WORSHIP

GOSPEL MEDITATION

July 3, 2022

14th Sunday of Ordinary Time

Freedom properly defined is freedom properly understood. The Cambridge Dictionary tells us that it is, “the condition or right of being able or allowed to do, say, think, etc., whatever you want to, without being controlled or limited.” That same dictionary defines liberty as, “the freedom to live, work, and travel as you want to.” Both definitions sound very similar. Is there a difference between freedom and liberty? Many are accustomed to believing that freedom and liberty are interchangeable and simply involve possessing rights and privileges. For the Christian, however, there is a big difference between the two.

St. John Chrysostom directs that “the only person who is free is the one who lives for Christ.” There are many other inspirational people throughout history who see freedom as something far greater than liberty. True and properly understood freedom has little to do with entitlement or self-promotion. For the believer, it is a matter of the heart and soul. Freedom (and liberty, for that matter), seen only in terms of the world, can quickly be taken away. The freedom spoken of by St. John Chrysostom can only be lost by personal choice. When one lives for Christ, they live in pursuit of virtues that enlighten one’s soul (faith, hope, and love) and strengthen one’s character (justice, fortitude, temperance, and prudence). Rather than having the ability to acquire or do more things, true freedom asks us to be detached. Privileges, rights, and responsibilities are important, but they do not define us.

The world is not always open to listening to the truth. “I am sending you like lambs among wolves,” Jesus tells his disciples. The secular definitions of freedom and liberty are very attractive. They promise us a great deal. It is no wonder Jesus asks his disciples to travel with very little. The Gospel is not dependent upon things or anything those with worldly power or investment can say or do. When one chooses to live for Christ, they choose to live with peace. That’s what true freedom will give us. If we do not want what Christ offers, we can close the door, and the messenger will walk away. Distracted by the lure of personal liberties, we risk losing our freedom. We will not have anything truly life-giving to share with others.

St. John's Peru Ministry needs your help!
 St. John's supports Santisimo Sacramento (Blessed Sacramento) Parish in Piura, Peru. We do this by sending clothing, shoes, household items, bedding, religious items, school supplies, tools, etc. in two shipping containers twice a year. Our next shipment is scheduled for October 2022. Over the past two years donations have continued to be received but the number of volunteers have dwindled. We now have a situation where we can't reduce our backlog for the next shipment. So we're asking for new volunteers to help. This can be individuals, families or groups and can be for as little as one day or two hours. This would entail sorting, folding and bagging clothes and any help would be appreciated by the Peru Ministry and the 30,000 parishioners of Santisimo Sacramento. If you think you, your family or your group would like to help, please contact Kathy Hatch at 405-625-4911.

Family2Family (F2F) Ministry

Will you answer the cry of the poor?

Junior (23) & Marcela (27) have 2 children, Austin (4) & Britany (1). Mom takes care of the home & children. Dad works at a packing company earning about $10/day when he has work. They live in a very rural village but do have water & electricity. For $30/month you can sponsor this family and truly make a difference in their lives. Contact Stephanie Simpson at F2F@stjohn-catholic.org or 405-627-6199 for more information.

What should I do if a loved one or friend is homebound and needs to receive Communion outside of the Parish?

St. John's has a central contact for parishioners to reach out to: Kay Sommer, who leads the Communion to the Homebound Ministry. You can call Kay at 405-474-6593 or e-mail her at kaysommer@cox.net not only with Communion needs but also if you have questions about this ministry. She will designate and dispatch a trained and commissioned ministry member in a timely manner and ensure that the needs of the homebound for Holy Communion are met.

You may also reach out to Anne Keef in the parish office at 405-340-0691 or Diane Gbone at sjbemhc@gmail.com.

Mission

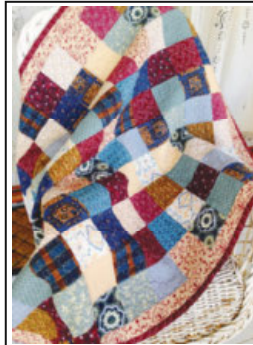

Jesus tells us in Matthew "Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you." (28:19- 20)

The mission of every person is to evangelize and to proclaim the good news in their words and actions. When we have a personal and intimate encounter with the Lord, we can't help but be transformed and then compelled to go out and share what has happened to us-- to tell the good news of how the Lord has worked in our own individual lives. Our mission is to witness to the love of the Father in everything we say and do, so that others may see and experience the Lord through us and be drawn to Him.

NEW!

Reflection Question: What is one gift/ talent that the Lord has given me? How can I use that to draw others to Him?

Join St. Theresa's Quilt Guild!

The guild makes quilts for Parishioners in need of comfort and prayers. Our quilts are made with love, blessed and distributed to those served by the St. John's Homebound Communion Ministry. Baby quilts are also made for Willow Pregnancy Center in Edmond.

Meetings are held in the Council Room in the basement of the Great Hall on the second Tuesday of each month from 9:00-11:00am. Our next meeting is July 12 at 9:00am. If you are unable to attend meetings but would like to participate in making a quilt top, contact a St. Theresa's Guild member to pick up a fabric bundle. We are blessed to have long arm services donated for all quilts made by our ministry.

St. Theresa's Guild is funded in part by St. John the Baptist Catholic Church and through generous donations. We gladly accept donations of 100% cotton fabric to continue our ministry for those in need of comfort.

DEVOTIONAL

Spirituality: So Many Questions, So Much Fear

Nancy Vargas

Is the world coming to an end? Will there be a nuclear World War Three? Is our United States on the brink of a Civil War? What is truth and what is not? Is our Catholic Church on the verge of division? Where are you God and why aren't you taking care of all this death and destruction? Jesus, how do I live your last and final commandment to all of us: "Love one another as I have loved you" (Jn. 15:12). Am I living in the "end times"?

These are scary questions and these are fearful times. What do we do? We turn to Jesus, our Redeemer, our Brother, and our Friend. We go to Jesus with all of our fears, questions, and troubles and we lay them all at the foot of the cross. We talk with our beloved Jesus and we listen, just as we would to a dear best friend, letting Jesus see and know all of us: the good, the bad, and the ugly. We let Jesus hold us close and whisper into our hearts and our troubled minds: "I am here. Do not be afraid. My peace I leave you, my peace I give to you." This, my dear ones, is prayer.

Let me invite all of you on a journey of prayer, friendship, and peace. Let me invite you to inquire about the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola, known in our Archdiocese as Retreat in Daily Life. Set aside time in your daily life to talk with Jesus about everything! It is a prayer journey that is life-giving and life-renewing in the midst of all the business, craziness, and sometimes fear and suffering that surrounds you. Retreat in Daily Life takes you on a Biblical and prayerful encounter with Jesus. You grow in your friendship with Jesus and Jesus' peace, love, and compassion grows in you.

"Prayerfulness sees God everywhere. Prayerfulness talks to God everywhere. Prayerfulness is fostered by the simple consciousness that God is. That God is near us at all times. That God is closer than the breath we breathe. That God is available, a silence in the midst of chaos, a voice in the midst of confusion, a promise at the center of the tumult" (Joan Chittister, OSB). Retreat in Daily Life is the beginning of a journey of prayerfulness. At any time of the day or night we can call on Jesus. Jesus is always waiting, listening for us. What a wonderful blessing. No phone needed, no emails, no Instagram posts—just a whisper.

If you would like to inquire about Retreat in Daily Life, please contact me (405-760-4640). Interviews for this next session of Retreat in Daily Life will begin on July 1 and continue through August 31.

Nancy is a long time parishioner of St. John's and has experience in spiritual direction since 2008. She facilitates Retreat in Daily Life groups for the Archdiocese. She may be contacted at 405-760-4640 or navargas54@gmail.com.

St. Benedict, Pray for Us!
Karen Pourbabaee

“Gracious Holy Father, grant us the intellect to understand You, reason to discern You, diligence to seek You, wisdom to find You, and a heart to meditate upon You. May our ears hear You, may our eyes behold You, and may our tongues proclaim You. Amen.”

 –Prayer of St. Benedict

Such is the most beautiful prayer of St. Benedict of Nursia, Italy, Father of Western Monasticism and patron saint of Europe, whose feast day is celebrated July 11. He is also known as the patron saint of exorcists. St. Benedict lived from 480-543, being widely known as a man of prayer and a man of miracles, while also possessing the gift of prophecy and visions. In the name of Jesus, his prayers led to the curing of a young boy with leprosy, brought dead boys back to life, cast out evil spirits, caused a monk to walk on water, and he even prophesied his own death. He penned the Rule of St. Benedict in 516, which became the norm for monastic living in the 12 monasteries he established, and more generally, throughout medieval Europe.

Apparently, St. Benedict’s prayers were also efficacious in the healing of Pope Leo IX as a young boy suffering from a snake bite; he observed the holy monk descend on a golden ladder from heaven and touch him with a holy cross, eliciting a complete cure. In 1049, Pope Leo redesigned the cross as a medal to which he attributed blessings and indulgences. Pope Benedict XIV approved and recommended the medal in 1742.

The St. Benedict Medal is widely known and used today, and should be done with faith. As any sacramental, it holds no power in and of itself. Rather, its graces and favors are due to our faith in Jesus Christ and the efficacious prayer of St. Benedict on our behalf. Though lay people are forbidden to conduct exorcisms, they are permitted to use the St. Benedict medal to ward off evil or in prayer for the many benefits listed below:

According to Dom Gueranger in 1880, the St. Benedict medal is considered effective in: 1) asking for inner peace and spiritual healing, 2) asking for peace between individuals or nations, 3) curing bodily afflictions and as protection against continual disease, 4) destroying the effects of witchcraft and all other diabolical and haunting influences, 5) healing those suffering from wounds and illnesses, 6) obtaining conversions of sinners, especially when in danger of death, 7) offering protection from storms and lightning, 8) protecting children from nightmares, 9) protecting mother and child during childbirth, 10) protecting animals infected with plague and other maladies, 11) protecting fields infested by harmful insects, 12) protecting from or otherwise countering effects of poisons, 13) protecting persons tempted, deluded, or tormented by evil spirits.

The St. Benedict medal can be worn, and it has been suggested by exorcist Fr. Chad Ripperger to have them around your house, especially at all entrances, for added protection. It is common to bury them in the four corners of your property. Have them blessed, and if possible according to the old rite of exorcism proper to the medal. While the medal itself has an image of St. Benedict bearing a cross, the opposite side portrays a cross with lettering on it and around the medal’s perimeter; they are initials for Latin words that offer the faithful a formula for employing the virtue of the Holy Cross against evil spirits. The Latin words create the St. Benedict Medal Prayer: “May the Holy Cross be my light. May the dragon never be my guide. Get away from me Satan. Never tempt me with your vanities. What you offer me is evil. Drink the poison yourself.” This formula/prayer presents all that Satan dreads—the Holy Cross, the Holy Name of Jesus, and our Savior’s own words in temptation.

Fr. Gabriel Amorth, renowned Rome exorcist, emphasized the importance of invoking St. Benedict’s name as the patron of exorcists during this priestly ministry. Most exorcists also use the St. Benedict Medal Crucifix during exorcisms. As lay people, let us avail ourselves of St. Benedict’s prayer and protection. Let us utilize his medal as a sacramental in our lives and pray the medal prayer daily as a spiritual shield. St. Benedict, pray for us!

Take a look at page 12 to view the St. Benedict Medal and it’s meaning.

COUNSELING CORNER

ADDICTIONS STEAL OUR FREEDOM

Mary Brenner, LPC, NCC

I love the Fourth of July! I love celebrating our founding fathers and their hard work ensuring our freedom. I believe I value independence and freedom more than the average person. I am always surprised at how easily people give away their freedoms. In fact, many people willingly slide down the slippery slope to addiction believing they are in control.

Addiction is a treatable, chronic medical disease involving complex interactions among brain circuits, genetics, the environment and an individual's life experiences. People with addiction use substances or engage in behaviors that become compulsive and often continue despite harmful consequences. There are different types of addictions and most are difficult to detect because they are legal and easy to obtain.

Substance Addiction - This is often the first thing that most people think of when talking about addiction. However, each of the following can just as easily ruin your life:

- Gambling Addiction
- Sex Addiction
- Food Addiction
- Gaming/Electronic Addiction

Virtually any activity can become an addiction disorder, including many of the socially acceptable areas of life. Watching a lot of television can become an addiction, as can an excessive focus on exercise or healthy eating. The key factor in recognizing something as an addiction is that you cannot stop doing it and that there are negative consequences for continuing it. These negative consequences can be for yourself, or for those around you.

The stages of addiction:

1) Experimentation. Using and trying things willingly. The initial stage can happen at any age but research shows the younger the age the more impact on the development of the brain. (This is why gaming and electronic addiction is so difficult to break.)

2) Regular use in one's life.

3) Problematic or risky use. At this stage things happen where the individual use is occurring at an alarming rate. The individual may not feel the behavior is abnormal but others do, and the individual continues their use regardless of the risks or consequences.

4) Dependence. At this stage the use is compulsive and it interferes heavily with the individual's life. They depend on and cannot function without it. Their tolerance level goes up.

5) Addiction. At this stage, use is compulsive and out of control. Addiction is a medical condition involving psychological and physical changes from repeated heavy use.

If you or someone you know has an addiction there is help! Many of the support groups are listed in the back of this bulletin, or feel free to call. Take back your freedom and enjoy the life God intended you to have. Happy Fourth of July!
