Your ancestors ate the

that one may eat it

HOMILY BY REV. RUDY OFORI

FORGIVENESS AT THE READY

Frederick William 1st, King of Prussia, ruled severely as monarch from 1713 until 1740. He created a powerful centralized government, in every department of which he scrutinized operations and exercised the final power of decision. He became deeply disappointed in his son, the future Frederick the Great, who was more interested in culture and music than military superiority. The father's disaffection turned to hatred, and his treatment became so harsh that the young prince decided to run away. But he and his accomplice were caught and faced a court martial. The prince was sentenced to solitary confinement, his accomplice to life imprisonment. King Frederick decided that the sentence of life imprisonment was too lenient; he had the accomplice beheaded in the presence of his son. This drastic measure had the desired effect: the prince asked the king's pardon and applied himself to military studies.

When the king was on his deathbed, the attending priest warned him that if he wished to go to heaven, he would have to forgive all his enemies. The king's thoughts turned to his favorite enemy, George II of England. "In that case," he told his wife reluctantly, "write to your brother and tell him that I forgive him. But be sure not to do it until I am well dead." Being well dead is a little late for forgiveness. A message of forgiveness telegraphed from the cemetery is a classic case of too little too late. But the image does summarize what we find ourselves doing too often: hoarding hurt, watching over our ageing grudges as if they were valuable antiques. So it is that forgiveness gets delayed. Sometimes we delay so long that we are left standing at a graveside quietly whispering forgiveness to a lowered coffin, wishing we had found enough courage to speak our peace long before the ritual farewell.

We rarely think of a God who gets depressed at our hardened attitudes, a God whose good mood changes to sadness when seeing how mean we are with the forgiveness God offers so generously. In today's second reading Paul tells us how not to grieve the Holy Spirit of God: Never have grudges against others, or lose your temper, or raise your voice to anybody, or call each other names, or allow any sort of spitefulness. Be friends with one another, and kind, forgiving each other as readily as God forgave you in Christ.

Paul was the one who had grieved the Holy Spirit. He was the man who persecuted Christ by hunting down the disciples with military precision and determination, chasing them into foreign cities, arranging their trials and (con't) attending their executions. Paul was committed to the violent oppression of the infant Christian community until he was confronted with a large paradox; the forgiveness of the one he was persecuting. The persecuted Christ forgave him readily. That experience overwhelmed Paul; it turned his life around; it gave him a sense of his own worth stronger than the sense of his own sin; it committed him to sharing the forgiveness he had received from Christ.

Paul hoped that other Christians could come to the same truth that he had experienced. The hurt God who forgave Paul did not delight in Paul's wrongdoing nor fasten onto his wrongdoing. Like the Father in the parable of the prodigal son, God's forgiveness does not reduce the wrongdoer to a servant but reaffirms his worth as a son. This is appreciative grace. Paul saw how Christ moved beyond his sins and called him to new possibilities. That delighted Paul. He appreciated it so much that he started doing the same himself. He hoped that forgiveness would catch on.

We know from our experience that there is a kind of forgiveness which is used as a put-down to humiliate others, which exploits people's shame, which dotes on their past wrongs. This kind of forgiveness is a new sin. The forgiveness Paul writes about is a reflection of God's forgiveness: it is readily given, it is not begrudged, it is offered freely. Paul has a deeply held belief that if we keep God's forgiveness in Christ before us, that saving image will always help to shape our forgiveness. If the forgiving Christ stands before us, it becomes more difficult to refuse forgiveness to those who have hurt us.

Our faith tells us that God has made an eternal habit of forgiveness; God is a professional forgiver, not least because there have been lots of opportunities for practice. The only way we can become accomplished forgivers is to forgive readily. Practice makes perfect. When we forgive readily, we don't hoard hurt and grudges, we don't assemble a junk-room of spitefulness. Not only does that keep our lives uncluttered, it is also a sure way of cheering up the Holy Spirit of God.

IMPORTANT MESSAGE

One of our Eucharistic Ministers serving at the 4:00 P.M. Mass Saturday, July 24, 2020, tested positive for COVID-19. The Eucharistic Minister did follow all protocols for distributing communion. Parish Statement:
tinyurl.com/07242021Statement

Due to concerns about how the Delta variant might be affecting unvaccinated children

Bishop Weisenburger has suspended the Sunday Mass obligation for families with small children. The Clergy and the Faithful are urged to wear masks to Sunday Mass to protect our families.

St. Mark Parish is encouraging and recommending masks for Mass attendees.

BISHOP WEISENBURGER'S RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Mass attendees to wear masks, to make Mass attendance safe for those who cannot be vaccinated at this time (children).
2. Priests and deacons celebrating Mass, as well as those participating in the Mass, wear masks when not speaking to serve as an example for parishioners in attendance.
3. Continue to vaccination efforts for those eligible.
4. Due to the growing risk for unvaccinated parents, children, in general families with small children are hereby dispensed from the Sunday Mass obligation until further notice. As circumstances related to Covid protocols may vary from place to place, it is entirely at the discretion of parents as to whether or not they conclude that it is best to bring small children to Mass or to spend special prayer time with them at home on Sunday.

It's no surprise that St. Mark Parishioners love their community and look for any opportunity to help. ICS was absolutely amazed by your immense efforts. St. Mark parishioners donated a whopping 369 Peanut Butter Jars that will go towards stocking the local food banks. Thank you for your generosity!

CELEBRATING VENERABLE PADRE KINO

On Sunday, 8 August, the unique contribution of Padre Kino will be acknowledged with a Proclamation by Mayor Regina Romero, honoring the 30th Anniversary of the “Three Statues for Three Nations” (Mexico, Italy, and the US). WHAT'S YOUR HEARTH CAKE?

“Get up and eat, or the journey will be too much for you.” I've been to a lot of meetings in my years of work in the Church, and you can take my word for it: the ones with snacks just seem to go better.

I don't know what it is exactly. Maybe it's just that people are in a more agreeable mood if you show up with donuts. Or maybe it's about the very real sense of community and camaraderie that is created at a table where people are engaging in that most human of tasks – eating – beside one another. I think a big part of it comes down to the simple fact that we're all just nicer people when we're fed.

This rings true spiritually, too. We simply must remain fed if we, in turn, are to feed others. Think of a time when you have neglected your relationship with God – when you haven't fed yourself with whatever it is that you need to remain committed to the journey of a Christian life. Is it Mass attendance? Is it prayer or Scripture reading? Is it time with your small group, or conversation with a trusted friend who knows your soul? What sustains your ability to be a good disciple, a good steward? What inspires you to give more freely, to love more abundantly?

Whatever it is, that's your hearth cake. That's your jug of water. Don't neglect it. The Angel of the Lord is nudging you in your sleep: “Get up and eat, or the journey will be too much for you.”

EDITH STEIN: THE SEVENTH CHAMBER

This is a moving, artistic portrayal of the life of Jewish philosopher, Catholic convert, and Carmelite martyr, Edith Stein. It powerfully captures the interior struggles of this extraordinary woman and her journey toward the Lord. Deeply influenced by the writings of St. Teresa of Avila, she joined the Carmelites, took the name of Teresa Benedicta of the Cross, and was put to death in Auschwitz in 1942. In honor of Teresa Benedicta's feast day, enjoy this film.

AUGUST 11, JMT BOOK CLUB "THE END OF THE AFFAIR" BY GRAHAM GREENE Wednesday, August 11 at 5:30pm (PT)

Join us via Zoom as we discuss Graham Greene's The End of the Affair

About the book: "This is a record of hate far more than of love," writes Maurice Bendrix in the opening passages of The End of the Affair, and it is a strange hate indeed that compels him to set down the retrospective account of his adulterous affair with Sarah Miles. Now, a year after Sarah's death, Bendrix seeks to exorcise the persistence of his passion by retracing its course from obsessive love to love-hate. At first, he believes he hates Sarah and her husband, Henry. Yet as he delves further into his emotional outlook, Bendrix's hatred shifts to the God he feels has broken his life, but whose existence at last comes to recognize. Originally published in 1951, The End of the Affair was acclaimed by William Faulkner as "for me one of the best, most true and moving novels of my time, in anybody's language." (from Amazon.com).
