Faithful Departed

Question:

How can we pray for the dead throughout the year?

Answer:

We commemorate the faithful departed on November 2nd each year. However, we can and should continue to pray for the dead. Our growth in Christian perfection takes a long time. At the time of our death, many of us might not be saints yet. But God, in His mercy, allows for those who love Him to experience purification after death. Our word for that state is Purgatory. It's the antechamber of heaven, so to speak. We know we're getting in the house, but we're not quite ready to go all the way in. There's rain to shake off our coats and dirt that's clogging our shoes.

Here on earth, we can pray for the souls in Purgatory. One way is to request that your parish offer a Mass for the intention of a specific loved one. We can also remember the departed in our daily prayers. Just as we have special intentions for family and friends here on earth, we can pray for those who have died. It's also a good act of Christian charity to pray for the forgotten, those who have no one else to pray for them. God knows who they are!

Los Fieles Difuntos

Pregunta:

¿Cómo podemos orar por los difuntos durante todo el año?

Respuesta:

Conmemoramos a los fieles difuntos el 2 de noviembre de cada año. Sin embargo, podemos y debemos seguir orando por los muertos. Nuestro crecimiento en la perfección cristiana lleva mucho tiempo. En el momento de nuestra muerte, es posible que muchos de nosotros aún no seamos santos. Pero Dios, en Su misericordia, permite que aquellos que lo aman experimenten la purificación después de la muerte. Nuestra palabra para ese estado es Purgatorio. Es la antesala del cielo, por así decirlo. Sabemos que nos estamos metiendo en la casa, pero no estamos listos para entrar del todo. Hay lluvia que sacudir de los abrigos y suciedad que limpiar de nuestros zapatos.

Aquí en la tierra, podemos rezar por las almas del Purgatorio. Una forma es solicitar que tu parroquia ofrezca una misa por la intención de un ser querido específico. También podemos recordar a los difuntos en nuestras oraciones diarias. Así como tenemos intenciones especiales para la familia y los amigos aquí en la tierra, podemos orar por aquellos que han muerto. También es un buen acto de caridad cristiana rezar por los olvidados, por los que no tienen a nadie más que rece por ellos. ¡Dios sabe quiénes son!

Every year during the month of November we remember our departed loved ones by placing their names on our altar and then these people are remembered throughout the entire month during all of our masses. There are envelopes at the doors of the church and also in the rectory for you to write your loved ones names on — then just return that envelope to the rectory office or place the envelope in the collection basket when you come to mass.

We now have a new way of donating to our church through a QR code that you can use. If you forgot your envelope or your check or just don't happen to carry any cash — We have now made it easier for you. When you scan this QR Code you can choose to make a one time donation or you will find it easy to set it up weekly or monthly—Whatever is easiest and works best for you! It can come from a bank account or credit card— you choose! Thanks for considering this way to donate to our church.

Ahora tenemos una nueva forma de donar a nuestra iglesia a través de un código QR que puedes usar. Si olvidaste tu sobre, tu cheque o simplemente no llevas dinero en efectivo, ahora te lo hemos facilitado. Cuando escanees este código QR, puedes elegir hacer una donación única por si te resultará fácil configurarla semanal o mensualmente. ¡Lo que sea más fácil y mejor para ti! Puede provenir de una cuenta bancaria o tarjeta de crédito, ¡tú eliges! Gracias por considerar esta forma de donar a nuestra iglesia.

VATICAN CORNER

On October 27, 2024, the 16th Ordinary General Assembly of the Synod of Bishops ended with a closing Mass in St. Peter's Basilica. The work of the 400 international Bishops and delegates from this second session on the Synod on Synodality, produced a 51

page Final Document, which was the culmination of Pope Francis' initiated three years of discussions about the future of the Catholic Church. The report came after the tens of thousands of listening sessions, the continental assemblies and two major meetings in Rome. Usually such a report would receive a papal exhortation, which is his own reflection and conclusion. However, Francis declared "What we have approved in the document is enough" and he was not writing an additional exhortation. He said the document already contains "highly concrete indications" to guide the Church's mission. He hoped the document would be a "gift to the people of God". The report outlined the Church's challenges and proposed ways for all the baptized to be involved in planning the path forward. However it has been said that the implementation and enforcement of the recommended changes are not clearly spelled out. The recommended changes include overhauling training for future priests, greater lay involvement in selecting bishops, expansion of women's ministries and a revision to church law to require greater transparency and accountability throughout the Church. The report did not propose certain dramatic changes which many reform groups sought during the three years of discussions. Such changes as restoration of the female diaconate, or greater recognition of LGBTQ Catholics, were not in the final report. However, the possibility of such dramatic changes were not dismissed either, but instead remained open for continued discussions. Each of the 151 paragraphs of the final report were voted on by the Synod's voting members, and each paragraph had to receive a 2/3 approval vote to be included in the report. The section on women deacons received the most no votes. The Synod called for a "significant presence of women" in Catholic seminaries. The Synod said that despite a centuries-long practice of accountability to one's superiors in church life, Church authorities being held accountable to the community is "in need of restoration." The Synod recommended the "establishment everywhere" of finance councils, involvement of laity in pastoral and financial planning, preparation of an audited annual report for both financial matters and safeguarding policies and performance evaluations of all ministers and ministries. The Synod said that more study is needed to determine what matters of doctrinal authority should be reserved to the pope and what matters can be decided or enacted by episcopal conferences. Another Synod proposal was to have more formation and training for those working with minors and vulnerable adults to improve the Church's safeguarding efforts. At the final Mass for the Synod, Pope Francis said "A sedentary church, that inadvertently withdraws from life and confines itself to the margins of reality, is a church that risks remaining blind and becoming comfortable with its own unease." "If we remain stuck in our blindness, we will continuously fail to grasp urgency of giving a pastoral response to the many problems of our world." It is now time for the Church to "get its hands dirty" and "carry the joy of the Gospel through the streets of the world."
