Concomitance and Return of the Precious Blood

Huh? What's concomitance?

Concomitance is the Catholic doctrine that says Jesus is fully present under each Eucharistic species (i.e., the Host and Precious Blood). This means that when we consume either the host or sip from the cup, we experience all of Jesus.

The justification behind this doctrine is that Jesus Christ as God is indivisible, his flesh cannot be separated from his blood or his soul. When we partake in the Eucharist, we consume Christ's glorified body – his body, blood, soul, and divinity – the substance of our Lord and Savior.

So why would we consume his Precious Blood at Mass if the host is enough?

Jesus tells us in John's gospel, "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him on the last day." At the Last Supper we read in Matthew's gospel: While they were eating, Jesus took bread, said the blessing, broke it, and giving it to his disciples said, "Take and eat; this is my body." Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, "Drink from it, all of you, for this is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed on behalf of many for the forgiveness of sins."

Jesus asks us to do both. When we consume both species of the Eucharist at Mass, we enter into this same act of eating and drinking Jesus' body and blood as the disciples did at the Last Supper. In other words, by receiving host and cup, we participate more fully in the divine mystery of the Eucharist. Both host and cup are touchable material signs of the real presence of Christ and while it's not required or essential to receive Jesus under both species, it is the most perfect form of doing so.

The Church has accepted the doctrine of concomitance for a long time, probably from the beginning. But for the first thousand years or so it wasn't much of an issue because all Christians received the body and blood of Jesus in both forms at Mass. Over time, however, the practice of receiving Holy Communion from the cup by the faithful began to drop off (due to fears of spillage and other issues) and by the 15th century the Precious Blood was restricted to the clergy. Church laws were revised only 60 years ago to let bishops return the cup of Christ's blood to the faithful in their dioceses.

It is understood that many people may have health concerns about sharing from a common cup, and some people are more at risk (from any source) than others. To be very clear, receiving from the cup is completely optional and no one should feel pressured into doing so. However, as long as sensible precautions are in place (sanitizing hands, wiping the rim of the cup between recipients, etc.), then receiving the Precious Blood should be reasonably safe at this time. And so, to allow the faithful to participate more fully in their reception of this sacrament, our bishop has relaxed his prior restrictions on receiving from the cup.

Even so, as with masks, your personal health and that of your family is your choice and responsibility. If you feel uncomfortable sipping from the cup, that's OK, but please reverence Christ's Precious Blood with a bow as you pass by when receiving Holy Communion. Whether we choose to receive it or not, it's still the most precious drink on earth!

–Deacon Ray

NEXT WEEK'S 2ND COLLECTION
Missionary Co-Op

Father Devasagayaraj, Vicar for the Clergy, Archdiocese of Pondicherry and Cuddalore, India will be making a mission appeal next weekend to promote education among the poor children in India. Christianity is India's third-largest religion with approximately 30 million followers, constituting 3% of India's population. Around 70% of Christians are Dalits, a marginalized group without any rights or power. Dalits are formerly known as 'Outcaste or Untouchables' under the caste system of India. For centuries, they have been deprived of education, human dignity, and equal opportunity. More than 15 million children are listed as child laborers in India. The only way these children can break this vicious cycle of poverty, abuse and oppression is to return to school. Bishop, A. Neethinathan, Bishop of Chingleput Diocese makes this appeal seeking your support and prayers. You can also support a child through educational sponsorship at www.dalitsolidarity.org Thank you and may God richly bless you for answering God's greatest commandment -- to love.

Thank you to all those who supported and donated to the Tijuana Ministry Pasta dinner held on June 15th. You have helped us immensely with providing building supplies for the 3 houses that will be built during the week of July 1-8th. Please pray for the volunteers, both teens and adults, who will be traveling to Tijuana to do Our Lord's work among the poor. With a grateful heart, Mimi Bini.

BRING DIGNITY TO THEIR STRUGGLE

Last year Holy Family successfully collected items to fill 107 Survival Sacks for the Homeless. Let's do it again! The last weekend of this month, July 30, bring men's and women's underpants and socks, full-sized containers of toothpaste, deodorant, shampoo, lip balm, feminine hygiene products, etc. (For a list of other needed items, go to <https://holyfamilyсанjose.org/survival-sacks>.) Please give your items to FIAT members outside of Mass July 30 or drop them off in the parish office. Our unhoused brothers and sisters need our help as they try to weather life on the streets and maintain their human dignity.

NIGHT AT THE MOVIES

"The Florida Project" (R), starring Wilem Dafoe, is FIAT Feature's first film in its annual summer series of movies. Through the eyes of Moonee, a 6-year-old, we share the experience of her and her friends as they live full lives despite poverty, thanks to her struggling mother and protective manager of the Magic Castle Motel. The Telegraph calls the film "a hysterically rude, visually stunning cinematic theme park." Free movie, popcorn, water, and AC. In the Faith Room 7 – 9 PM this Tuesday, July 11. (Optional but appreciated: Bring an item for the Survival Sacks for the Homeless. For what's needed, see Survival Sacks on the FIAT page of the parish website.)

BE THE LIGHT

How can YOU help to build up the Kingdom of God? Pray! ... and sign-up for Be The Light.

It is a simple "yes" to dedicate some time as a family in prayer. It is open to all families who attend the 9:30am Mass. For one week, your family will take home the vocation cross, Holy Family miniature statue, and a prayer box and will set aside time to gather and pray for the intentions of vocations, that more people may say "yes" to religious life and for families that they may love the way Jesus did. Your family will also receive a blessing from the congregation during Mass.

Give the Lord some of your time. He can make us one Holy Family that lives in His graces in love for each other. Feel the joy it brings! Contact Jackie Cantu for more information at jacquelyn.cantu@dsj.org.
