Dear Brothers and Sisters,

'Firsts' are always important milestones that we mark in our lives. Perhaps some of you still have stowed away somewhere a scrapbook marking the many 'firsts' of one of your children from the time they were infants, such as their first time crawling, their first time walking, and their first words. Even as we grow older, we still find importance in things we do or achieve for the first time: your first day at High School or College, your first day at a new job, or your first trip to a special destination. There is something about the 'first' of something that fills us with excitement and anticipation. We keep those memories close to our heart because they reveal to us how we or a loved one close to us has grown from those many milestones of 'firsts'.

In this Sunday's Gospel, we encounter a 'first' in the public ministry of Jesus: the first miraculous sign he performs to reveal the Good News of the Kingdom of God present among us. Perhaps we would think a miraculous healing or the miraculous multiplication of loaves of bread to feed a hungry crowd would be a more practical way for Jesus to start his public ministry, yet instead the first miraculous sign comes at a wedding reception he, Mary, and other disciples were attending. We, as his disciples, are counted among the guests present at this Wedding at Cana, and we observe this special event unfold before our very eyes. We observe a determined mother (not an uncommon occurrence at a wedding!) urge the servants: "Do whatever he tells you," and we realize that we too, as disciples and servants of the Lord, are called to that same response with our lives in following the will of God. Though it may seem impractical, there is no better first sign for Jesus to miraculously reveal to us his mission and the Good News of salvation: the water and wine that appear at this first sign will flow from Jesus' own side on the Cross as salvation is won for us and the Church is born. The wedding Jesus is present at points us towards the true Wedding Feast of the Lamb that we are invited to participate in a foretaste of now in the Eucharist. And Jesus takes water, something that gave life in its own right, something each of us were immersed in when we were baptized, and transforms it before our very eyes into wine, bringing an even greater depth and newness of life to this wedding feast and to us all as well.

In transforming the life-giving water of your baptism into the wine of your life of deepened discipleship as part of the Church, the Lord reveals to us that at the heart of our lives in the Church, we are made for joy and we are called to encounter the depths of joy God always wants to give to us! Even though it can seem more like an obligation at times, the heart of the matter is that our celebration of the Mass together as the Church should always be exactly that—a celebration, an occasion of joy and thanksgiving! In the midst of these challenging times, know of the prayers and joy we all mutually share as one body in the Church, and may the grace and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ continue to transform the Baptismal waters of your life into an even deeper joy.

Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas en Cristo,

Los " comienzos " son siempre momentos importantes que marcamos en nuestras vidas. Tal vez algunos de ustedes todavía tengan guardado en algún lugar un álbum de recuerdos que marcan las muchas "primeras veces" de uno de sus hijos desde que eran bebés, como la primera vez que gatearon, la primera vez que caminaron y sus primeras palabras. Incluso cuando nos hacemos mayores, seguimos encontrando importancia en las cosas que hacemos o conseguimos por primera vez: tu primer día en el instituto o la universidad, tu primer día en un nuevo trabajo o tu primer viaje a un destino especial. Hay algo en la "primera" de algo que nos llena de emoción y anticipación. Guardamos esos recuerdos cerca de nuestro corazón porque nos revelan cómo nosotros o un ser querido cercano a nosotros ha crecido a partir de esos muchos momentos de "primeras veces".

En el Evangelio de este domingo, encontramos una "primicia" en el ministerio público de Jesús: el primer signo milagroso que realiza para revelar la Buena Noticia del Reino de Dios presente entre nosotros. Tal vez pensemos que una curación milagrosa o la multiplicación milagrosa de panes para alimentar a una multitud hambrienta sería una forma más práctica de que Jesús comenzara su ministerio público, pero, en cambio, el primer signo milagroso se produce en la recepción de una boda a la que asistían él, María y otros discípulos. Nosotros, como sus discípulos, nos contamos entre los invitados presentes en estas Bodas de Caná, y observamos cómo se desarrolla este acontecimiento especial ante nuestros propios ojos. Observamos a una madre decidida (¿no es algo raro en una boda!) a instar a los sirvientes: "Haced lo que él os diga", y nos damos cuenta de que también nosotros, como discípulos y siervos del Señor, estamos llamados a dar esa misma respuesta con nuestras vidas al seguir la voluntad de Dios. Aunque parezca poco práctico, no hay mejor primer signo para que Jesús nos revele milagrosamente su misión y la Buena Noticia de la salvación: el agua y el vino que aparecen en este primer signo brotarán del propio costado de Jesús en la Cruz cuando se gane la salvación para nosotros y nazca la Iglesia. La boda en la que está presente Jesús nos orienta hacia la verdadera Fiesta de las Bodas del Cordero de la que estamos invitados a participar en un anticipo ahora en la Eucaristía. Y Jesús toma el agua, algo que daba vida por sí mismo, algo en lo que cada uno de nosotros se sumergió cuando fue bautizado, y la transforma ante nuestros ojos en vino, aportando una profundidad y una novedad de vida aún mayores a esta fiesta de bodas y también a todos nosotros.

Al transformar el agua vivificante de tu bautismo en el vino de tu vida de discipulado profundo como parte de la Iglesia, el Señor nos revela que en el corazón de nuestras vidas en la Iglesia, estamos hechos para la alegría y estamos llamados a encontrar la profundidad de la alegría que Dios siempre quiere darnos. Aunque a veces pueda parecer más bien una obligación, el punto central de la cuestión es que nuestra celebración de la Misa juntos como Iglesia debería ser siempre exactamente eso: una celebración, una ocasión de alegría y de acción de gracias. En medio de estos tiempos difíciles, sabed de las oraciones y la alegría que todos compartimos como un solo cuerpo en la Iglesia, y que la gracia y la paz de nuestro Señor Jesucristo sigan transformando las aguas bautismales de vuestra vida en una alegría aún más profunda.

Acts of Charity

Meet Bonnie Thompson! Bonnie and her husband Mike have been a part of the parish for over 20 years. They have been married for 60 years and have 2 grown children and 2 very precious grandchildren. Her grandchildren are 12 years apart and have cherished time with each of them as they grow. They were both money counters for several years. Bonnie was part of the pro-life group and prayed in front of Planned Parenthood in the 40 days for life movement. They are devout Catholics and have been donating food to the pantry every week for the past year. They currently are sponsoring a child in Guatemala and have sponsored other children for the past 10 years. Thank you Bonnie, for all the Acts of Charity you do and making a difference in our community.

Les presento a Bonnie Thompson. Bonnie y su esposo Mike han sido parte de la parroquia por más de 20 años. Han estado casados por 60 años y tienen 2 hijos y 2 nietos muy preciosos. Sus nietos tienen 12 años de diferencia y han apreciado el tiempo con cada uno de ellos mientras crecen. Los dos fueron contadores de dinero durante varios años. Bonnie fue parte del grupo pro-vida y rezó en frente de Planned Parenthood para la campaña de los 40 días por vida. Son muy fieles a la fe y han donado alimentos a la despensa cada semana durante el último año. Este año están patrocinando a un niño en Guatemala y han patrocinado a otros niños durante los últimos 10 años. Gracias Bonnie por todos los actos de caridad que hacen y por hacer una diferencia en nuestra comunidad.
