God's Dwelling Place

How lovely is your dwelling place,

O Lord of Hosts!

My soul yearns and pines for the courts of the Lord.

My heart and my body cry out to the living God.

As the sparrow finds a home and the swallow a nest to settle her young,

My home is by your altar, Lord of Hosts,

My king and my God.

Blessed are those who dwell in your house, O Lord.

—Psalm 84

I think people could say about our new remodeled Sacred Heart Church, “How lovely is your dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts. It is truly a lovely place in which God will begin to dwell today. God will dwell in the community gathered, the living breathing Body of Christ.

God will dwell in the Word proclaimed.

God will dwell in the person of the priest standing “in persona Christi,” as Christ stands before the Father with all the angels and saints offering the eternal sacrifice of praise. God will dwell in the celebration of the Sacraments, most especially in the celebration of the Eucharist, the “summit and fount” of the Church’s activity.

God will dwell in the true Eucharistic presence of Jesus Christ in the tabernacle.

God will now dwell in this holy place. Indeed, “how lovely is your dwelling place!”

St. Paul Center for Biblical Theology!

Here at the St. Paul Center for Biblical Theology,

January 25th is sort of one of the biggest dates in the liturgical calendar, and no wonder, because it's the

Feast of the Conversion of Saint Paul

Paul is not only a personal hero of mine and the one I hold most responsible for making me Catholic, but he's also arguably the most influential writer in human history. Whose writings have been studied and read as much as his?

When you look at church history, you discover what Harnack said and others too, that the history of Christian theology is sort of a history of all of the debates about what in fact Paul really meant.

You go back to the second century, and the Gnostics were always taking his side, or they thought they were following Paul until a man like Saint Irenaeus comes along and shows us how to read him right.

Pelagius thought that salvation was something that we could do ourselves, and if you were weak, well, you might need God's Grace. But Saint Augustine used Saint Paul at the end of the fourth century, the early fifth century to show that, no, without grace, without the power of the Holy Spirit as Saint Paul taught us, there's nothing we can do that is pleasing to God. He alone can make us his children, and He does it not by our own merit, but by what Christ has merited by the power of the Holy Spirit by the grace that is more than just a free gift. It is a participation in the very life of God and Christ's own divine sonship.

I mean this is ultimately what led me not only to love Paul, which I'd always done since my early days as a Christian, but to trace Paul's trajectory into the Catholic faith, into the Catholic Church.

Laudato Si Quote of the Month:

"Yet we are called to be instruments of God our Father, so that our planet might be what he desired when he created it and correspond with his plan for peace, beauty and fullness."
Laudato Si (53)

Monthly Intention: For a hope-full and peace-full year. No matter where we are in the process of our commitment to care for our common home, it is always time to stop and listen once again to how God is calling us through the cries of the Earth and the cries of the most vulnerable. Hope and peace should not be abstract concepts or superficial feelings to us, but rather concrete motivations built upon our actions of commitment to follow God's will.

Reflect on the Laudato Si' quote of the month and think about the changes happening around you. What are the cries of the Earth and the cries of the most vulnerable in and near Prescott? How is God calling you to be his instrument for a world of peace, beauty, and fullness right where you are?

The more we witness the lack of peace and struggle for hope, the more we are called to build them. May we keep journeying forth to create an ever more hope-full and peace-full common home!

Walking Through the Mass – Liturgy of the Word & Liturgy of the Eucharist

By Fr. Luke Spannagel

As we conclude the Liturgy of the Word and prepare to transition to the Liturgy of the Eucharist, it is a fitting time to reflect on how these main parts of the Mass are united and complement each other. We previously touched on this unity in our reflection on the homily. This time, we will hear from a couple of our recent popes. As The General Instruction of the Roman Missal states, “The Mass consists in some sense of two parts, namely the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist, these being so closely interconnected that they form but one single act of worship. For in the Mass is spread the table both of God’s Word and of the Body of Christ, and from it the faithful are to be instructed and refreshed” (GIRM, 28, also cf. SC 56, 48, 51). Perhaps the two main parts of the Mass seem obvious, but how are they “so closely interconnected”? How are the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist related? As two examples, they both strengthen us in understanding our faith and living it out in the world, and they both draw us deeper into true unity with Christ.

The Two Ways Our Lord Nourishes Us

Pope St. John Paul II reflected on how the unity of the Liturgy of the Word and Liturgy of the Eucharist goes back to the early Church: “We are well aware that from the earliest times the celebration of the Eucharist has been linked not only with prayer but also with the reading of Sacred Scripture and with singing by the whole assembly. As a result, it has long been possible to apply to the Mass the comparison, made by the Fathers, with the two tables, at which the Church prepares for her children the word of God and the Eucharist, that is, the bread of the Lord” (Dominicae Cena, 10). This image of the two tables illustrates for us that we are fed in two main ways through the Mass: through the hearing of God’s word to us and through the true presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. As we have reflected before, through the Scriptures we come to know God as he reveals himself to us; we learn who we are as his people; and we learn how to live our lives in him and with one another. As we will see as we continue through the Mass, in the Eucharist we are nourished in a unique way through the true presence of Jesus and his dwelling with us through Holy Communion. Our Lord nourishes us in two wonderful ways!

Pope Benedict XVI, reflecting on these two tables of the Liturgy of the Word and Liturgy of the Eucharist, emphasizes the unity between them: “First of all, there is a need to reflect on the inherent unity of the rite of Mass. Both in catechesis and in the actual manner of celebration, one must avoid giving the impression that the two parts of the rite are merely juxtaposed... There is an intrinsic bond between the word of God and the Eucharist. From listening to the word of God, faith is born or strengthened (cf. Rom 10:17); in the Eucharist the Word made flesh gives himself to us as our spiritual food. Thus, ‘from the two tables of the word of God and the Body of Christ, the Church receives and gives the faithful the bread of life.’ Consequently it must constantly be kept in mind that the word of God, read and proclaimed by the Church in the liturgy, leads to the Eucharist as to its own connatural end” (Sacramentum Caritatis, 44).

Relationship and Unity

Pope Benedict’s words remind me of the way we grow in relationships. Typically, we first encounter others at a bit of a distance. Maybe we see them in a group, or we cross paths in some way. Next, there is usually a time when we are learning basics, such as names, family backgrounds, schools, or jobs. If the relationship continues to grow, we learn more about what a person thinks, likes, and hopes or dreams. Over time, a friendship grows and deepens, and with that depth comes greater love and intimacy. Of course, even with a depth of love, we know we still communicate with each other and continue to learn more. Our love helps us to understand each other more fully and our ongoing communication helps us deepen our love. This basic comparison helps me realize more concretely what I think the popes are teaching us: in the Mass, we encounter Jesus both through the Liturgy of the Word and through the Liturgy of the Eucharist. Both tables bless us with growing deeper in our relationship with him. Both lead us deeper in unity. Both invite us to share the fruits of that unity with one another. Both increase our hope for the perfect unity with Christ that awaits us in heaven. For now, a foretaste of the heavenly banquet is coming in the Liturgy of the Eucharist!
