Thank You!

On June 26th and 27th we held our annual Missions of Mercy Weekend.

Thanks to your generous donations we were able to provide several local organizations with much needed supplies so they could continue providing assistance to those who are most in need in our community.

Pastor's Corner

My dear Parishioners,

Thanks be to God for the time away from the parish and for the visits I made to my sister's family up north in Santa Clara, CA., and my brother's family in Las Vegas. I am grateful to all of you for your kindness and for including me and all priests in your prayers. I certainly need all the graces I can get to do the will of God in serving Him and His people with devotion and love.

Let me now continue the reflection on the Lord's Prayer by Saint Cyprian, bishop and martyr.

Your kingdom come. Your will be done

The prayer continues: Your kingdom come. We pray that God's kingdom will become present for us in the same way that we ask for his name to be hallowed among us. For when does God not reign, when could there be in him a beginning of what always was and what will never cease to be? What we pray for is that the kingdom promised to us by God will come, the kingdom won by Christ's blood and passion. Then we who formerly were slaves in this world will reign from now on under the dominion of Christ, in accordance with his promise: Come, O blessed of my Father, receive the kingdom which was prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

However, my dear friends, it could also be that the kingdom of God whose coming we daily wish for is Christ himself, since it is his coming that we long for. He is our resurrection, since we rise again in him; so too he can be thought of as the kingdom of God because we are to reign in him. And it is good that we pray for God's kingdom; for though it is a heavenly kingdom, it is also an earthly one. But those who have already renounced the world are made greater by holding positions of authority in that kingdom.

After this we add: Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven; we pray not that God should do his will, but that we may carry out his will. How could anyone prevent the Lord from doing what he wills? But in our prayer we ask that God's will be done in us, because the devil throws up obstacles to prevent our mind and our conduct from obeying God in all things. So, if his will is to be done in us we have need of his will, that is, his help and protection. No one can be strong by his own strength or secure save by God's mercy and forgiveness. Even the Lord, to show the weakness of the human nature which he bore, said: Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me, and then, by way of giving example to his disciples that they should do God's will and not their own, he added: Nevertheless, not as I will, but as you will.

All Christ did, all he taught, was the will of God. Humility in our daily lives, an unwavering faith, a moral sense of modesty in conversion, justice in acts, mercy in deed, discipline, refusal to harm others, a readiness to suffer harm, peace ableness with our brothers, a wholehearted love of the Lord, loving in him what is of the Father, fearing him because he is God, preferring nothing to him who preferred nothing to us, clinging tenaciously to his love, standing by his cross with loyalty and courage whenever there is any conflict involving his honor and his name, manifesting in our speech the constancy of our profession and under torture confidence for the fight, and in dying the endurance for which we will be crowned—this is what it means to wish to be a coheir with Christ, to keep God's command; this is what it means to do the will of the Father.

After the gift of bread we ask pardon for our sins

As the Lord's Prayer continues, we ask: "Give us this day our daily bread". We can understand this petition in a spiritual and in a literal sense. For in the divine plan both senses may help toward our salvation. For Christ is the bread of life; this bread does not belong to everyone but is ours alone. When we say, our Father we understand that he is the Father of those who know him and believe in him. In the same way we speak of our daily bread, because Christ is the bread of those who touch his body.

Now, we who live in Christ and receive his Eucharist, the food of salvation, ask for this bread to be given us every day. Otherwise, we may be forced to abstain from this communion because of some serious sin. In this way we shall be separated from the Body of Christ, as he taught us in the words: "I am the bread of life which has come down from

The apostles gathered together with Jesus and reported all they had done and taught. He said to them, "Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while." Mark 6:30-31

Remember in last Sunday's Gospel reading Jesus sent His apostles out, two by two to preach the Good News, which means to tell people about God's love for them. Today they are coming back, I imagine excited to tell Jesus all about what they experienced and did. Jesus invites them to come and rest away from the crowds of people for a bit, with Him. We have all been through such a difficult year. This week, hear Jesus inviting you to come, rest a while with Him. Go watch a sunrise from a hiking trail. Have a family beach day, ending with watching a sunset. Gather around a fire to make s'mores, then look up at the stars. How will you rest with Him this week?

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

The Steward's Work Is Never Done

Woe to the shepherds who mislead and scatter the flock! When you hear these strong words from the Old Testament, you're probably thinking, thank goodness I don't have any sheep — dodged that bullet. Nobody misled here! No flock scattered on my watch! However, we are all shepherds of a kind, called to tend our own sheep: our families, our parishes, our communities.

But it's exhausting. Don't we all sometimes just want to take a break from being a steward? The excuses are so familiar: we're tired, we've done enough, we've given all we can, what more does the parish (or my spouse, or my kids, or my boss, or my friends, or my community) want? We give ourselves permission to be selfish. So, what if the flock scatters just a little?

Jesus gets that. We can just imagine him weary with exhaustion, can't we? We see him on his boat, attempting to sneak away for a quick break — maybe just a chance to eat a bite of food in peace. He is God, but he was still human, after all. Even the most dedicated shepherds need to sleep. But people couldn't leave him alone. They were hungry for him. They needed what he could offer, and they needed it now.

As tough as it is, that's the example we are tasked with imitating. Everyday Stewardship demands accountability. It demands our showing up even when we are tired. It demands that we look at our lives, our time, our energies, our talents, our hearts, our bank accounts and think: where do I still have more to give?

heaven. Anyone who eats my bread will live for ever and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world". Christ is saying, then, that anyone who eats his bread will live for ever. Clearly, they possess life who approach his body and share in the Eucharistic communion. For this reason, we should be apprehensive and pray that no one has to abstain from this communion, lest he be separated from the body of Christ and be far from salvation. Christ has warned of this: If you do not eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood you will have no life in you. We pray for our daily bread, Christ, to be given to us. With this help, we who live and abide in him will never be separated from his body and his grace.

After this we ask pardon for our sins, in the words: "and forgive us our trespasses". The gift of bread is followed by a prayer for forgiveness. To be reminded that we are sinners and forced to ask forgiveness for our faults is prudent and sound. Even while we are asking God's forgiveness, our hearts are aware of our state! This command to pray daily for our sins reminds us that we commit sin every day. No one should complacently think himself innocent, lest his pride led to further sin. Such is the warning that John gives us in his letter: If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, the Lord is faithful and just and will forgive our sins. His letter includes both points, that we should beg for forgiveness for our sins, and that we receive pardon when we do. He calls the Lord faithful, because he remains loyal to his promise, by forgiving us our sins. He both taught us to pray for our sins and our faults, and also promised to show us a father's mercy and forgiveness.

Let us be reminded of God's call to us to be merciful as He is merciful. More of this reflection will be continued in the next bulletin issue. Stay tuned!

Peace,
Fr. Riz

The Impact Of Social Distancing On Children

The negative effects of the pandemic on children are just beginning to be seen, as children head back to schools and daycares, some for the first time in well over a year. Children may be struggling socially, academically, and developmentally, due to a year of social distancing and predominantly online interaction. Work with your children to discuss how they are feeling — check in often for any signs that they might be overwhelmed or struggling. El Impacto Del Distanciamiento Social en Los Niños

Los efectos negativos de la pandemia en los niños apenas comienzan a verse, ya que los niños regresan a las escuelas y guarderías, algunos por primera vez en más de un año. Los niños pueden tener dificultades sociales, académicas y de desarrollo debido a un año de distanciamiento social e interacción predominantemente en línea. Platique con sus hijos sobre cómo se sienten; fijese si existen señales de que puedan estar abrumados o tener dificultades. Para obtener más información, lea el artículo en inglés, "The impact of social distancing on young children" (El impacto del distanciamiento social en los niños pequeños).
