26th Sunday in Ordinary Time

If you saw someone dead come to life tomorrow, what would you change about your life? Would you say "nothing"? That's what Jesus seems to hope. After all, we already know what to do. In this Sunday's Gospel, a rich man and a poor man pass away, the former to damnation and the latter to peaceful rest alongside the Jewish patriarchs. The rich man asks if the poor man can appear to his brothers and ask them to live a more virtuous life. The parable offers a strong rebuke: "They have Moses and the prophets. Let them listen to them." In other words, they should already know what to do.

We, too, know what to do. More than Moses, Jesus Christ himself has spoken, and continues to speak through his Church. The rich man did not heed the wise words, despite knowing them. If we are convicted against certain Christian teachings in our heart, how much good will miraculous "proofs" do? We know more than the law and the prophets - we know the prophetic law of love proclaimed by Jesus Christ. Are we living like we believe it?

Where in our lives are we like the rich man? Do we know how to treat the poor but still we ignore them in our excess? Do we know the third commandment, but the Sunday liturgy feels "oppositional" when other weekend commitments begin to live? Have we heard Christ's teachings on sexuality, but consider them out of reach for us? We have received a great many truths as a child. Are we beginning to live a virtuous life now.

November 29
“In a striking way, we see today a heightening of the tension between our nation’s founding principles and political reality. We see this in diminishing respect for the inalienable right to life and in the elimination of legal protections for those who are most vulnerable. There can be no genuine justice in our society until the truths on which our nation was founded are more perfectly realized in our culture and law.”

26º Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario
¿A quién servimos; a Dios o al Dinero? Se preguntaba al escuchar el Evangelio de la semana pasada. Ahora vienen los ejemplos en las lecturas de la liturgia de hoy, más claras y concretas para un compromiso al cambio de vida. La lectura del profeta Amós dice lo siguiente al pueblo de Israel:
"Tendidos en sus camas de marfil o arrellanados sobre sus sofás, comen corderitos del rebaño." (Amós 6:4). Una buena respuesta viene de la 1o Carta de Timoteo: "Pero tú, hombre de Dios, hueve de todo eso... vive con fe y amor, constancia y bondad." (1de Timoteo 6:11). ¿Qué se puede aprender de estas lecturas? Son tan claras como el agua que bebemos. La riqueza no es mala; lo malo es no compartirla con los necesitados. Y no se trata solo de dinero, sino del tiempo de calidad, sonrisas, abrazos y decir un te quiero te necesito a la esposa y a los hijos y viceversa la esposa a su esposo.

El Evangelio, con la parábola del rico y Lázaro, cae con toda la sabiduría y compasión de Dios hacia Lázaro; pobre humanamente hablando, pero rico al poseer a Dios en su vida. Frecuentemente, la persona se ciega a las necesidades de otros, a los que sufren dolor físico o espiritual. La Santa Madre Teresa de Calcuta decía sobre el sufrimiento lo siguiente: "Nuestros sufrimientos son caricias bondadosas de Dios, llamándonos para que nos volvamos a Él, y para hacernos reconocer que no somos nosotros los que controlamos nuestras vidas, sino que es Dios quien tiene el control, y podemos confiar plenamente en Él."
