Warming has effects on the carbon cycle. It creates a vicious circle which aggravates the situation even more, affecting the availability of essential resources like drinking water, energy and agricultural production in warmer regions, and leading to the extinction of part of the planet's biodiversity. The melting in the polar ice caps and in high altitude plains can lead to the dangerous release of methane gas, while the decomposition of frozen organic material can further increase the emission of carbon dioxide. Things are made worse by the loss of tropical forests which would otherwise help to mitigate climate change. Carbon dioxide pollution increases the acidification of the oceans and compromises the marine food chain. If present trends continue, this century may well witness extraordinary climate change and an unprecedented destruction of ecosystems, with serious consequences for all of us. A rise in the sea level, for example, can create extremely serious situations, if we consider that a quarter of the world's population lives on the coast or nearby, and that the majority of our megacities are situated in coastal areas.

Barbara, the new parish secretary, is a long awaited arrival for the parish office. Barbara arrived at Risen Christ on July 6th.

Since March 2020, when the Coronavirus pandemic brought typical activity everywhere to a near standstill, behind the scenes work continued at Risen Christ. The skeletal office staff of 1 - Deacon Don, can now begin to catch his breath.

Barbara most recently served as secretary at Nazareth, the diocesan Retreat Center in Boise, until its closure on June 30, 2021.

THE BAPTISMAL FONT

Baptism marks our entrance into the Christian life. It is the basis for all sacramental life. The font is accessible for all to approach and bless themselves upon entering the church. It is the focus for the sprinkling rites and marks the entrance of the church, as baptism marks our entrance into the life of Christ. The font is large enough to celebrate baptism by immersion of adults as well as infants. A risen Christ image, "the empty tomb," is the form utilized in the construction of the font. The round font form offers another connection to the round platform for the altar. The font "tomb" is a series of steps in a path cut into the raised circular stone form. The two irregular stone elements, on top of the base, reference the stone pushed away. The lower circular area is rough or "hewn" from more natural rock. Adult candidates for baptism will pass through the saving waters and emerge from the other side. The upper font is a carved element suggesting the castaway wrappings of death. They form a bowl and a water feature path so the water flows into the lower pool. Infant baptisms and individual blessing occur at this font.

Because of its significance, size and location, the font is the center of other rites that have their roots in and recall the Sacrament of Baptism. It serves as an explicit reminder of baptism to all who enter and leave. Here is the place where the body may be received at a funeral, a reminder of the origin of the Christian life for the one who has died. Here wedding couples are welcomed; here adult and youth confirmands renew their baptismal promises before they are anointed in the Sacrament of Confirmations. Here is the visible symbol at the root of the Sunday renewal of baptism celebrated in the opening rites of Mass. Situated prominently in the Church, the font has its proper place in celebrations of the Catholic community.
