From The Pastors Desk

Hello friends,

Let me share with you a story about a woman teacher who became engaged. One of her more experienced co-workers decided to give her some good advice. "Just remember, she said, the first ten years of marriage are the hardest." The younger teacher asked her co-worker how long she had been married. "Ten years," she answered.

This weekend readings present us with a very challenging topic: love. When we hear that word, we automatically think of romance, joy, and warm feelings. Sometimes it is; sometimes it's a matter of dedication, loyalty and commitment. Those who have matured in learning about love know that sometimes it's easy and sometimes it's hard work. Jesus was asked which of the commandments is the greatest. He states two, not one, as basic and central to everything else. The first is from the Book of Deuteronomy. It is part of a Scripture text that pious Jews recited twice a day. The second is from the Book of Leviticus. Putting these two together is original with Jesus and stresses Jesus' emphasis that true religion is more than a matter of external observance but comes from the disposition of our hearts.

Hola amigos,

Permítanme compartir con ustedes una historia sobre una maestra que se comprometió. Uno de sus compañeros de trabajo más experimentados decidió darle un buen consejo. "Sólo recuerda, dijo, los primeros diez años de matrimonio son los más difíciles." La maestra más joven le preguntó a su compañero de trabajo cuánto tiempo había estado casada. "Diez años", respondió ella.

Las lecturas de este fin de semana nos presentan un tema muy desafiante: el amor. Cuando escuchamos esa palabra, automáticamente pensamos en romance, alegría y sentimientos cálidos. A veces lo es; a veces es una cuestión de dedicación, lealtad y compromiso. Aquellos que han madurado en el aprendizaje sobre el amor saben que a veces es fácil y a veces es trabajo duro.

Se le preguntó a Jesús cuál de los mandamientos es el más grande. Afirma dos, no uno, como básico y central para todo lo demás. El primero es del Libro de Deuteronomio. Es parte de un texto de las Escrituras que los judíos piadosos recitaban dos veces al día. El segundo es del Libro de Levítico. Reunir a estos dos es original con Jesús y subraya el énfasis de Jesús en que la verdadera religión es más que una cuestión de observancia externa, pero proviene de la disposición de nuestros corazones.

It has been a very interesting year for me in many aspects. One of them is overseeing a religious education program in a completely new format. I am extremely grateful for the catechists who have undertaken this ministry and are doing well presenting the faith to our parish children and to their parents. Yes, there have been some hiccups, but overall the system has worked out well. The safety of the children, their families, and our catechists has been a priority and we continue to meet this challenge. I thank everyone for being patient and will continue to provide the best service that I can. If we have not communicated with you on a concern regarding your child/children, please let me know.

I wish you a wonderful week ahead
Peace & Blessings,

Mary Helen Llañez
K-5 Religious Education Coordinator

Hello Students St. Alberts community,

I hope everyone is having a fruitful semester and making it through as best as possible. We are quickly approaching the end of the semester, and with that comes our beloved Grad Mass! If you are a graduating Senior this semester, please reach out to Shay@stalbertnewmancenter.org, or campusministry@stalbertnewmancenter.org so that we can plan for this Mass accordingly. We are also looking for people to serve during Mass as Communion Ministers, and Lectors. If you are interested please email to the above emails as well. Students, please continue to stay safe and take the necessary precautions we've all been under, so that we may continue to celebrate and gather as a community. Good luck with another busy week, I look forward to seeing everyone at our weekly events; Student Mass- Sundays at 7:30pm, Mass and Dinner- Wednesdays at 5:30. Morning Walk and Rosary- Thursdays at 8:00am.

Have a blessed week,
Shay Archuleta
Campus Ministry Intern

Hello Everyone,

We were so excited to get our Confirmation classes started this past weekend without any major issues. Thank you to everyone for being so patient with us this year getting those classes up and running again! We are however still looking for a few more teachers, so if you are interested in teaching or assisting in a confirmation class, please send me an email at youthministry@stalbertnewmancenter.org

Thank you for your continued support! God Bless!

Dean Gontis,
Youth Minister, RE. 6 - HS
