A Note From Fr. Tom's Desk...

The readings for today have us take a look at how it is that we see ourselves and about some sort of future we might have. We are reminded that in this world, our lives are what we make of them and that we are short lived. In Amos, it is those who harm the poor with actions and deeds and that they will be repaid as such. In the second reading we are asked to pray for everyone, even those whom we don't agree with. Why? Because Jesus is the ransom for everyone.

What we need to look at is how prepared we are. The steward was old, weak and had no plans for his future. But when his future was threatened, he acted quickly and prudently.

Understanding that our lives are only on earth for a short time. How is it that we can be prepared, when God calls us to Himself, and we pass from this life to the next. God wants your hearts, not your possessions. Eternity is forever! Jesus is telling us to use God's blessings wisely, that they might bring us closer to God. Those possessions not lead us away from the one who loves us. Amen!

Fr. Tom

A Nota desde el escritorio del P. Tom...

Las lecturas de hoy nos invitan a reflexionar sobre cómo nos vemos a nosotros mismos y sobre el futuro que podríamos tener. Se nos recuerda que en este mundo, nuestras vidas son lo que hacemos con ellas y que nuestra vida es efímera. En Amós, quienes dañan a los pobres con sus acciones y hechos serán recompensados con la misma recompensa. En la segunda lectura se nos pide que oremos por todos, incluso por aquellos con quienes no estamos de acuerdo. ¿Por qué? Porque Jesús es el rescate por todos.

Lo que debemos considerar es cuán preparados estamos. El mayordomo era viejo, débil y no tenía planes para su futuro. Pero cuando su futuro se vio amenazado, actuó con rapidez y prudencia.

Entendiendo que nuestras vidas son solo por un corto tiempo en la tierra, ¿cómo podemos estar preparados cuando Dios nos llama a sí y pasamos de esta vida a la siguiente? Dios quiere sus corazones, no sus posesiones. ¡La eternidad es para siempre! Jesús nos dice que usemos las bendiciones de Dios sabiamente para que nos acerquen a Dios. Que las posesiones no nos alejen de quien nos ama. ¡Amén!

P. Tom
