Blessed Mother's Day

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

We are blessed with so many wonderful parishioners. The many young people and families breathe new life into our already vibrant community. I am always amazed at the incredible sacrifices I see parents make at each and every Mass. As I see moms and dads bring their little ones to religious education classes, I am so grateful for their dedication and desire to share God's love with their children. I am reminded of the love my own mother and father have shown me throughout my life and I give thanks to God for blessing me with wonderful parents. Parents have the awesome privilege and blessing to form the future of the world IN GOD'S IMAGE! That is something we should all give thanks for as well as pray for families who are struggling and children who suffer without loving and caring parents.

On this Mother's Day 2021, we are reminded that motherhood is a calling by God. Mothers are a gift from God to our world. Mothers share a profound calling from God that embraces an integral part of the dignity of women. Pope John Paul II wrote a beautiful encyclical called, On the Dignity and Vocation of Women, a great reflection for Mother's day.

The Holy Father's words are beautifully tender, most especially in light of the fact that his own mother died when he was a child. For example, about pregnancy, he wrote: "Motherhood involves a special communion with the mystery of life, as it develops in the woman's womb. The mother is filled with wonder at this mystery of life, and "understands" with unique intuition what is happening inside her. In the light of the "beginning," the mother accepts and loves as a person the child she is carrying in her womb." St. Pope John Paul II's words remind us of the deep spiritual and physiological nature of the role of mothers. This intimate union between mother and her child is utterly unique and sets the blessing of motherhood apart in a special way from all other blessings.

Perhaps in our day, in the interest of showcasing other sides of women in society, many have forgotten these beautiful qualities necessary for a healthy and holy society. More than anything else, I hope that the mothers among us can give thanks for their vocations - their special role that Our Lord has invited them to live. I hope as their children, we grow to respect this calling and uphold the institution of motherhood. May we see their vocation as a Divine calling that is given to our world by God!

Today, as we give thanks to God for the gift of our mothers, we also remember all mothers who have gone before us with the sign of faith and rest in the sleep of peace. Grant them, O Lord, we pray, a place of refreshment, light and peace.

Mary, on this day when we honor all mothers, we turn to you. We thank the Lord whom you serve for the great gift of motherhood. Never has it been known that anyone who sought your intercession was left unaided by grace. Dear Mother, thank you for your "Yes" to the invitation of the angel which brought heaven to earth and changed human history. You opened yourself to God's word and the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us.

May God bless Mothers today and always!

God Bless,

Reflecting Heaven (Part II)

Notes on the St. Bernadette Sanctuary Renovation

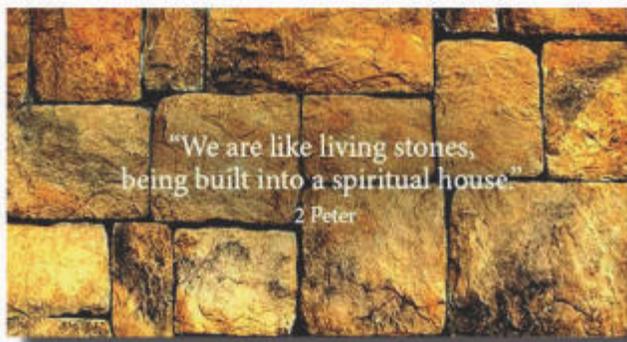

by Fr. Don Kline, V.F.

Part 2: The Church as Heaven on Earth

As set out in last week's article, the upcoming renovation at St. Bernadette is not a renovation of the entire building, but only the worship space itself – that is, the sanctuary and the nave. Next week we'll look at exactly what the sanctuary and the nave are, but first let's look at why they are the focus of this project.

At the turn of the millennium, the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops published Built of Living Stones: Art, Architecture, and Worship (BLS), giving guidance and direction to designers and builders of Catholic churches. BLS draws heavily on previous Church documents, including those of the Vatican Council II.

Even before BLS treats the brick-and-mortar aspect of churches, it emphasizes, as the title suggests, that the true Catholic Church (capital "C"), the Mystical Body of Christ, is made up of the faithful themselves – the "living stones" referenced by St. Peter himself (1Pt 2:5), the Rock (Petrus) on whom Christ built his Church. But the church building (small "c"), is also "of critical importance," say the bishops: "That building is both the house of God on earth (domus Dei) and a house fit for the prayers of the saints (domus ecclesiae). Such a house of prayer must be expressive of the presence of God and suited for the celebration of the sacrifice of Christ, as well as reflective of the community that celebrates there." (BLS §16)

"We are like living stones, being built into a spiritual house."

2 Peter

Last week's column referred to this "vertical" (domus Dei) and "horizontal" (domus ecclesiae) nature of worship and liturgy, and the Catholic Catechism drives this point home. "These visible churches are not simply gathering places but signify and make visible the Church living in this place, the dwelling of God with men reconciled and united in Christ." (CCC §1180)

For this reason, well-designed Catholic churches accommodate the community needs of the "living stones" who come to worship there, but also direct our hearts and minds to a mystical reality, and therefore look, smell, and feel somehow both in this world, yet not of this world.

For those of you with philosophy 101 in your background, this principle of the church as a reflection of heavenly reality may bring to mind Plato's idea of Forms. Plato taught that all physical forms on earth are just approximations of mystical "Forms," un-seeable realities that we should strive to know. Plato's philosophy had a great impact on Church Fathers such as St. Augustine.

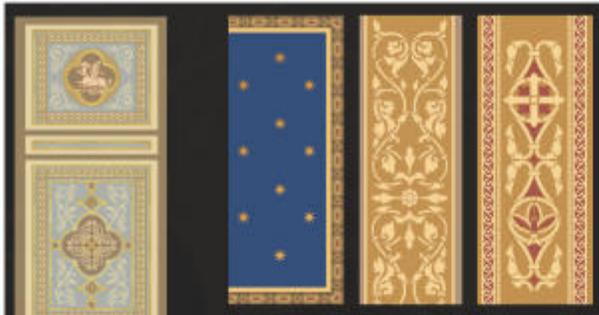

In a similar way, the Catholic Church has long taught that the church building itself should be a form of the true Form of Heaven. When we walk into the church building, or even when we see it from outside, we should be filled with a longing for our true Heavenly home, and a sense of awe in the presence of God. It should have a certain "Church-ness," or even "Heaven-ness" about it.

How can we know what Heaven looks and feels like? Well, perhaps we can't exactly, but Scripture does give us some hints.

Each year at the great Easter Vigil, we hear a reading in which the Prophet Isaiah speaks of God's plans for the new Jerusalem: "I lay your pavements in carnelians, and your foundations in sapphires; I will make your battlements of rubies, your gates of carbuncles, and all your walls of precious stones." (Isaiah 54:11-12)

The book of Revelation (Rev 21:10-27) gives a similar description of the walls of the Kingdom being decorated with gold, jasper, sapphire, emeralds, carnelians, beryls, amethysts, pearls, and the like. These descriptions are the source of the idea of stained glass in churches, portraits in light and color of the Kingdom of Heaven, sometimes depicted simply in shapes (abstract stained glass), and sometimes depicting the Saints who await us in Heaven (as in our new stained glass), with their portraits made up of "jewels," as it were.

Heaven has also been described as the true Form of the Garden of Eden, lush in vegetation, flowers, and bearing great fruit. Where, as we've just heard in the Book of Isaiah in Advent: "The wolf shall be a guest of the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; the calf and the young lion shall browse together, with a little child to guide them." (Isaiah 11:6)

Thus the great tradition in church art and architecture of decorating with plants and flowers – both real and painted and carved in wood and stone. Those flowers are not just there to look and smell pretty; they're to rekindle our longing for Heaven, where the fruit and flowers will be beyond our imagining.

On April 4, 1999 (Easter Sunday), St. Pope John Paul II published an open letter to artists, exhorting them to use their creative gifts in the building up of the Church and to further the Kingdom of God. His instruction provides an apt summary to this week's column:

"Art must make perceptible, and as far as possible attractive, the world of the spirit, of the invisible, of God. It must therefore translate into meaningful terms that which is in itself ineffable. Art has a unique capacity to take one or other facet of the message and translate it into colors, shapes and sounds which nourish the intuition of those who look or listen." (Letter to Artists, §12)

This is what we strive for in the upcoming renovation.

Next week: the sanctuary and the nave.

SAINT BERNADETTE TEACH US TO SERVE AND TO PRAY

In Lourdes You experienced the joys and trials of family life
You saw Mary eighteen times at the rock.
You called the sinners to penance,
the priests to edify the Church of God,
the pilgrims to come in procession.
You reported the name of Mary,
the Immaculate Conception
You desired ardently to receive the Body of the Lord, and to live of it.
You knew shame and suspicion, mockery and humiliation.
You bore witness to what you saw and believed with such determination.
You answered the call of the Lord.

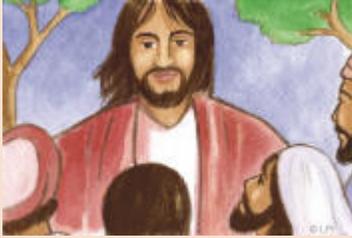

With you Bernadette, WE go to the Grotto, to contemplate Mary, full of grace, to hear her say 'Do whatever he tells you'.
With you Bernadette, WE reply I promise, I will.
Saint Bernadette teach us to receive the good news.
With you Bernadette, WE wish to hear the call of penance, to walk in the path of conversion, to live in humility
With you Bernadette, WE take up our Cross, we say 'Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners'
With you Bernadette, WE go and wash at the springs of mercy.
With you Bernadette, WE say Yes to the will of God, by becoming servants of the little ones, the poor and the sick.
With you Bernadette, WE look on the other as a person, Saint Bernadette, teach us to love and to serve.
With you Bernadette, WE go to meet the Lord in the Eucharist.
WE go to drink at the Spring of the Living Water of the Word of God. WE go in procession, together as a Church in the footsteps of Christ.

With you Bernadette, WE shall go and repeat the Name of the Lady to the World, 'I am the Immaculate Conception'.

Saint Bernadette, teach us to pray to Mary each day, Mother of God and our Mother: 'Hail Mary, full of Grace'.

O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to you.

Our Lady of Lourdes, Pray for us.
Saint Bernadette Pray for us. Amen

What is the greatest act of love which one can give for the sake of another? Jesus defines friendship - the mutual bond of trust and affection which people choose to have for one another - as the willingness to give totally of oneself - even to the point of laying down one's life for a friend. How is such love possible or even desirable? God made us in love for love. That is our reason for being, our purpose for living, and our goal in dying.

God is the source and origin of love - divine and human Scripture tells us that God is love (1 John 4:8) - and everything he does flows from his immense love for us. He loved us so much - far beyond what we could ever expect or deserve - that he was willing to pay any price to redeem us from our slavery to sin and death. That is why the Father sent us his beloved Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, who gave up his life as the atoning sacrifice for our sins. In this great exchange - the Father giving up his Son to death on the cross in order to give us abundant everlasting life and adopt us as his beloved sons and daughters in Christ (Romans 8:14-17).

God's love has been poured into our hearts

It is for this reason that we can take hold of a hope that does not fade and a joy that does not diminish because God has poured his love into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us (Romans 5:5). God's love is not limited or subject to changing circumstances. It is an enduring love that has power to change and transform us to be like him - merciful, gracious, kind, forgiving, and steadfast in showing love not only for our friends, but for our enemies as well. God's love is boundless because he is the source of abundant life, perfect peace, and immeasurable joy for all who open their hearts to him. That is why Jesus came to give us abundant life through the gift and working of the Holy Spirit.

A new way of loving and serving one another

Jesus gave his disciples a new commandment - a new way of loving and serving one another. Jesus' love was wholly directed toward the good of others. He love them for their sake and for their welfare. That is why he willingly laid down his own life for us to free us from sin, death, fear, and everything that could separate us from the love of God. Our love for God and our willingness to lay down our life for others is a response to the exceeding love God has given us in Christ. Paul the Apostle states,

"Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?...For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:35,38-39).

Friendship with God

Jesus calls his disciples his friends. Jesus not only showed his disciples that he personally cared for them and sought their welfare. He personally enjoyed their company and wanted to be with them. He ate with them, shared everything he had with them - even his inmost heart and thoughts. And, he spent himself doing good for them. To know Jesus personally is to know God and the love and friendship he offers to each one of us.

One of the special marks of favor shown in the Scriptures is to be called the friend of God. Abraham is called the friend of God (Isaiah 41:8, James 2:23). God spoke with Moses as a man speaks with his friend (Exodus 33:11). Jesus, the Lord and Master, calls the disciples his friends rather than his servants.

What does it mean to be a friend of God? Friendship with God certainly entails a loving relationship which goes beyond mere duty and obedience. Jesus' discourse on friendship and brotherly love echoes the words of Proverbs: A friend loves at all times; and a brother is born for adversity (Proverbs 17:17). The distinctive feature of Jesus' relationship with his disciples was his personal love for them. He loved his own to the end (John 13:1). His love was unconditional and wholly directed to the good of others. His love was also sacrificial. He gave the best he had and all that he had. He gave his very life for those he loved in order to secure for them everlasting life with the Father.

Love to the death

The Lord Jesus gives his followers a new commandment - a new way of love that goes beyond giving only what is required or what we think others might deserve. What is the essence of Jesus' new commandment of love? It is a love to the death - a purifying love that overcomes selfishness, fear, and pride. It is a total giving of oneself for the sake of others - a selfless and self-giving love that is oriented towards putting the welfare of others ahead of myself.

Jesus says that there is no greater proof in love than the sacrifice of one's life for the sake of another. Jesus proved his love by giving his life for us on the cross of Calvary. Through the shedding of his blood for our sake, our sins are not only washed clean, but new life is poured out for us through the gift of the Holy Spirit. We prove our love for God and for one another when we embrace the way of the cross. What is the cross in my life? When my will crosses with God's will, then God's will must be done. Do you know the peace and joy of a life fully surrendered to God and consumed with his love?

The Lord Jesus tells us that he is our friend and he loves us whole-heartedly and unconditionally. He wants us to love one another just as he loves us, whole-heartedly and without reserve. His love fills our hearts and transforms our minds and frees us to give ourselves in loving service to others. If we open our hearts to his love and obey his command to love our neighbor, then we will bear much fruit in our lives, fruit that will last for eternity. Do you wish to be fruitful and to abound in the love of God?

Thursday, May 13th is not a holy day of obligation for Catholics in the Diocese of Phoenix.

Although many of our Church Calendars list Thursday, May 13th, as the Ascension of the Lord, here in the Diocese of Phoenix (and in most dioceses in the United States), the Solemnity of the Ascension of our Lord will be celebrated next Sunday, May 16th.

ANNOUNCEMENT & SALUTES

A Tribute to Moms!

Last year an ad company publicized an advertisement for a job and then conducted real interviews via webcam.

Can you imagine reading an ad for a job which required you to be at work 24/7, no breaks, no vacations? A job requiring constant movement, including bending, lifting, and fast reflexes, degrees and experience in medicine, psychology, project management, finance, and the culinary arts?

Pay? No. This is a volunteer position. Most of the applicants responded with some variation of, "Who in their right mind would take this position?" The interviewer responded "Billions of people are doing it right now." Who? Mothers!

We want to tell all mothers THANK YOU for supporting, encouraging, guiding, forgiving, comforting, and just plain loving your children even their least "lovable" moments. caremlitesistersocd.com

ARIZONA CATHOLIC CONFERENCE
HOLY PROTECTION OF MARY BYZANTINE CATHOLIC EPARCHY OF PHOENIX

The Bishops of the Arizona Catholic Conference (ACC) are grateful that an important pro-life bill (SB 1457) was signed into law today by Governor Doug Ducey.

SB 1457 continues Arizona's legacy as the most pro-life state in the country and establishes that Arizona's laws will be interpreted in the context of valuing all human life. This legislation looks forward to the day that Roe v. Wade is overturned and shows concern for both unborn children and their mothers.

Arizona already has a statute on the books protecting human life from the moment of conception, and SB 1457 leaves this excellent statute in place while also not making the mother a criminal.

More immediately, SB 1457 prohibits public educational institutions from performing abortions, calls for the cremation or burial of aborted babies, forbids abortions on the basis of genetic abnormalities like Down Syndrome, and clarifies that abortion-inducing drugs may not be sent through the mail.

For all of the reasons above, we believe that SB 1457 will help mothers and their unborn babies, while saving lives. Accordingly, we are also appreciative of Senator Nancy Barto for sponsoring this bill and all of the legislators who voted in support.

In the Gospel today, Jesus says "Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit, because without me you can do nothing."

By helping the poor we can "bear much fruit" and we find that with Jesus we can do everything. Your gift to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul will show that you are indeed the disciple of Jesus as it will bring your love to those who live in fear and doubt, loneliness and dread.

Have you ever heard God calling you to serve the poor? Why not consider being a volunteer or member of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul? If so, call the hotline and leave a message and we will call you back.

Do you know someone in need of help—give them our hotline, 480-905-4439.
