PASTOR'S NOTES

Peace in Troubled Times

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Peace and Joy in Our Lord Jesus Christ!

In John's Gospel, Chapter 14, Jesus gives us a great gift. "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid."

For many people, peace means the absence of conflict or trouble. While this is certainly a definition of peace, it's not what Jesus was talking about. The peace that Jesus was talking about means rest, quiet or a stillness in your heart despite the world around us.

This peace pushes through all the disturbing circumstances that life can throw at us. It gives us the ability to be calm even in the face of turmoil like we face in our modern world. It's not a good luck charm that eliminates trouble. Rather, peace that is from God gives us the ability to endure life's struggles without losing your mind! Real peace is an inner confidence that God is with you in every situation. God's peace removes fear and worry and replaces it with an inner strength and conviction that all will be well because God will never leave you to face the perils of life alone.

Modern day troubles in Afghanistan, Haiti, and in our national politics can leave us bewildered as we search for a safe haven—like under a rock! Father Walter Ciszek, S.J comes to mind for me during those thoughts of wanting to flee from it all. Imprisoned in the Soviet prison system for preaching the Good News, he came to the conviction that despite his horrible circumstances, he was exactly where he was supposed to be for the salvation of souls. And so, he bloomed where he was planted. Despite everything, he was at peace. Saints tend to rise up when everything else seems to be falling apart.

Our modern world has mastered pulling us back into the fray and away from Jesus' peace. Trouble that is often beyond us is thrust into our faces through constant news loops and social media feeds. It seems like we need to tune out the world for a time. Even if you are a news junkie like me, I need to take a break. I also look for solid Catholic world commentaries that allow me to contextualize what is happening around me.

When the weather is a bit cooler, I like to take a long walk with my rosary in hand. I find it soothes my soul and gives me perspective. There is something about pounding the pavement that serves as a correction to what troubles me and I realize once again that I cannot save the world around me.

People tell me all the time, "Father, I don't know how you do it." Trust me, God is the one doing all the heavy lifting. God gives me the strength to be who He created me to be. I also surround myself with healthy friends who help to keep me grounded and rooted in Christ. I also find that humor helps to keep things in perspective. I have friends who love to tell goofy stories and share silly memes. They make me laugh and keep things light when they see I need to decompress and unwind. I am also blessed with a wonderful family that has always shown me how to love... and laugh at myself.

It's also necessary to surrender to God and place our lives in His merciful hands. Without fail, this prompts me to pray the Divine Mercy Chaplet. Handing our worries over to Jesus brings peace of mind and releases us from feeling that it's on us to fix everything. I recall Pope John XXIII's bedtime prayer often during times of stress. Under the enormous pressure of the papacy in the modern world, he would pray, "I'm going to bed. It's your Church. Take care of it!"

"Let nothing disturb you, nothing frighten you, all things are passing, God is unchanging. Patience gains all; nothing is lacking to those who have God: God alone is sufficient." - St. Teresa of Avila

Reflecting Heaven (Part XXII)

Notes on the St. Bernadette Sanctuary Renovation

by Fr. Don Kline, V.F.

PART 22 - Color and Light

As the preparation to move back into our newly renovated church begin, I thought it would be appropriate to thank all our parishioners who have donated so generously to this project and encourage those who may still want to share their blessings through a financial gift, please prayerfully consider doing so. There is a spiritual and emotional satisfaction knowing that you are part of something that will impact others for generations in a such a meaningful way.

Thanks be to God for the generosity of the people of St. Bernadette and the artistry and hard work of all those dozens and dozens of people who have had a role in the renovation. The feedback we've received so far from parishioners has been overwhelmingly positive. I will consider that a small miracle and an answer from God to our prayers. If there are any naysayers among us, they have been very good about keeping there thoughts personal. My prayer is that God will be praised and the people of our parish and all visitors will moved a bit closer to understanding the glory of God and the Kingdom prepared for those who love Him.

The final touches are being done and this project is nearing final completion. Most notably, a bit of work remains to be done on the apse sanctuary, refining and adjusting lighting and sound, and re-coloring the lighting fixtures in the choir loft to blend in with the new organ. Sadly, the painting of Holy Family and 4 of the bottom stained glass windows may not be completed by the reopening but there will be plenty to enjoy as we move back into our church. We are working on a date in December when Bishop Olmsted will be able to preside at our 10:00am Mass to officially bless our renovation and our new organ. Stay tuned!

Of the many things to see in our church, much of it has to do with color and light. So perhaps this is a good time to review these aspects of the renovation. One of the Catholic liturgical architects we consulted on this project had a memorable first impression of our church as being "very white." There is something to be said about the simplicity of colors in our church. However, the beautiful details of the white columns with the Corinthian capitals, the amazing tile work, the stunning crown molding, the marble statues of Mary and Joseph, all incredible work but all very similar in color. The new colors serve to emphasize the architecture and the space even more.

Now we have far more interplay of color! Most obvious, of course, are the brilliant stained glass windows. Our goals with the windows were several. First of all, we wanted them to invite and inspire prayer, to entice worshipers to spend some time before them in reflection, being drawn into a relationship with Christ and his Church. Second, we wanted them to let in enough light to brighten the nave but eliminate the sometimes too bright (and blinding) effects of the sun.

Finally, we wanted glowing colors, set off even more by the newly-painted, perimeter walls. You will undoubtedly notice the contrast in colors, in particular, the colorful murals depicting the life of Our Blessed Mother on the ceiling and in the apse located above and behind the altar. Other colors are meant to reinforce and emphasize the in the Stations of the Cross and the amazing columns that frame them.

But the color is not simply for color's sake, but rather as a suggestion of the jeweled foundations and walls of the heavenly Jerusalem. At the Easter Vigil, we hear a reading from the Book of Isaiah in which God describes the new Jerusalem: "I lay your pavements in carnelians, and your foundations in sapphires; I will make your battlements of rubies, your gates of carbuncles, and all your walls of precious stones.” (Isaiah 54:11-12)

The Book of Revelation carries this description of the heavenly jewels even further: jasper, chalcedony, emerald, sardonyx, chrysolite, beryl, topaz, chrysoprase, hyacinth, and amethyst are added to the mix (Rev 21:19-20). Colored stained glass is meant to invoke this richness and variety of color of the heavenly kingdom.

The same could be said of every aspect of the renovation, of course. The ongoing title of this series is, after all, “Reflecting Heaven.” The Catholic tradition is that the church building, nave, and sanctuary should witness to the heavenly Kingdom by their very structure, appearance, and action.

In the Book of Revelation’s famous description in chapter 21, we get a few more hints of what heaven is like: “The city was pure gold, clear as glass,” and “the street of the city was of pure gold, transparent as glass” (Rev 21:19, 21). This is where the color and shimmer of the sanctuary and center aisle come from. Okay, so we didn’t actually pave them in pure gold – we’ll save that for the ultimate Heaven. But the shining tiles of aisle and sanctuary are at least suggestive of the gleaming streets of gold and glass described in Revelation. This effect will be even more evident when our gold leaf atop the baldachinno, and throughout the church as well as the thousands of facets of glass reflecting the light!

And that brings us to light. The LED lighting system in the church illuminates all the colors and effects with subtleties and flexibility not possible with our old lighting, and all at a fraction of the operating cost! If you’re not sold on the lighting just yet, we urge you to wait just a little longer, until the large paintings are in and much of the lighting is re-adjusted and reconfigured to highlight them perfectly.

That brings us, finally, to the sanctuary and the ceiling. The bright white of the floor, altar, ambo, the brilliant golden decor on the wall of the sanctuary, and ceiling all, once again, are meant to reflect the Heavenly Jerusalem: “The city had no need of sun or moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gave it light, and its lamp was the Lamb” (Rev 21:23). Our hope is that, when all is said and done, that effect of radiant light will shine forth, particularly in the location of the Tabernacle, so that the effect will be that the light emanates from the “lamp that is the Lamb” in the Tabernacle and on the Altar.

In sum, we have white and gold for the heavenly city, blue for Our Lady of Lourdes, a lot of color in the windows and Stations for Mary’s mantle, a bit of red in the windows, the columns and Stations for the Precious Blood of our Lord, and jewels of color all over the walls, both in the windows and in the Stations. May this interplay of light and color help draw us closer to our Lord and risen Savior, Jesus Christ!

If you would like to contribute to the sanctuary renovation or the memorial project for Fr. Pete, visit <https://saintbernadette.weshareonline.org>. Your gifts enable us to continue the mission of the Church of making more disciples. Thank you to all who have helped to keep our parish focus on Christ, Our Eucharistic King!

Whose glory do you seek? There can be no share in God's glory without the cross. When Jesus prophesied his own betrayal and crucifixion, it did not make any sense to his disciples because it did not fit their understanding of what the Messiah came to do. And they were afraid to ask further questions! Like a person who might receive a bad verdict from the doctor and then refuse to ask further questions, they, too, didn't want to know any more. How often do we reject what we do not wish to see? We have heard the good news of God's word and we know the consequences of accepting it or rejecting it. But do we give it our full allegiance and mold our lives according to it? Ask the Lord to fill you with his Holy Spirit and to inspire within you a reverence for his word and a readiness to obey it.

Do you compare yourself with others?

How ashamed the disciples must have been when Jesus overheard them arguing about who among them was the greatest! But aren't we like the disciples? We compare ourselves with others and desire their praise. The appetite for glory and greatness seems to be inbred in us. Who doesn't cherish the ambition to be "somebody" whom others admire rather than a "nobody"? Even the psalms speak about the glory God has destined for us. You have made them a little lower than God, and crowned them with glory and honor (Psalm 8:5).

Jesus made a dramatic gesture by embracing a child to show his disciples who really is the greatest in the kingdom of God. What can a little child possibly teach us about greatness? Children in the ancient world had no rights, position, or privileges of their own. They were socially at the "bottom of the rung" and at the service of their parents, much like the household staff and domestic servants.

Who is the greatest in God's kingdom?

What is the significance of Jesus' gesture? Jesus elevated a little child in the presence of his disciples by placing the child in a privileged position of honor. It is customary, even today, to seat the guest of honor at the right side of the host. Who is the greatest in God's kingdom? The one who is humble and lowly of heart - who instead of asserting their rights willingly empty themselves of pride and self-seeking glory by taking the lowly position of a servant or child.

Jesus, himself, is our model. He came not to be served, but to serve (Matthew 20:28). Paul the Apostle states that Jesus emptied himself and took the form of a servant (Philippians 2:7). Jesus lowered himself (he whose place is at the right hand of God the Father) and took on our lowly nature that he might raise us up and clothe us in his divine nature.

God wants to fill us with his own glory

God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble (James 4:6). If we want to be filled with God's life and power, then we need to empty ourselves of everything which stands in the way - pride, self-seeking glory, vanity, etc. God wants empty vessels so he can fill them with his own glory, power, and love (2 Corinthians 4:7). Are you ready to humble yourself and to serve as Jesus did?

Lord Jesus, by your cross you have redeemed the world and revealed your glory and triumph over sin and death. May I never fail to see your glory and victory in the cross. Help me to conform my life to your will and to follow in your way of holiness. dailyscripture.net

Join us for Perpetual Adoration

Could you not keep watch for one hour? Jesus asked Peter in the Garden at Gethsemane (Mark 14:37).

One hour. One day a week. The amount of time needed to serve as a perpetual adorers. We still have many hours to fill!

Hour long time slots are now available beginning on the half hour.

St. John XXIII Catholic School

It is with great excitement that we announce the launching of our 2021-22 Annual Appeal! This campaign is our year-long fundraiser that is used to bridge the gap between tuition and the cost to operate our school. Tuition, alone, does not cover the expenses that come with running a school. Our goal each year is to raise $200,000 and last year we came close with a total of $146,000. With your prayerful consideration and as a united community, we can help fund St. John XXIII Catholic School so that the students can continue to come and receive a genuine, Catholic education with the best materials, campus, and teachers possible. We are grateful for any and all support especially as we all continue to navigate through the stretch of the pandemic! May God bless each of you!

Faith in Action!

Our 2nd graders kicked off the year with a very successful Healthcare Kit Supplies! A wide variety of first aid, anti-bacterial, and health supplies were gathered by the community and donated to the students of St. Matthews School in Phoenix to help them stay safe and healthy this school year. Thank you to ALL who helped make this happen!

No School on October 8th

This is just an early reminder that there is NO SCHOOL on October 8th due to the Diocesan In-service for teachers. Enjoy your three day weekend!

In today's Gospel, Jesus called the Twelve, and said to them, "If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all." Taking a child, he placed it in their midst, and putting his arms around it, he said to them, "Whoever receives one child such as this in my name, receives me; and whoever receives me, receives not me but the One who sent me."

Your gift to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul will help hungry children feel the arms of Jesus around them.

Tootsie Roll®

The Knights of Columbus Council of St. Bernadette will be distributing Tootsie Rolls® the after all masses the weekend of September 25th & 26th. All funds donated will go DIRECTLY to benefit People With Intellectual Disabilities, including the Special Olympics.
