Prepare Yourself for Next Sunday's Mass

May 15, 2022
Fifth Sunday of Easter

First Reading: Acts 14: 21 - 27

Responsorial Psalm: 145: 8 - 9, 10 - 11, 12 - 13

"I will praise your name forever, my king and my God."

Second Reading: Revelation 21: 1 - 5a

Gospel: John 13: 31 - 33a

Do you feel that you love others as Jesus loves you? Why or why not?

Going Deeper to Understand the Gospel

Paul and Barnabas

“As I have loved you, so you also should love one another.”

In the five verses of this gospel, two words are constantly repeated: ‘glory’ and ‘love.’ Judas walks away from both. In the prologue to his gospel, John proclaims that the glory of God was revealed in the descent of the Word into our humanity, “glory as of the Father’s only Son, / full of grace and truth.” Now as Jesus comes to His “hour,” the love that will be His ultimate self-sacrifice becomes also His hour of glory, a new prologue to His ascent to the Father in the glory of the resurrection. This is the life and love and glory that Jesus will share with His disciples.

This is it: the finale, the final word, the last message that Jesus leaves us before ascending into heaven. It is simple and straightforward. There is not a lot of room to wonder what He is talking about. Love one another. That’s it. That’s the endgame. Our job is to love one another. How? “As I have loved you.”

Throughout the gospel, Jesus has modeled this love for us. He could have ended everything by reminding us that we are loved, and always will be. Instead of choosing words to soothe, Jesus gives us a new commandment. In Jesus’ last moments with His best friends, He essentially tells them, “Go and do for others what I did for you.”
