year, all fifth graders will be required to take a 25 minute Hebrew zoom class. This class will be offered either on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evening, starting at 5pm and the last class starting at 8pm. Of course, if any fourth or sixth grader is interested, they too will be able to enroll. This class is part of the Raker Religious School curriculum and is no extra charge. Students will be encouraged to attend a certain number of Erev Shabbat services and Saturday morning services, so that by the time they are ready to start their B'Mitzvah classes, they will have a firm understanding of what a Friday night service and a B'Mitzvah service involves. More RTC events with the other Reform Temples in the Valley. (Reform Teen Coalition) As has been advertised, I am looking for teachers for Raker Religious School, grades 2,4,5,and 6. Our classes are growing in size and I will need two teachers in grades 4-6. Knowledge of Hebrew is important, but not absolutely required. In addition, I am looking to hire a youth advisor/religious school coordinator for Raker Religious School. Please contact me if you are interested!

Have an exciting summer. Stay safe and be well!

At the start of each Hebrew month (Rosh Chodesh), we gather for friendship and Jewish learning. We will end with a blessing for the new month. This month Joanne Lerer will lead us. Zoom registration link is in the weekly eNUZ.

Join us for this last Rosh Chodesh before our summer break.

The Confirmation Class of 2022

Temple Solel Book Club

Greetings, Fellow Book Lovers!

We will meet on May 17 at 6:00 p.m. in person at Temple and on Zoom at 6:30 for those who attend remotely. We will eat a potluck dinner from 6:00 onward. From 6:30-7:30 we'll discuss books by Solel members Adena Astrowsky and Deena Goldstein, who plan to attend. Adena wrote Living among the Dead: My Grandmother's Holocaust Survival Story of Love and Strength. "This is the story of one remarkable young woman's unimaginable journey through the rise of the Nazi regime, the Second World War, and the aftermath. Mania Lichtenstein's dramatic story of survival is narrated by her granddaughter and her memories are interwoven with beautiful passages of poetry and personal reflection." -Amazon

In Deena's memoir OK, Little Bird, three siblings experience their father differently. "Navigating stringent rules, cantankerous family dinners, unfiltered commentaries, and lots of love, OK, Little Bird takes the reader on a bouncy ride from laughter to tears. ... Through a lifetime of wry banter, voicemails, letters and bad gifts, fly with Little Bird as she learns that ... the gem of laughter is the best coping tool of all." Join us to converse with these two authors.

On June 21, we will ponder Philip Roth's The Plot Against America, a 2004 "fable of an alternative universe, in which America has gone fascist and ordinary life has been flattened under a steamroller of national politics and mass hatreds." Roth draws no parallels to the early 21st Century, but developments since the time he wrote his novel may inspire some comparison in our conversation.

We welcome participation, including as session leader, and thank Steve Slogoff for leading the discussion of The Physician last month. For anything related to book club, email us at books@templesolel.org.

Upcoming book club dates:

August 16, September off for High Holidays, October 18, November 15

“Mother’s Day” at Torah Study By Matthew Kozinets

In Torah Study this month, we celebrate Mother’s Day (May 8). We study in honor of the women in our lives who strengthen and support us – our mothers, grandmothers, wives, aunts, sisters and friends. It’s a special time of love and appreciation. In addition, Jewish mystics thank Malkah HaOlam, or Mother Earth, our primordial and enduring source of life.

Remarkably, the first story in the Torah is a celebration of Mother Earth. God creates the world with ten utterances: “Let there be light; let there be land; let there be seas,” and so on. Notably, the Hasidic master Sefat Emet teaches that these utterances are actually commandments. We’re not reading a story of Creation, he says, but rather a story of Preservation.

For example, the notion “Let there be land” is a directive to let the land be. Let flora and fauna grow. Don’t destroy them. Similarly, “Let there be seas” tells us to protect oceans and their fishes and coral reefs. The Torah wants us to appreciate that no matter where humans exist on earth, we share our living spaces with wild nature.

Today, we often view human intelligence as superior to other species. We’re the ones who write books, launch spaceships, and split atoms. But Jewish mystics believe that a greater intelligence fills the world. Mother Earth possesses knowledge that humans don’t hear... until we quiet down and listen. “Words of Torah can be found throughout Creation,” says Sefat Emet. There is the Torah of a tree, the Torah of a bird, and the Torah of a raindrop. As a way to honor Mother Earth on Mother’s Day, let us bless the Divine Presence that is present in the natural world all around us, everywhere and every day.

Torah Study meets virtually every Saturday morning at 9:00 AM. See eNUZ for Zoom link and info. Please join us!

*Would you like to volunteer at some point in the future?
We’d love to have you! Email office@templesolel.org, and we’ll

Temple Solel Endowment Foundation

A very old man is planting a fruit tree. A passer-by wonders why he would bother to plant a tree that won't bear fruit until decades after he is dead. The old man responds, "As my father planted before me, so do I plant for my children." This story from the Talmud models tikkun olam, a Hebrew phrase that means loosely, "repair the world." A long held traditional Jewish belief is that the obligation for each generation is to leave the world better for the next generation. Giving to sustain and improve the community for the next generation is a choice that I feel those who have donated to the Solel Endowment Foundation understand well.

As a congregation we have many opportunities to support our wonderful Temple Solel community. Just a look through the pages of this Pathfinder shows the many areas where members can, and do, donate to our congregation helping with the daily operations and programs that benefit all of us. A donation to the Temple Solel Endowment Foundation is different, like that tree in the Talmudic tale, the hope is that the planting done now will benefit future generations and allow Solel to flourish in the future.

The role of the Directors of the Temple Solel Endowment Foundation is to nurture the growth of that sapling. While all directors are also donors their most important task is ensuring that funds are protected and invested properly to yield the greatest benefits for the future. This is done with regular reviews and recommendations by our money manager and directors all focusing on a healthy future for the investment and in turn the future of our congregation.

It is my privilege as President of the Temple Solel Endowment Foundation to continue to attend to the needs of our beloved congregation by planting the seeds whose growth will blossom and enhance the future of Solel. I hope you can join me in this effort by considering a donation to the Foundation.

If you have any questions about how you may help the Temple Solel Endowment Foundation, please contact Robert Siamon at rsiamon@yahoo.com

The Temple Solel Endowment Foundation (Foundation)

The Foundation is separate and distinct 501(c)(3) from Temple Solel that has been formed and organized to raise, invest, and manage funds through endowments and gifts for the sole purpose of financially supporting the activities, programs, practices, and growth of Temple Solel. If you are interested in the work of the Foundation, please contact Foundation Board President Robert Siamon at rsiamon@yahoo.com.
