25th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Compartmentalization or consistency? In this Sunday’s Gospel, Jesus tells a strange story of a sneaky, savvy steward that raises questions about our personal virtue. "How much do you owe? Here is your promissory note, write one for eighty." This parable isn’t advice for money management. Historically, there were many positions that acted on behalf of their masters regarding money, like customs agents, household stewards, and tax collectors. Often these workers over-charged and skimmed off the top.

Usurious practices like this were not in line with the traditional Jewish understanding of money lending, which strictly forbade them from to taking interest or making a profit off of their own people. As the steward reduced the debt, he was likely writing out the amount he originally intended to take for himself. Before the steward can be commended, he needs to right the wrong done.

"The person who is trustworthy in very small matters is also trustworthy in great ones; and the person who is dishonest in very small matters is also dishonest in great ones." This parable contains an important self-check. We have a great many things we’re responsible for that seem to have nothing to do with the kingdom of God. How do we interact in those spaces? Are we trustworthy in our dealings at work and at home? Are we honest and faithful to our commitments to family and friends? Are we honest with our money and prudent with how we spend our time?

Jesus calls his disciples to consistency. How often do we expect that we can be one person one place, yet shrug off that persona in a new situation? "No servant can serve two masters." These week, take stock of your life. All of your life. Are you living the Gospel values wherever you go?

Perpetual Eucharistic Adoration

“Could you not keep watch with Me for one hour?”
Mt. 26:40

Perpetual Eucharistic Adoration is our response to Jesus’ love for us. We become a part of Perpetual Eucharistic Adoration by committing to spend a quiet holy hour of prayer in His Eucharistic Presence once each week. This unites us all together, giving thanks to Our Lord for all He has done for us.

The Lord will bless you, as He does all of his faithful Adorers, for this commitment.

What does the church Say about Cremation?
The Church teaches that the practice of burial of the body of our deceased loved ones is to be preserved and is preferred.
However, for sanitary, economic or social considerations, a person may choose to be cremated upon their death rather than bodily burial but only under these conditions:
  a. The choice to cremate must not be due to a rejection of the Catholic Doctrine of the resurrection of the body, membership in a secret society or out of hatred for the Catholic Religion.
  b. Cremation must never go against the stated or implied wishes of the deceased.
  c. The Ashes (cremains) must be laid to rest in a Sacred Place set aside for that purpose alone
     by Church Authorities.
     This means that ashes (Cremains)
     1. Must not be conserved in a private home.
     2. Must never be scattered in the air,
        land, sea or in any other way.
     3. Must not be divided among various family members nor kept as “mementos” in pieces of jewelry or any other objects.

*Please note: In order to offer a Funeral Mass, the above-mentioned regulations must be followed when a Catholic person is cremated.
