Feast of the Holy Family

It isn't by accident that the first Sunday after Christmas we celebrate the Holy Family of Mary, Joseph, and Jesus. As we hear in our first reading this weekend, "God sets a father in honor over his children; a mother's authority he confirms over her sons (Sirach 3:2)." The family is the model of the Church and the Church is to be a model for the family. The Domestic Church of the family is as ancient as the relationship between God and man.

In the beginning, when God created man and woman, he created them to be complementary, where one lacks, the other sustains. It is in the complementary roles of husband and wife, then mother and father, that we learn how to be children of God. We are to emulate our parents, and our parents are to be models for us. Unfortunately though, in our fallen world, this isn't always the case. Many times mothers and fathers don't live up to their roles as models in the faith, so even in this instance, the Lord provides, as He always does.

By giving us the model of the Holy Family, the Lord is providing for those who may not have had great models in their own lives. Mary, in her faith, steadfast love, and humility shows how a mother is to regard her spouse and her children. Joseph in his loyalty, respect, and honor of Mary shows how a father is to treat his spouse and children. Jesus, in being the Son of God, shows us what the capacity and trueness of humanity can be through His life, words, deeds, and respect that He has for His parents.
