14th Sunday Bulletin Letter ~
From Fr. Tom's Desk:

Today's readings Give us a wonderful understanding of God's love for us, in that He is very merciful, compassionate, understanding of great kindness.

we need to be very careful that we don't misunderstand what is being said here. It's not a free pass to do whatever we want.

What we hear in Romans reminds us of who we areas mortal bodies. That if we live pleasing our carnal desires, it can be our downfall. we are not debtors to the flesh, that God's Spirit dwells with in us.

It helps me remember that we all share in the dignity of who we are, the Body of Christ being made in His Image, that this dignity we share.

The Gospel message is one that is used during the anointing od the sick. The idea that God's wisdom is revealed to the Little ones, Not necessarily those who think like children, but those who have not developed various biases and opinions. who can be open minded.

Even though we might be exhausted from things, Jesus tells us to rest, to take on things that can be seen as burdened some. to learn from and become like Him, being Meek and humble of heart. That things will be OK.

It is much like the Divine Mercy devotion, Trusting in our Lord.

Desde el escritorio del P. Tom:

Las lecturas de hoy nos ofrecen una comprensión maravillosa del amor de Dios hacia nosotros: un amor lleno de misericordia, compasión, comprensión y gran bondad.

Debemos tener mucho cuidado de no malinterpretar lo que aquí se nos dice; no se trata de un permiso para hacer lo que queramos. Lo que escuchamos en la carta a los Romanos nos recuerda quiénes somos en nuestra condición mortal: si vivimos complaciendo nuestros deseos carnales, podemos caer en la perdición.

No somos deudores de la carne, pues el Espíritu de Dios habita en nosotros. Esto me ayuda a recordar que todos compartimos la dignidad de nuestra identidad —la de ser Cuerpo de Cristo, creados a su imagen—; una dignidad que es común a todos nosotros.

El mensaje del Evangelio es el mismo que se utiliza durante el sacramento de la unción de los enfermos. Nos presenta la idea de que la sabiduría de Dios se revela a los pequeños; no necesariamente a quienes piensan como niños, sino a aquellos que no han desarrollado prejuicios ni opiniones preconcebidas, y que mantienen una mente abierta.

Aunque a veces nos sentimos agotados, Jesús nos invita a descansar y a asumir aquellas cargas que pueden parecer pesadas, aprendiendo de Él y asemejándonos a Él: mansos y humildes de corazón. Nos asegura que todo estará bien.

Es algo muy parecido a la devoción a la Divina Misericordia: confiar plenamente en nuestro Señor.
