Dear Friends,

I have really enjoyed getting to meet so many of you this month. I want everyone to know that you are always welcome to stop by the parish office during the week to come talk with me. As I’ve told the staff, if my door is open, everyone is welcome. No appointment is necessary during office hours. I am typically there Monday through Thursday from 8:30 AM to 4:30 PM. If you would like to meet with me on a Saturday, please call the office and make an appointment.

As you may have heard, our nursery is temporarily closed. The Diocese would like us to get licensed to ensure that we are up to date on everything since we have always been in good standing with the county. I want you to know that we are following all proper procedures for the safety of our children and we are working very hard to expedite this process so that we can have the nursery back up and running again soon. I apologize for the inconvenience.

I was told that many people are on vacation right now and that historically, the collection is lower during the summer. This year we are struggling to meet our budget. I am happy that families are able to get away to relax and have fun, however I hope you will keep in mind that we are still operating and have to pay the bills here at the church. For those of you who donate weekly, but are unaware and would like to forego envelopes, we do offer electronic options. You can look at our Give Plus program and the weekly financial report next to my column. This community has always been so generous, which is very much appreciated.

This weekend, the staff is hosting receptions in the Community Center after each Mass to officially welcome Fr. Thomas and myself. We are both looking forward to meeting everyone and we hope to come to know you all well and become a part of your family.

Yours In Christ,

Fr. Bede Wewita
Pastor

Hello, everyone!

I am Father Thomas Hoang. My Vietnamese name is actually Tokha, but it's a weird name, even for Vietnamese people, so you can just call me Fr. Thomas. The reason why it's weird is because Vietnamese words are usually always one syllable. Mine has two, however, because my father named me after two people: St. Thomas Aquinas and my deceased uncle, Kha. My father was a Dominican postulant, meaning that he was studying to be a priest. However, the Vietnamese Communists took over the country, and he never had the chance to complete his formation. Having been inspired by the Angelic Doctor, however, he wanted his first son to be named after him. And that's why I'm Thomas, despite being born on John the Baptist's birthday (June 24).

My parents met in the United States and gave birth to both my sister and me in a city called Wichita Falls—a two hours drive west of Dallas, TX. Growing up, my maternal grandmother always told me that she was praying that either my cousin or I would become a priest. Of course, there were times when other people would tell me that I would be a priest as well—and, being a typical kid who finds the need to rebel against the flow, I objected and said, “No! I will not be a priest!” However, one particular Redemptorist brother helped me to find a deep love for God, and to truly desire to be a missionary for God. I wanted to be just like him, and so I entered into the Vietnamese Redemptorists extra patriam (extra=outside; patriam=homeland) to follow in his footsteps.

God had other plans, however. Br. Khoi, my inspiration, left, and so I had to struggle through my formation years. Language and culture were two obstacles which made me feel outcast at times. His absence made me question my choice to join the Redemptorists, and God gave me the answer: I was called not because of any particular person. I was called because God was the one who wanted me to be a priest. With this attitude in mind, I finished my Philosophy in the University of Dallas and my Masters of Divinity in Houston. I delayed my final vows for one year, during which I went to Tucson, AZ; to Thailand; and to Rome. After being ordained as a deacon, I was sent to a parish called Sacred Heart in Richmond, TX; which is in the Houston area, where I then was ordained (Nov 18, 2017), and where I spent the very beginnings of my priesthood. After being there for a couple of years, the Redemptorist community called me out of that parish, and brought me here to you.

It’s such a great honor to be with all of you here. As I am still learning how to be a priest, I am sure that I will get to learn many things from Fr. Bede and from each and every one of you. In my experience, change is often difficult. I have had to adapt to changes from the time I was a postulant, to the time I first came to my first parish, and to the time I move here, to Las Vegas. The beauty of it all, however, is that even throughout all of life’s changes, there is always one constant: God. Because He is our eternal Father, we can be sure that even though we may walk through the valley of death, we fear no evil, for He is at our side (see Psalm 23).

So far, I have felt nothing but warm welcome from everyone I’ve met. I have only been here for a few days, but I already feel quite at home here at St. Thomas More. I guess it helps to share the same name as our patron saint! In any case, I look forward to working closely with Fr. Bede and to grow in love and service with each and every one of you!

Sincerely,
Fr. Thomas Hoang

GOSPEL MEDITATION
ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Are you guilty of spiritual stockpiling? Spiritual stockpiling isn’t an endless rotation of rosaries and novenas. It’s accumulating emotional "goods" to meet your needs. Perhaps it’s a collection of material objects you treasure. Maybe it’s a preoccupation with money. It could also be relationships, making sure there’s always enough friends and connections to never really feel alone. It’s our tendency to let things add up so that we won’t quite need God to fulfill our inner life. Yet in this Sunday’s Gospel, we have that inescapable petition from the Our Father. "Give us each day our daily bread."

This life isn’t an immediate arrival. And as much as we might try to shore up possessions and pleasures, we know the journey is unpredictable. Give us this day our daily bread implies enough for the next set of steps, but not enough to stockpile. So here’s the big question: Do we trust God to give us what we need? After all, "What father among you would hand his son a snake when he asks for a fish?... how much more will the Father in heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him?" At the Last Supper, Jesus said he would never leave us orphaned. God will not abandon us. And surely He wouldn’t ask us to pray for what He does not intend to give.

Of course, sometimes our prayers for daily help can seem to go unanswered. Today’s Gospel has advice for that, too. "I tell you... he will give up to him whatever he needs because of his persistence." Our spiritual stockpiling increases our self-reliance and decreases our openness to God’s possibilities. Be persistent in your pursuit of God! Trust that He will keep His promises to provide for us, today and always.

LIVE THE LITURGY
INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

We do not need to use a lot of words in order to pray well. Keeping things simple often works best, and it appears to be the form of prayer most preferred by Jesus. The simplicity of the Lord’s Prayer, the Our Father, gets quickly to the heart of all of our important relationships in life and sets us straight. Praying simply provides proper focus and helps us develop greater trust in God’s providential care. We never know how each day will unfold and cannot control a good measure of what happens to us. What we can control is the disposition we bring to life and how much we trust and hope in God’s desire to make all things new and right. Pray simply and listen deeply. Our Father is calling.

Patients who feel supported experience less pain.

Studies show that when you feel encouragement from your doctor, it actually helps reduce pain. It's a scientific fact that reminds us why humankindness is at the heart of everything we do at Dignity Health - St. Rose Dominican.

Dignity Health - St. Rose Dominican, the only not-for-profit, faith based hospital system in the valley, has proudly provided healthcare services to southern Nevadans since 1947.
