GOSPEL MEDITATION - ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

What are the little ones? They are the poor, the marginalized, the women and men at the well, the Zacchaeus' looking for Jesus from a tree, those mired in sin, the blind who want to see, and the lame who want to walk. They are the lepers and the different ones who have been told that they are unclean, and the ones who suffer from abuse and grave injustices and oppression. They are children who want nothing more than to be loved and enjoy celebrating their innocence. These are all the little ones and they are all vulnerable. Life already brings them burdens, we don't need to add to them.

St. Oscar Romero said, "When the church hears the cry of the oppressed it cannot but denounce the social structures that give rise to and perpetuate the misery from which the cry arises." Why are so many people still so gravely hurting? We have the resources and the means to make things better. We choose not to. There are still those things called greed, pride, lust, apathy, jealousy, gluttony, and anger that prevent us from seeing each other and people to be loved and not objects to be used. Is this how God intended things to be?

God loves what is good and upright. It doesn't matter who did it or where it came from. In God's eyes, the end result is always faith, hope, and love. Those will always unite a person with God. We fill our lives with many things that are not good either for ourselves or for others. All of us have to work to discover what it is, exactly, that leads to the world's brokenness. There are people, systems, and ideologies in place that foster oppression and injustice rather than equity and fairness. Sadly, our complacency can be the greatest evil. Turning a blind eye, ignoring the truth, and believing that we are helpless to fix so great a problem, does little to move us closer to the kingdom of God. As members of the Body of Christ, we cannot condone anything that keeps people in misery.

As it is said, charity begins at home. Perhaps a good place to start is with our own households and making sure their foundations are properly laid.

Pastor's Corner

My dear Parishioners,

As we continue to reflect on our baptismal call to bring the Good News to others, there is an excellent article that offers insight to facilitate the passing on of the Catholic faith to our children. The article affirms the importance of the partnership of the parents in nurturing the family faith. The article is "Partnering with Parents to Nurture Family Faith - INSIGHTS FROM RESEARCH" By John Roberto. (USCCB 2021)

We believe that the family "is our first community and the most basic way in which the Lord gathers us, forms us, and acts in the world" (Follow the Way of Love). One of the consequences of the 2020 pandemic's impact on life in the U.S. was the rediscovering of the centrality and importance of the family and the home for our society and our Church. Education, work, and parish life (worship and faith formation) all moved home overnight. According to the research, Parishes that had developed strong relationships with families (and all generations) and had robust efforts to support parents and nurture family faith at home made a much smoother transition to home-based church life. Those that did not, struggled.

How can we partner with parents and develop vital and vibrant families of faith? Over the past two decades we have been blessed with some of the best research ever done on the role of parents and the family in forming the faith of children and young people. These studies have affirmed the centrality of parents, and the whole family, in forming the faith of children and youth.

This essay draws from several major research studies to identify findings that can be used to develop approaches and strategies to engage, encourage, and equip parents for family faith transmission and formation. There is no more urgent task for the Church today than strengthening parental and family faith and practice.

PARENTS ARE THE MOST SIGNIFICANT INFLUENCE ON THE RELIGIOUS AND SPIRITUAL OUTCOMES OF YOUNG PEOPLE.

At the heart of all the research is the finding that the most important influence shaping the religious and spiritual lives of children and youth is their parents. The overwhelming evidence from the research studies shows that the parents of American youth play the leading role in shaping the character of their religious and spiritual lives, even well after they leave home and often for the rest of their lives.

One of the most basic suggestions of the research made is that young adults arrive at a sense of their fundamental identity and worldview not by weighing all possible intellectual arguments for and against a proposed way of life, but rather by roughly adopting the worldview of those mentors who left the deepest impression upon them - and who loved them and cared for them the most. It should come as no surprise, then, that the emergence of the new generation of dedicated young Catholics will rise and fall with the choices of their parents. (Bartkus and Smith, 70)

The single most powerful force in a child's religious formation is the spiritual personality of the parent. We know the parental factors that make a significant difference in promoting faith in children and youth include:

- parents' personal faith and practice
- a close and warm parent-child relationship
- parent modeling and teaching a religious faith
- parent involvement in church life and Sunday worship
- grandparent religious influence and relationship (Bengston, et al.)

It is critically important that parents are authentic examples of what they claim to believe. Their authenticity includes faithful living as well as sharing with their children their struggles and failings.

THE PRIMARY WAY BY WHICH CATHOLIC IDENTITY BECOMES ROOTED IN CHILDREN'S LIVES ARE THE DAY-TO-DAY RELIGIOUS PRACTICES OF THE FAMILY AND THE WAYS PARENTS MODEL THEIR FAITH AND SHARE IT IN CONVERSATION, COLLABORATION, AND EXPOSURE TO OUTSIDE RELIGIOUS OPPORTUNITIES.

The crucial location where young people's religious outcomes are largely decided is not the parish or Catholic school, but the home. The primary responsibility for passing on religious faith and practice to children rests with parents; religious congregations (and Catholic schools) are secondary and primarily serve to provide support. This means that the most important agent in the religious and spiritual outcomes of children and youth are neither clergy nor youth ministers, neither educators nor the voices of popular culture and media, but parents. (Bartkus and Smith)

In Religious Parenting, Smith, et al. affirm this finding, "Parents have only one good and hopefully effective way to raise children to understand and carry on their family's religion (or perhaps return to it someday after a period of disaffection). That is for parents simply to practice their own personal religious faith, naturally, for its own sake and as role models for their children. If all goes well, children will over time learn, absorb, and embrace their own version of that faith, almost unconsciously. (Smith, Ritz, and Rotolo, 179).

May I take this opportunity to express my appreciation for all the parents, godparents, and guardians of children, who continue to take their responsibility seriously by offering their children opportunities to develop and grow in the faith. I especially thank the parents who are inspirations to their children as they lead them to have a loving relationship with Jesus Christ.

God loves you and I love you!

Peace,
Fr. Riz

Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him if a great millstone were put around his neck and he were thrown into the sea.

- Mark 9:42

In today's Gospel reading, Jesus speaks very strongly about sin. Look what He says about someone who causes another to sin. Sometimes we may not realize we are causing someone to sin through our words and actions. Social media posts that disrespect, name call, or spread gossip. Saying something mean and untrue about another kid at your school. Driving dangerously fast, tailgating, and cutting other drivers off. Siblings or spouses fighting with each other at home. These sins can all cause reactions of sin. Can you think of others to help be aware?

Everyday Stewardship
Recognize God in your Ordinary

Breaking the Stewardship Mold

Have you noticed how we always tend to pigeonhole one another — and ourselves? “I could never serve on the Parish Council. That’s for Rick and Ellen and that whole group of people who have done it for years.” “Greg takes care of faith formation in the parish — he always has. He doesn’t need my help.” “I can’t afford to give the big bucks like those families who sit up front can. My offering wouldn’t matter even if I did increase it.”

Thinking like this is a good indication that we aren’t in conversation with God about what His will is for our lives. If we have already decided what we are and are not meant to do, we aren’t likely to pray over it, to discern it.

We have to be open to the spirit of the Lord wherever it leads us, regardless of what we or others have come to expect from us. We human beings come to believe that we are such good judges of what others can offer — or what we ourselves can offer. But God has plans for us to which we aren’t privy. God calls everyone to serve Him in the way that pleases Him best, and only He can decide what that is. Everyday Stewardship demands a continual accounting of who we can be, what we can offer — even if it’s outside our comfort zone, even if it’s something that never occurred to us before.

There’s only one Person who can tell us what God wants from us. Do we even think to ask Him?

Did You Know?

Keep Video Games Safe

If your children play video games, it is important to know what they are playing and who they are playing with. Although video games may look like a solo activity, many involve teams or groups where players meet online. Talk to your children about what they are playing, and what they are talking about with other players. Remind them about your internet safety rules, and what information they can and cannot share online. You can also research a game’s content at the Entertainment Software Rating Board, www.esrb.org. For more information, visit <https://www.missingkids.org/content/ncmec/en/blog/2021/schools-out-for-summer-gaming-safety-for-kids.html> did-you-know.

¿Sabia Que?

Mantenga Seguros los Videojuegos

Si sus hijos juegan videojuegos, es importante saber a qué juegan y con quién. Aunque los videojuegos pueden parecer una actividad en solitario, muchos involucran equipos o grupos donde los jugadores se encuentran en línea. Hable con sus hijos sobre lo que están jugando y sobre lo que están hablando con otros jugadores. Recuérdeles sus reglas de seguridad en Internet y qué información pueden y no pueden compartir en línea. También puede investigar el contenido de un juego en Entertainment Software Rating Board, www.esrb.org.
