From the Pastor's Desk: Three years back, one day as I was walking back to the sacristy after the 12.15 pm Sunday mass, a Spanish speaking young lady who comes regularly to our Sunday Mass along with her husband and two sons came to me and said that her elder boy who was studying third grade at that time, wants to speak to me. I said, "of course." When the little boy came to me, he said, "Father, I enjoy reading your 'Pastor's desk' every week." I was in fact surprised to know that a boy of that age is reading my article!" There are also a few of our parishioners who have told me that they have preserved all the articles from the time it started appearing in our weekly bulletin. Such complements have greatly encouraged me to keep writing this article week after week. If my memory is correct, I have regularly presented this article for the last nine years. In the beginning I started writing the article based on the Scripture readings of the following Sunday, about our renovation projects, life sketch of some of our parishioners who have been part of our parish for many years, etc. Later it was mostly of some stories and incidents that I had read related to the Scripture readings of the following Sunday. I only shared with you what I had enjoyed reading from various books and articles. And I am happy to know that you too, enjoyed reading them and felt inspired, enlightened, and enriched by them.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Mrs. Pat Ludwig, our Office Secretary for making sure that my article 'From the Pastor Desk' reaches her desk by Sunday evening so that she can send it to Ms. Gaby Perez for translating it into Spanish and then send it to the publishers by Tuesday 11.00 am. It is to the credit of Ms. Pat Ludwig that we have never failed to bring out our weekly bulletin in time due to lack of planning. Even when she goes on vacation, she makes sure that our weekly bulletin comes out regularly on time with usual articles and parish news and information. The publishers of our weekly bulletin told us that our weekly bulletin is shown to other parishes as an example of a good bulletin. I express my heartfelt appreciation to Ms. Pat Ludwig for doing an excellent job in layout, composition and presentation of our weekly bulletin and making sure that it comes out regularly and on time.

I also would like to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Chuck Ludwig for regularly contributing his article 'Vatican Corner', to our weekly bulletin. His article has been highly informative and thought provoking. Like many of our parishioners, I too, eagerly look forward to reading his article. In fact, one of the agencies requested us for permission to reproduce his article regularly in some other parish bulletins and even offered us monetary reward. But we politely declined the offer as we wanted our parish bulletin to be the primary source of news. Writing that kind of article needs lots of reading and hard work. Well done Mr. Chuck Ludwig. Thanks for using and sharing your talents for the good of our parish community.

Nota de nuestro pastor: Hace tres años, un día, mientras caminaba de regreso a la sacristía después de la misa dominical de las 12:15 pm. Una joven de habla hispana que viene regularmente a nuestra misa dominical junto con su esposo y sus dos hijos se acercó a mí y me dijo que su hijo mayor que estaba estudiando tercer grado en ese momento, quería hablar conmigo. Dije, "por supuesto". Cuando el niño se acercó a mí, me dijo: "Padre, disfruto leer su 'Escritorio de pastor' todas las semanas". ¡De hecho, me sorprendió saber que un niño de esa edad está leyendo mi artículo!" También hay algunos de nuestros feligreses que me han dicho que han conservado todos los artículos desde el momento en que comenzaron a aparecer en nuestro boletín semanal. Tales complementos me han animado mucho a seguir escribiendo este artículo semana tras semana. Si mi memoria es correcta, he presentado este artículo regularmente durante los últimos nueve años. Al principio comencé a escribir el artículo basado en las lecturas bíblicas del domingo siguiente, sobre nuestros proyectos de renovación, el perfil de vida de algunos de nuestros feligreses que han sido parte de nuestra parroquia durante muchos años, etc. Más tarde fue principalmente de algunas historias e incidentes que había leído relacionados con las lecturas bíblicas del domingo siguiente. Solo compartí con ustedes lo que había disfrutado leyendo de varios libros y artículos. Y me alegra saber que a usted también le gustó leerlos y se sintió inspirado, iluminado y enriquecido por ellos.

Me gustaría expresar mi más sincero agradecimiento a la Sra. Pat Ludwig, nuestra secretaria de oficina por asegurarse de que mi artículo 'From the Pastor Desk' llegue a su escritorio el domingo por la noche para que pueda enviárselo a la Sra. Gaby Pérez para que lo traduzca a Español y luego envíelo a los editores antes del martes a las 11.00 horas. Es mérito de la Sra. Pat Ludwig que nunca hemos dejado de publicar nuestro boletín semanal a tiempo debido a la falta de planificación. Incluso cuando se va de vacaciones, se asegura de que nuestro boletín semanal salga regularmente a tiempo con los artículos habituales y las noticias e información parroquial. Los editores de nuestro boletín semanal nos dijeron que nuestro boletín semanal se muestra a otras parroquias como un ejemplo de un buen boletín. Expreso mi más sincero agradecimiento a la Sra. Pat Ludwig por hacer un excelente trabajo en el diseño, la composición y la presentación de nuestro boletín semanal y por asegurarse de que salga con regularidad y a tiempo.

También me gustaría expresar mi más sincero agradecimiento al señor Chuck Ludwig por contribuir regularmente con su artículo "Vatican Corner", a nuestro boletín semanal. Su artículo ha sido muy informativo y estimulante. Como muchos de nuestros feligreses, yo también espero ansiosamente leer su artículo. De hecho, una de las agencias nos pidió permiso para reproducir su artículo regularmente en algunos otros boletines parroquiales e incluso nos ofreció una retribución monetaria. Pero cortésmente rechazamos la oferta porque queríamos que nuestro boletín parroquial fuera la principal fuente de noticias. Escribir ese tipo de artículo requiere mucha lectura y arduo trabajo. Bien hecho, señor Chuck Ludwig. Gracias por usar y compartir sus talentos por el bien de nuestra comunidad parroquial.

VATICAN CORNER

German Cardinal Reinhard Marx, 67, of Munich and Freising, German submitted his resignation to Pope Francis and that news was made public on June 4, 2021. The reason Marx gave was that he is taking responsibility for the failures of the Church in handling clerical sexual abuse cases for the past 10 years and for the “many personal failures and administrative mistakes” in handling abuse allegations, “but also for the institutional or ‘systemic’ failures.” An expert’s report of how abuse cases were handled in Marx’s Archdiocese of Munich and Freising is expected to come out this summer after many investigations. Cardinal Marx is the past president of the German bishops’ conference and one of the main leaders of the German Catholic Church’s “Synodal Path” to reform the Church regarding power held, sexual morality, the priesthood, and the role of women in the Church. Pope Francis has warned the Germans that such reforms and modernization could ultimately lead to the fragmentation of the Church. Cardinal Marx is also a member of Pope Francis’ international advisory Council of Cardinals and is coordinator of the Vatican Council for the Economy. In his statement Marx said the clerical abuse crisis obviously requires improved oversight and administrative systems, but even more it shows the need for “a renewed form of the church and a new way to live and proclaim faith today.” He said investigating how allegations were handled in the past and holding to account bishops who failed to act promptly and appropriately is important, but it is not enough. “As a bishop I have an ‘institutional responsibility’ for acts of the Church in its entirety as well as for its institutional problems and failures in the past.” He said, above all church leaders must ask themselves if the focus really is on survivors and others impacted by sexual abuse. “With my resignation I would like to make clear that I am willing to personally bear responsibility not only for any mistakes I might have made but for the Church as an institution which I have helped to shape and mold over the past decades.” Pope Francis agreed with Cardinal Marx that Catholic leaders cannot adopt an “ostrich policy” in the face of the clerical sexual abuse crisis, but he told the Cardinal that he would not accept his resignation as head of the Archdiocese of Munich and Freising. Francis wrote to Marx “If you are tempted to think that by confirming your mission and not accepting your resignation, this bishop of Rome - your brother who loves you – does not understand you, think of what Peter felt before the Lord when, in his own way, he presented him with his resignation: ‘Depart from me, for I am a sinner.’ And listen to the answer: ‘Shepherd my sheep.’” Pope Francis said true reform will require every bishop to “let the Spirit lead us to the desert of desolation, to the cross and to the resurrection. It is the path of the Spirit that we must follow, and the starting point is humble confession: We have made a mistake, we have sinned.” As a church, “we must ask for the grace of shame.”
