Our Next Diocesan Collection

Africa faces the economic and social hurdles of enormous debt, epidemic, severe poverty, and political unrest. In spite of these challenges, the Church in Africa has almost tripled in size in the past 30 years. The Church in Africa program provides grants to finance pastoral projects including outreach programs, Catholic schools, evangelization, & education of clergy and lay ministers. Our solidarity is necessary to help the "salt of the Earth" Church in Africa realize its potential as a "light of the world."

A TOUGH DECISION

A conversation that many of us clergy engage in with parishioners, friends, and those who are curious about the somewhat mysterious vocation of the priesthood is in relation to the number of priests or, more specifically, the perceived lack of men entering into the priesthood. It's a good observation and challenging conversation that has many possibilities of an answer, but in reality is quite complex. As vocations' director for the Diocese of Palmerston North in Aotearoa New Zealand, it was not an easy task to find young men who were interested in pursuing the priesthood and many reasons were given why they were choosing other career paths rather than discerning a vocation rather than an occupation. And perhaps that was part of the problem: many were looking at the priesthood not as vocation but as career.

This misconception, combined with worldly definition of success (money, status, power), combined with a societal decline in morals and values, smaller families (historically, larger families tended to produce more vocations as there were more males to carry on the family name), relativism and secularism, and even events and practices within our post-Vatican II Church (reduced emphasis on the sacraments, confused liturgies, diffusion of the role of altar servers which is a traditional role identified by seminarians where they first had a thought about being a priest) and scandals have all combined, with many other possibilities, to impact vocations. And perhaps one of the biggest obstacles is what Jesus is directly challenging all of his followers to embrace: God first, everything else second.

If a person were to prize something of great value and want to possess it, it's natural to ask what it will cost to "invest" in it. Jesus was utterly honest and spared no words to tell his disciples that it would cost them dearly to be his disciples. In fact, using the parables to make a point, it will cost someone their whole life and all they possess in exchange for the new life and treasure of God's kingdom. The Lord Jesus leaves no room for compromise or concession; either give our lives over to Him entirely or keep them for ourselves. But St. Paul reminds us "We are not our own. We were bought with a price" (1 Corinthians 6:19-20).

We were once slaves to sin and a kingdom of darkness and oppression, but we have now been purchased with the precious Blood of Jesus Christ who has ransomed us from a life of darkness and destruction so that we could enter His kingdom of light and truth. Christ has, however, set us free to choose whom we will serve in this present life – as well as in the age to come. The choice is as stark as Jesus' teaching: it is either God's kingdom of light, truth, and goodness or it is Satan's kingdom of darkness, lies, and deception. There are no neutral areas or parties – not even our families when it comes to selecting our God.

Deo Gloria!

Father Bryan

Is God Trying to Speak to Me?

Will Wright,
MA, ThD Candidate

Bible Basics is a free event, open to any adult, to come learn about the Scriptures, ask question, and learn the deeper meaning to the mystery of Scripture.

Topics will vary from session to session. For this session: Is God Trying to Speak to Me? This session looks at how God speaks to us.

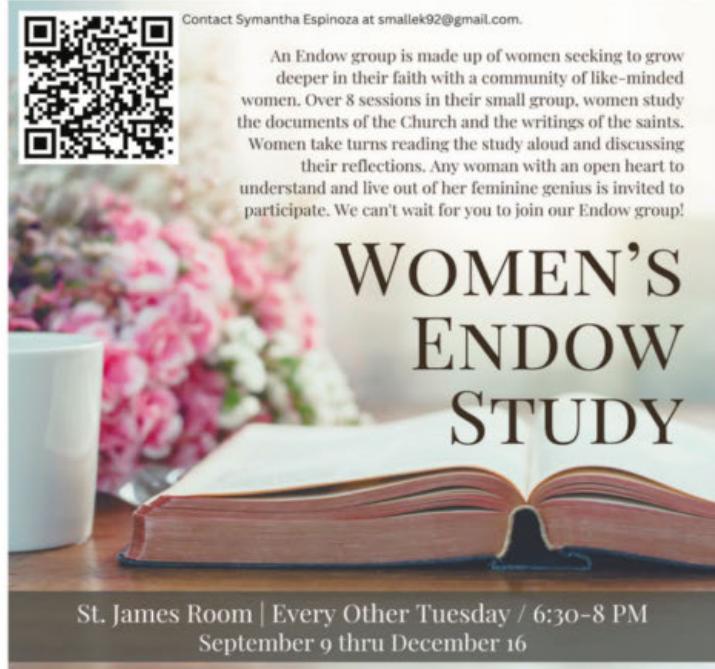

Date: Tuesday, September 9.
Time: 6:00pm-7:30pm.

Online via Zoom - no in-person classroom.

Contact Symantha Espinoza at smallek92@gmail.com.

An Endow group is made up of women seeking to grow deeper in their faith with a community of like-minded women. Over 8 sessions in their small group, women study the documents of the Church and the writings of the saints. Women take turns reading the study aloud and discussing their reflections. Any woman with an open heart to understand and live out of her feminine genius is invited to participate. We can't wait for you to join our Endow group!

Gather Your People

Refrain

Gath-er your peo-ple, O Lord. Gath-er your peo-ple, O Lord.

One bread, one bod-y, one spir-it of love. Gath-er your peo-ple, O Lord.

Verses

1. Draw us forth to the ta-ble of life:
 2. We are parts of the bod-y of Christ,
 3. No more harm on the moun-tain of God;
 4. Wash us, Lord, in the wa-ters of life;

broth-ers and sis-ters, each of us called to need-ing each oth-er, each of the gifts the swords in-to plow-shares. Free us, O Lord, from that wa-ters of mer-cy, wa-ters of hope walk in your light. Spir-it pro-vides. hard-ness of heart. flow from your side.

BEHOLD THE LAMB OF GOD

Matt Maher

Verse

You are my Lord.
 It's you I adore.
 Nothing on earth could ever take your place.
 Your might humbles ev'ry heart;
 the highest of heavens bow.
 Nothing on earth could ever take your place.
 And now we see your sacrifice,
 the greatest gift, our greatest prize.

Refrain

Behold the Lamb of God!
 Behold the Lamb of God
 who takes away the sins of the world.
