The Thirty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
El Trigesimo Tercer Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

November 19, 2023
33rd Sunday of Ordinary Time

What are the talents that God has given you? Are you a lead vocalist in a band or are you a confident singer that entertains a shower audience of just yourself or maybe you are a world class chef that loves to cook for your family and friends? God gives all of us various talents or gifts that we can either choose to develop and grow or shy away from the challenge and protect ourselves from the fear of failing. Fear is an obstacle in our lives that we all face. But there is hope if we look at the good side of the fears we face. If a man has a fear of providing for his family, he gains employment that will overcome that fear. If a woman is afraid of seeing doctors but also finds out she is carrying a baby, she can place her fear aside for the good of her unborn child to see one. Maybe the fear we hold controls us and we bury our gifts as the one servant did in today's gospel. Can we be like the two other servants who grew their talents that were given to them? Let us allow the talents we have nurture the virtue of hope and give us the confidence of wisdom to allow God's gifts to each of us to flourish while making those right choices bringing further glory to Him for all the gifts He has given.

Blessings,

Dcn. Roger Maidman

¿Cuáles son los talentos que Dios te ha dado? ¿Eres un vocalista principal en una banda o eres un cantante seguro de sí mismo que entretiene a una audiencia de ducha solo tú o tal vez eres un chef de clase mundial al que le encanta cocinar para tu familia y amigos? Dios nos da a todos varios talentos o dones que podemos elegir desarrollar y crecer o rehuir el desafío y protegernos del miedo a fracasar. El miedo es un obstáculo en nuestras vidas al que todos nos enfrentamos. Pero hay esperanza si miramos el lado bueno de los miedos a los que nos enfrentamos. Si un hombre tiene miedo de mantener a su familia, obtiene un empleo que superará ese miedo. Si una mujer tiene miedo de ver a los médicos, pero también se entera de que está embarazada, puede dejar de lado el miedo por el bien de su hijo por nacer para ver uno. Tal vez el miedo que tenemos nos controla y enterramos nuestros dones como lo hizo el único siervo en el evangelio de hoy. ¿Podemos ser como los otros dos siervos que aumentaron los talentos que les fueron dados? Permitamos que los talentos que tenemos nutran la virtud de la esperanza y nos den la confianza de la sabiduría para permitir que los dones de Dios a cada uno de nosotros florezcan mientras tomamos las decisiones correctas que le dan más gloria a Él por todos los dones que nos ha dado.

Bendiciones,

November 19th, 2023- The Thirty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Mass Offerings: Ordinarily a priest may accept only one intention per Mass that he celebrates. However, canon law does permit for multiple intentions as long as those contributing toward the particular Mass all agree that there can be multiple intentions. The normal approach is to celebrate one intention per Mass and to send excess stipends (especially for Masses specifically requested on a particular day) to mission dioceses or mission parishes. In that way, the Mass is celebrated in accord with the donor's intention. However, due to the large number of Masses requested locally, please be informed that we will continue to have multiple intentions for the same Mass unless an individual indicates that the Mass may be celebrated elsewhere. Please note that in the event of multiple Mass intentions for the same Mass, the priest is permitted in canon law to receive only one of the customary ten-dollar stipends offered, with the remaining stipends going to general support of our parish. This prevents what might be viewed as combining Masses for the financial gain of the priest. While I am anxious to be of service as best I can, I would inform you that there are priests in mission parishes and mission dioceses for whom the stipend is a major source of their income. Certainly the graces that flow from the Mass are the same whether celebrated here in our parish or elsewhere. Please consider the needs and assistance you can provide to mission parishes and priests. – Fr. Jay Luczak, Pastor
