The Divine Mercy

La divina misericordia

Today is Divine Mercy Sunday. On February 22, 1931, Sr. Faustina received a vision and she was told by Jesus "My daughter, tell the whole world about My inconceivable mercy. I desire that the Feast of Mercy be a refuge and shelter for all souls, and especially for poor sinners. On that day the very depths of My tender mercy are open. I pour out a whole ocean of graces upon those souls who approach the fount of My mercy. The soul that will go to Confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sins and punishment." (Diary, 699). Confession can be made in the week before or after Divine Mercy Sunday.

Hoy es el Domingo de la Divina Misericordia. El 22 de febrero de 1931, Sor Faustina recibió una visión y Jesús le dijo: "Hija Mía, cuéntale al mundo entero acerca de Mi inconcebible misericordia. Deseo que la Fiesta de la Misericordia sea refugio y amparo para todas las almas, y especialmente para los pobres pecadores. En ese día se abren las profundidades mismas de Mi tierna misericordia. Derramo todo un océano de gracias sobre aquellas almas que se acercan a la fuente de Mi misericordia. El alma que se confiese y reciba la Sagrada Comunión obtendrá el completo perdón de los pecados y de las penas." (Diario, 699). La confesión se puede hacer durante la semana antes, o la semana después del Domingo de la Divina Misericordia.

Fr. Stu - The Rest of the Story!

Many of you have probably already seen the new movie “Fr. Stu,” starring Mark Wahlberg, the story of a non-religious boxer who wanted to become a movie star, but later felt called to become a Catholic priest. It is a movie well worth seeing, but beware of much vulgar language (not suitable for children)!

I don’t want to spoil the movie for those who haven’t seen it yet, so this column will focus on some parts of the life of the real Stuart Long which were not included in the movie.

Stuart, known as “Stu,” was born in Helena, Montana, in 1971, the first of five children. His brother Stephen died of sickness at the age of 5, when Stu was only 9. His death deeply effected the family.

Stu was an active and fun-loving boy with little regard for rules. He used to throw fruit at passing trains and would run through the Cathedral to take a short cut to his grandmother’s house. He had little use for religion and knew very little about the Catholic faith. In fact the first time he attended Mass was when his college football coach (it was a Catholic college) told the team it was mandatory for them to go to Mass before a big game!

He was known as something of a trouble-maker in his college classes, often asking inappropriate questions and arguing about trivial matters. One day one of his teachers invited him to try boxing and he became very good at the sport. After college he became a professional boxer, but his career was cut short by a serious injury.

He then moved to Los Angeles to become an actor, but only succeeded in doing some work for commercials and some “bit parts.” Then for 7 years he worked as the manager of a museum, a job he said he truly enjoyed. He did fall in love with a woman whom he was planning to marry, but before that could happen, he suffered a terrible accident. One day, riding his motorcycle home from work, he was hit by a car and smashed head-first into another car. While in a hospital, he had a religious experience and decided to enter an RCIA program to become baptized. The day of his baptism he had a very strong feeling that God was calling him to become a priest. That feeling left him but kept coming back over the next 7 years, until he finally entered seminary!

While he was studying for the priesthood, health problems led doctors to discover he had a tumor near his hip. Undergoing medical tests, it was discovered that he had a very rare fatal disease for which there was no cure, in which his muscles would waste away. In 2007 Stu went to Lourdes, France, fully expecting that God would cure him. He went into the miraculous waters, but found no healing and felt that God had abandoned him. But his friends encouraged him to try again. The second time he went into the waters he again felt no physical healing, but he felt a great sense of peace. While in France he also visited the relics of St. Joan of Arc and thought about how much she had suffered for God. Stu felt God was also calling him to suffer for some reason, and he bravely accepted that calling.

Because of his rapidly deteriorating health, many doubted that he would ever be ordained. But his bishop, Bishop George Thomas, said that God kept reminding him (the bishop) that a priest is ordained to be like Christ, the Servant Who redeemed us by His suffering! So he ordained Stu in late 2007. Fr. Stu became very actively engaged in his ministry, knowing that his time was short. In 2010 he had to move to a convalescent home, where he spent his last 4 years. But people continued to flock to see him for confession, counseling and prayers. His mom and dad both enrolled in RCIA classes to become Catholics. As Fr. Stu became weaker he needed help to do everything. But he said that his disease was probably the best thing that every happened to him, for many reasons, including the love his father showed him during his time of need, the ministry he would never have been able to do otherwise, his new respect for those who were suffering, and for the humility he learned, which is something he had been lacking for much of his life!

Padre Stu - ¡El resto de la historia!

Muchos de ustedes probablemente ya han visto la nueva película "Fr. Stu", protagonizada por Mark Wahlberg, la historia de un boxeador no religioso que quería convertirse en estrella de cine, pero luego se sintió llamado a convertirse en sacerdote católico. Es una película que vale la pena ver, ¡pero ojo con mucho lenguaje vulgar (no apto para niños)!

No quiero estropear la película para aquellos que aún no la han visto, por lo que esta columna se centrará en algunas partes de la vida del verdadero Stuart Long que no se incluyeron en la película.

Stuart, conocido como "Stu", nació en Helena, Montana, en 1971, el primero de cinco hijos. Su hermano Stephen murió de una enfermedad a la edad de 5 años, cuando Stu tenía solo 9. Su muerte afectó profundamente a la familia.

Stu era un niño activo y amante de la diversión con poco respeto por las reglas. Solía arrojar frutas a los trenes que pasaban y corría por la Catedral para tomar un atajo a la casa de su abuela. Tenía poco uso para la religión y sabía muy poco sobre la fe católica. De hecho, la primera vez que asistió a Misa fue cuando su entrenador de fútbol universitario (era un colegio católico) le dijo al equipo que era obligatorio que fueran a Misa antes de un gran partido.

Era conocido como un alborotador en sus clases universitarias, a menudo haciendo preguntas inapropiadas y discutiendo sobre asuntos triviales. Un día, uno de sus maestros lo invitó a probar el boxeo y se volvió muy bueno en el deporte. Después de la universidad, él se convirtió en boxeador profesional, pero su carrera se vio truncada por una grave lesión.

Luego se mudó a Los Angeles para convertirse en actor, pero solo logró hacer algunos trabajos para comerciales y algunos "pequeños papeles". Luego, durante 7 años, trabajó como gerente de un museo, un trabajo que dijo que realmente disfrutaba. Se enamoró de una mujer con la que planeaba casarse, pero antes de que eso sucediera, sufrió un terrible accidente. Un día, cuando regresaba del trabajo a su casa en motocicleta, fue atropellado por un automóvil y se estrelló de cabeza contra otro automóvil. Mientras estaba en un hospital, tuvo una experiencia religiosa y decidió ingresar a un programa de RICA para bautizarse. El día de su bautismo tuvo un sentimiento muy fuerte de que Dios lo estaba llamando a ser sacerdote. Ese sentimiento lo abandonó, pero siguió regresando durante los siguientes 7 años, ¡hasta que finalmente ingresó al seminario!

Mientras estudiaba para el sacerdocio, problemas de salud llevaron a los médicos a descubrir que tenía un tumor cerca de la cadera. Al someterse a pruebas médicas, se descubrió que tenía una enfermedad mortal muy rara para la que no había cura, en la que sus músculos se desgastaban. En 2007 Stu fue a Lourdes, Francia, esperando que Dios lo curara. Entró en las aguas milagrosas, pero no encontró sanidad y sintió que Dios lo había abandonado. Pero sus amigos lo animaron a intentarlo de nuevo. La segunda vez que entró en las aguas, nuevamente no sintió sanidad física, pero sintió una gran sensación de paz. Durante su estancia en Francia también visitó las reliquias de Santa Juana de Arco y pensó en cuánto había sufrido por Dios. Stu sintió que Dios también lo estaba llamando a sufrir por alguna razón, y valientemente aceptó ese llamado.

Debido al rápido deterioro de su salud, muchos dudaron de que alguna vez fuera ordenado. Pero su obispo, el obispo George Thomas, dijo que Dios seguía recordándole (al obispo) que un sacerdote está ordenado para ser como Cristo, ¡el Siervo que nos redimió con Su sufrimiento! Así que ordenó a Stu a finales de 2007. El p. Stu se involucró muy activamente en su ministerio, sabiendo que le quedaba poco tiempo. En 2010 tuvo que mudarse a una casa de reposo, donde pasó sus últimos 4 años. Pero la gente continuó acudiendo en masa para verlo para confesión, consejería y oraciones. Su mamá y su papá se inscribieron en clases de RICA para convertirse en católicos. Como el p. Stu se debilitó y necesitaba ayuda para hacer todo. Pero dijo que su enfermedad fue probablemente lo mejor que le pasó, por muchas razones, incluido el amor que su padre le mostró durante su tiempo de necesidad, el ministerio que nunca hubiera podido hacer de otra manera, su nuevo respeto por los que sufrían, y por la humildad que aprendió, que es algo que le ha faltado durante gran parte de su vida!
