PASTOR'S CORNER

My dear Parishioners,

I find this summary of the Pastoral Letter on Stewardship by the Catholic Bishops of United States so very inspiring that I want to share it with you for your reading and reflection.

To Be a Christian Steward – (A Summary of the U.S. Bishops' Pastoral Letter on Stewardship)
 "As each one has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God's varied grace"
 (1 Peter 4:10).

What identifies a steward? Safeguarding material and human resources and using them responsibly are one answer; so is generous giving of time, talent, and treasure. But being a Christian steward means more. As Christian stewards, we receive God's gifts gratefully, cultivate them responsibly, share them lovingly in justice with others, and return them with increase to the Lord.

Disciples as Stewards

Let us begin with being a disciple—a follower of our Lord Jesus Christ. As members of the Church, Jesus calls us to be disciples. This has astonishing implications: Mature disciples make a conscious decision to follow Jesus, no matter what the cost. Christian disciples experience conversion—life shaping changes of mind and heart—and commit their very selves to the Lord. Christian stewards respond in a particular way to the call to be a disciple. Stewardship has the power to shape and mold our understanding of our lives and the way in which we live. Jesus' disciples and Christian stewards recognize God as the origin of life, giver of freedom, and source of all things. We are grateful for the gifts we have received and are eager to use them to show our love for God and for one another. We look to the life and teaching of Jesus for guidance in living as Christian stewards.

Stewards of Creation

The Bible contains a profound message about the stewardship of material creation: God created the world, but entrusts it to human beings. Caring for and cultivating the world involves the following: Joyful appreciation for the God-given beauty and wonder of nature; Protection and preservation of the environment, which would be the stewardship of ecological concern; Respect for human life—shielding life from threat and assault, doing everything that can be done to enhance this gift and make life flourish; and Development of this world through noble human effort—physical labor, the trades and professions, the arts and sciences. We call such effort "work." Work is a fulfilling human vocation. The Second Vatican Council points out that, through work, we build up not only our world but the Kingdom of God, already present among us. Work is a partnership with God—our share in a divine human collaboration in creation. It occupies a central place in our lives as Christian stewards.

Stewards of Vocation

Jesus calls us, as his disciples, to a new way of life—the Christian way of life—of which stewardship is part. But Jesus does not call us as nameless people in a faceless crowd. He calls us individually, by name. Each one of us—clergy, religious, lay person; married, single; adult, child—has a personal vocation. God intends each one of us to play a unique role in carrying out the divine plan. The challenge, then, is to understand our role—our vocation—and to respond generously to this call from God. Christian vocation entails the practice of stewardship. In addition, Christ calls each of us to be stewards of our personal vocations, which we receive from God.

Stewards of the Church

Stewards of God's gifts are not passive beneficiaries. We cooperate with God in our own redemption and in the redemption of others. We are also obliged to be stewards of the Church—collaborators and cooperators in continuing the redemptive work of Jesus Christ, which is the Church's essential mission. This mission—proclaiming and teaching, serving and sanctifying—is our task. It is the personal responsibility of each one of us as stewards of the Church. All members of the Church have their own roles to play in carrying out its mission: Parents, who nurture their children in the light of faith; Parishioners, who work in concrete ways to make their parishes true communities of faith and vibrant sources of service to the larger community; All Catholics, who give generous support—time, money, prayers, and personal service according to their circumstances—to parish and diocesan programs and to the universal Church.

Jesus came to Galilee proclaiming the gospel of God: "This is the time of fulfillment. The kingdom of God is at hand. Repent, and believe in the gospel." Mark 1:14-15

Imagine Jesus' proclamation in today's Gospel happening now.... Jesus came to Simi Valley proclaiming the gospel of God: "This is the time of fulfillment. The kingdom of God is at hand. Repent, and believe in the gospel." COVID-19, political unrest, remote learning....how can this be the time of fulfillment? The kingdom of God is at hand? Yes! Jesus is present among us! We need to repent and believe in His Gospel of love, redemption, and life! This week try to focus on Jesus' proclamation instead of the news. Talk as a family or with friends about what you need to repent? How do you show your belief in the Gospel?

Please visit www.saintpeterclaver.org to find FAITH AT HOME for all ages, to live-stream Mass and to find other resources to pray and grow in your Domestic Church.

Prayer to Overcome Indifference

All too often, Lord, we turn away from the world's many problems, which seem too big, too complex, or too far away.

Forgive us our indifference. It is easier, Lord, to see only what is around us: our lives, our homes, our challenges. Forgive us our isolation.

Help us to see with your eyes: eyes which notice one another and help us understand. Help us to dream your dream: of communities that reach out and dialogue and where diverse people creatively cooperate.

Help us to be people of solidarity and action, so moved by prayer, encounter, and understanding that peace can become a reality.

Amen.

Stewards of the Church

Stewards of God's gifts are not passive beneficiaries. We cooperate with God in our own redemption and in the redemption of others. We are also obliged to be stewards of the Church—collaborators and cooperators in continuing the redemptive work of Jesus Christ, which is the Church's essential mission. This mission—proclaiming and teaching, serving and sanctifying—is our task. It is the personal responsibility of each one of us as stewards of the Church. All members of the Church have their own roles to play in carrying out its mission: Parents, who nurture their children in the light of faith; Parishioners, who work in concrete ways to make their parishes true communities of faith and vibrant sources of service to the larger community; All Catholics, who give generous support—time, money, prayers, and personal service according to their circumstances—to parish and diocesan programs and to the universal Church.

Obstacles to Stewardship

People who want to live as Christian disciples and Christian stewards face serious obstacles. In the United States and other nations, a dominant secular culture often contradicts religious convictions about the meaning of life. This culture frequently encourages us to focus on ourselves and our pleasures.

At times, we can find it far too easy to ignore spiritual realities and to deny religion a role in shaping human and social values. As Catholics who have entered into the mainstream of American society and experienced its advantages, many of us also have been adversely influenced by this secular culture. We know what it is to struggle against selfishness and greed, and we realize that it is harder for many today to accept the challenge of being a Christian steward. It is essential, therefore, that we make a special effort to understand the true meaning of stewardship and live accordingly.

A Steward's Way

The life of a Christian steward models the life of Jesus. It is challenging and even difficult, in many respects, yet intense joy comes to those who take the risk to live as Christian stewards. Women and men who seek to live as stewards learn that "all things work for good for those who love God" (Rom 8:28). After Jesus, we look to Mary as an ideal steward. As the Mother of Christ, she lived her ministry in a spirit of fidelity and service; she responded generously to the call. We must ask ourselves: Do we also wish to be disciples of Jesus Christ and Christian stewards of our world and our Church? Central to our human and Christian vocations, as well as to the unique vocation each one of us receives from God, is that we be good stewards of the gifts we possess. God gives us this divine-human workshop, this world and Church of ours. The Spirit shows us the way. Stewardship is a part of that journey.

I hope and pray that this Pastoral Letter on Stewardship has given us the guidance to live as Christian stewards, and as people who are grateful for God's gifts and are willing to share them lovingly with others.

Peace,
Fr. Riz

Divine Mercy Ministry

Ask for Much

From the diary of St. Faustina: . . . Words of Jesus are in bold: I rejoice that [souls] ask for much, because it is My desire to give much, very much. On the other hand, I am sad when souls ask for little, when they narrow their hearts (Diary, 1578).

My Prayer Response: Lord Jesus, I want to please You and have You rejoice as I ask, seek, and knock for more and more of Your mercy not only for myself but for those who "narrow their hearts" and ask for so little. Expand all of our hearts, so we can trust more and receive more.

KNIGHT'S CORNER

The season of Lent is approaching. The Church encourages fasting, either in the traditional sense or through some other form of self-denial determined by one's own conscience. Catholics make a sacrifice during Lent in preparation of the Easter celebration. According to the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, "During Lent penance should not be only internal and individual, but also external and social. The practice of penance should be fostered in ways that are possible in our own times and in different regions, and according to the circumstances of the faithful."

This season of Lent consider joining more than 1.9 million Knights of Columbus worldwide in brotherhood, who since 1882 have united their efforts and resources in sharing their values of Charity, Unity, Fraternity, and Patriotism.

The St. Peter Claver Council assists in our parish and Ventura County through various charity and fundraising events. Our members organize and work the events thus, practicing fraternity and charity. We need more members in our Council to help fulfill our goals. By becoming a Knight, you join a fraternity of Catholic men who socialize and work together to help others. Join us and see what you can do to be a better Catholic man. All practicing Catholic men are eligible to join, so why not become a Knight? Speak to any Knight for more information.

You can now join the Knights of Columbus on-line! Complete the on-line exemplification ceremony and you will be a third degree Knight. For more information contact Joe Gray, Grand Knight at 818 421-0170 or go to www.kofc9410.org

Talk to Your Children About Social Media Challenges

Children have spent many months at home now, separated from friends and classmates. Social media is a great tool to stay in touch, but there are definitely dangerous aspects to much “screen time” that parents need to be aware about. Social media challenges range from funny and harmless to risky and dangerous — and sometimes even illegal. If your child has social media accounts, talk to them about making smart choices and about knowing the difference between harmless pranks and seriously dangerous stunts. Make a pact to discuss anything they see their friends or acquaintances doing before they try it out at home. For more tips on social media safety, visit <https://lacatholics.org/did-you-know/>.

Hable Con Sus Hijos Sobre los Desafíos de las Redes Sociales

Los niños han pasado muchos meses en casa, separados de amigos y compañeros de clase. Las redes sociales son una gran herramienta para mantenerse en contacto, pero definitivamente hay aspectos peligrosos de mucho “tiempo frente a la pantalla” que los padres deben tener en cuenta. Los desafíos de las redes sociales van desde divertidos e inofensivos hasta riesgosos y peligrosos, y a veces incluso ilegales. Si sus hijos tienen cuentas en las redes sociales, platique con ellos sobre cómo tomar decisiones inteligentes y saber la diferencia entre bromas inofensivas y acrobacias muy peligrosas.
