While he was in Jerusalem for the feast of the Passover, many began to believe in his name when they saw the signs he was doing.

But Jesus would not trust himself to them because he knew them all,

And did not need anyone to testify about human nature. He himself understood it well.

John 2: 23-25

MISSION STATEMENT

Holy Family Parish is a community that builds on a long tradition of bringing people to a closer relationship with God through prayer, sacraments, celebrations, education, and service to those in need.

A LETTER FROM YOUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

This weekend, we enter into the third week of the Lenten season. I hope and pray that these days are proving to be beneficial in your prayer. I have read a few reviews of a new book by Fr. James Martin, S.J. Learning to Pray: A Guide for Everyone. I have put this on my TBR (to be read) list. I have also recently heard Father Martin's brief presentations on YouTube on prayer. He is an easy-to-listen-to speaker, and shares some really good insights. You can access him on YouTube by typing "Fr. James Martin" or "America Media Jesuits" in the search line and the list of options will be shown. This might be a good resource for you in these remaining weeks of Lent.

In Other News:

You will notice in this week's bulletin two information items regarding financial stewardship. One is a reporting of our collection from last weekend (Feb 27/28). Though this past weekend was a bit lower than usual, it demonstrates your giving on a regular basis. The other FYI is a year-to-date report of our offertory actual income compared with the year-to-date budget. You will notice that overall, we are stable in our offertory. I am very appreciative of your faithfulness to your financial support of your parish. This is remarkable, given the pandemic and the fluctuation in attendance at weekend Masses. Thank you.

We are very glad to see the numbers of the coronavirus going in the right direction, but public health officials are still urging us to be cautious. The numbers of those being vaccinated are also positive and we want to keep that going in the right direction as well. You will note elsewhere in the bulletin this week that we are planning on Easter being our final online Mass. It will be good for the community to be able to gather again in person. Let's pray that all parts of this puzzle will allow that to happen. In the meantime, be safe and take good care.

*Peace,
Fr. Marty*

The Story and You™

Sacred Conversations

Third Sunday in Lent

I hope that you had the great grace of being made to memorize the Ten Commandments as a child. But in case your brain has had to delete them to make room for the thousands of other things you've needed to stuff in there through the years, take the list out of today's first reading and see how long it takes to commit each one to memory again.

It was easier when we were kids. Our brains were more supple, of course, but, more than that, it was easy to confidently recite commandments we were certainly never going to break. I think of those commandments a lot these days, during tax time. It turns out that a lot of us are willing to break the seventh commandment because, well, we can.

Thou shalt not steal seems like such an obvious command. No society can prosper when there is no deterrence from stealing from each other. Certainly we can all point to government waste, and entitlements we deem immoral. Funding those in our taxes is a bitter pill. In other cases, though, hiding assets is meant to benefit the wealthier member of a divorcing couple, to the detriment of the children of that union.

These past two tax seasons have been particularly appalling as poor, single mothers realize that their "smart, savvy" ex has stolen their stimulus check from them. During the pandemic, the most obvious sin against the seventh commandment has been the number of fraudulent unemployment claims filed---sevenfold the number of authentic claims! Do we not realize that this is theft?

We need a "come to Jesus" moment. Thou shalt not steal is not a suggestion. It's an honest-to-God commandment.

Which commandment am I struggling with this Lent?

CHURCH NEWS AND UPDATES

Habits for a Better Lent:

1. Pray before the Crucifix
2. Go to Confession
3. Pray the Stations of the Cross Stations of the Cross will be available for private prayer online via YouTube at holymfamilydenver.com.
4. Make a Fast: A key aspect of the spiritual life, and one we don't often talk about, is self-denial. Scripture and the teachings of the Church state that, due to our fallen nature, we have disordered desires. Deep within the heart of every person is a profound hunger for Divine Love, the very love of God. Yet we often seek to quell that hunger with inappropriate things, overeating, abusing alcohol or drugs, watching too much television, etc.
5. Turn off technology.
6. Do not get discouraged. From Fr. Joseph Mary Elder, O.F.M. Capuchin

From Christ in the City: 40 DAYS – 40 NAMES

You say you want to help those “who are really in need. You want to do something personal.” This is your opportunity to help real people in the Denver Downtown area.

Take a flyer at the entrance of the church. Each person on the calendar is a person struggling with living on “our streets”. The flyers have numerous suggestions for your Lent, and how to engage and help our homeless friends. It all begins with prayer.
