SCHEDULE YOUR HOLY HOUR!

We now have an online Eucharistic Adoration scheduler. Set up your weekly Holy Hour at <https://smpoly.weadorehim.com>

Cover: James Tissot, Jesus Teaches the People by the Sea, 1886–94

At the last minute, I received a text from Ralph Shawver telling me that my June 13 Pastor's Notebook was for Father's Day, which is next week! I had less and a half hour to come up with something new. Therefore, I want to share with you this short reflection about Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati:

One of the stories shared was when 12-year-old Pier Giorgio "won" permission to begin receiving the Holy Eucharist daily. I consider it an extraordinary grace that he had such a devotion to the Blessed Sacrament at such a young age. For the next twelve years, rare was the time that he ever missed this daily appointment with the Lord.

"It wasn't possible for him to approach the Sacrament on Sundays only," wrote his sister Luciana. "When Pier Giorgio was in the Communion line, there was a noticeable spiritual change in him, to the point where the Eucharist seemed to shorten the distance between Heaven and earth, between himself and God."

This sentiment was echoed by a woman named Ernesta Bergia who said, "We received Communion while kneeling next to one another very many times, and I always noticed that he didn't seem like he was in this world anymore, but it was as if he had been transported to Heaven."

Others who saw him receive Our Lord, described his face as "beautiful," "heavenly," "intense," radiating a "mystical power," "transfigured," absorbed," "fervent." One person who saw him during the priest's elevation of the Host said, "I was so overwhelmed that even to this day I can see his expression: I had the feeling that at that moment he was seeing God."

According to Pier Giorgio himself, it was that daily encounter with Christ that fueled his service to so many poor and unfortunate people. Luciana agreed: "The power of Christ working in him every morning is the only explanation we can give to particular heroic acts of self-sacrifice and of charity, to his enormous spirit of humility, and to the moral astuteness of his life."

The power of Christ that worked in Pier Giorgio's life is available to us in the same way. [Last week] we celebrated the beautiful Solemnity of Corpus Christi—the Feast of the Body and Blood of Christ. Sadly, although many dioceses choose to move this feast to Sunday so that more people can attend, only a small fraction of Catholics will make the effort on either day. Why? So much power is waiting for us in that small host that Saint John Paul II said holds "the solution to all the problems of the world."

Pier Giorgio understood this and that is why he kept his daily appointment with Christ in the Eucharist. That is why Sundays alone could never be enough for him.

Ask Blessed Frassati to help you seize the power that can transform your life. Nothing would make him happier.

Fr. Jim Lee
Pastor

Verso l'alto! – "To the heights"

A reminder that each week after Sunday Mass, there are folks ready to pray with you in the Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati Room. Please stop by for prayer.

In Christ, through the intercession of Blessed Pier Giorgio, I love you.

Purifications

FR. LOU CUNNINGHAM

AFTER HOLY COMMUNION, you will notice that the priest and deacon return to the altar and use water (and sometimes wine!) to ensure that none of the Blessed Sacrament remains on the sacred vessels for Mass. There are a couple of options regarding when this can take place in the modern Roman Rite: either during Mass itself, or immediately following Mass.

I would joke with the servers that “real men do the dishes!” Of course, this was done in jest, because what we are dealing with at the altar aren’t just some regular dishes with some regular food! In the Catholic and Orthodox understanding, every particle contains the fullness of Jesus! The rubrics for the Mass today state that “Whenever a fragment of the host adheres to his fingers, especially after the fraction or the Communion of the faithful, the priest is to wipe his fingers over the paten or, if necessary, wash them. Likewise, he should also gather any fragments that may have fallen outside the paten.” The Church allows (and used to require) the priest to use wine and water in the chalice and over his fingers. This is an eminently practical and Roman action: wine is sticky! If after purifying the vessels with the Sacred Hosts (known as ciborium in the singular and ciboria in the plural), there are fragments left over, one of the ways to make sure that they come out of the chalice is to use a little wine with the water. Since this became a ritualized action, some prayers were attached to this time as well. Some of them (like the first one) come directly from the psalms. They are:

He consumes the Host, uncovers the chalice, genuflects and continues silently:

What return shall I make to the Lord for all the things that He has given to me? I will take the chalice of salvation, and call upon the Name of the Lord. I will call upon the Lord and give praise: and I shall be saved from my enemies.

After Communion the priest puts any extra Hosts into the tabernacle and taking the chalice, has a server pour in wine. He drinks it and says quietly:

Grant, O Lord, that what we have taken with our mouth, we may receive with a pure mind; and that from a temporal gift it may become for us an everlasting remedy.

Wine and water are poured into the chalice over the priest's fingers. As he dries them he says quietly:

May Your Body, O Lord, which I have received and Your Blood which I have drunk, cleave to my inmost parts, and grant that no stain of sin remain in me; whom these pure and holy Sacraments have refreshed. Who lives and reigns, world without end. Amen.

Sometimes people ask me, if they should pay attention to the purifications while they are going on at the altar. My response is “if it helps you pray!” We just received Jesus Christ, Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity, into ourselves. The time after Holy Communion is there for us to enter more deeply into Christ and His life. Sometimes this might mean singing, sometimes it might mean not singing. Sometimes it might mean focusing more intently on the altar, sometimes closing our eyes in prayer as we kneel in front of this great divine mystery. There are a plethora of devotional prayers that have been written throughout the centuries for after receiving Holy Communion. They are meant to help us formulate words and thoughts to bring to Jesus as we receive Him in the most intimate way possible on earth. I encourage you during that time to pray, to talk to Jesus about what is in your life, about what events and/or who you want to bring to Him at that Holy Communion. Flannery O’Connor, a Catholic author from the early-mid twentieth century would often tell people in her letters that she offered her Communion for that person. What a beautiful way to know that someone is praying for you!

Stretch, bend . . . pray

To pray with your entire being—physically, mentally, spiritually, emotionally—is giving your whole self to God. Why does taking care of your body as a gift from God matter? How do we practice physical wellness as a follower of Christ? “Finding God in all things” can definitely apply to your stretches!

Faith and fitness are not only more connected than expected, but each also benefits from incorporating the other. Like a supportive gym buddy, faith and fitness are fine alone but better together! A gentle exercise class may help boost your heart rate, but doing so while honoring the strong and able body that God has given you boosts your spirit as well.

Join us for light stretching and prayer time on Tuesdays at 1PM in Gathering Space Room 1. Masks will be required and we will maintain social distance.

Contact Bene Reece at (360) 292-7143 or breece@saintmichaelparish.org if you wish to participate or have questions.

SIMPLY CATHOLIC

Ministries for women who have had abortions

By Father Francis Hoffman

To be forgiven, tell God that you are truly sorry and then go to confession as soon as possible. After that, commit yourself to a life of service toward others, supported and strengthened by a life of prayer and frequenting of the sacraments. And have hope. Remember the great good that Dorothy Day did after her conversion? Remember the great good that St. Paul did after his conversion? Remember the great good that St. Augustine did after his conversion? Yes, there is conversion. There is redemption. There is a second chance, because Jesus who made you loves you and died for you on the cross to redeem you from your sins.

There can be life and there can be hope after abortion for all who have been involved in something so sad. The Church wraps her arms around all of her children, offering the grace of forgiveness and mercy through the Sacrament of Reconciliation, and the supernatural strength and sustenance that our soul needs through the Eucharist and prayer.

There are a number of programs that reach out to those affected by abortion, and a few that come to mind are Project Rachel, sponsored by Catholic Charities (see page 8 -ed.), and Rachel's Vineyard, sponsored by Priests for Life. All those who have been directly or indirectly involved in an abortion can be forgiven by going to confession. In most dioceses of the United States not only does the priest/confessor have the power to forgive the sin, but he has the delegated ability to lift any canonical penalties such as excommunication. I know the very mention of the word "excommunication" can terrify people, but it just shows how committed the Church is to upholding the dignity and sacredness of life, from the moment of conception until natural death.

For the record, only a person who is aware of the canonical penalty incurs it, and only if they are 18 years or older and fully aware of what they are doing.

The mission of Simply Catholic is simple: to help Catholics know and love the Lord and his Church so that they may be equipped to share their Catholic faith with others. Simply Catholic is a ministry of Our Sunday Visitor, which has been sharing the truth, beauty and goodness of Catholicism since OSV's founding in 1912.

Getting to Heaven

Msgr. Charles Pope

A short biblical passage supplied by St. Peter in Acts helps us understand more about how to get to heaven. Having heard a sermon that he preached on Pentecost, many were struck to the heart and asked what they should do. Peter replied, "Repent and be baptized, everyone of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38).

But this is not to be understood as a ritualistic observance we fulfill on one day, but is meant to usher in a whole renewal of the human person. And thus we should look at all three things that Peter indicates in some more detail.

The word translated as "repent" is metanoia, which means more than to clean up our act. It means to come to a whole new mind, rooted in what God teaches and reveals, with new priorities and the ability to make better decisions.

To be baptized is not only to be cleansed of our sins, but also to see our old self put to death and for Christ to come alive in us. Baptism ushers in the beginnings of a lifelong healing process that must continue by God's grace. Baptism also points to all the sacraments of the Church. Having been brought to new life, we must also be fed by the Eucharist and by God's word, we must see the wounds of sins healed in confession, we must be strengthened for a mission by confirmation. Baptism also makes us a member of the Body of Christ. And thus, we are called to walk with all the members of Christ's body — the Church. St. Peter also speaks of receiving the gift of the Holy Spirit. And thus we are taught that our dignity is to be swept up into the life, love and wisdom of God. We are called to be sanctified by the Spirit, to see sins put to death and many virtues come alive.

As can be seen, there are many dimensions to the work of God in saving us. Thus, we are to walk in a loving covenant relationship with the Lord. We are to do this in fellowship with his Church, through the grace of the sacraments, obedience to the Word of God and prayer (see Acts 2:42).

John Kramer moved!

John moved to North Dakota to be near to his family. It was a hard decision for him since he lived in Olympia for so many years and has so many good friends here. He has been a constant, dependable, and committed presence at Saint Michael Parish for over three decades. He assisted and nourished our faith community in so many ways, from bringing the Eucharist to the homebound and visiting parishioners, to serving as sacristan, to making sure there was not a speck of dirt around the altar before Mass at the Westside!

If you wish to write him a note, send him a picture or something that would remind him about his Saint Michael faith family, please bring it to Bene Reece at the parish office. We will send him a package in the next week or so.

Rachel's Corner

"I am a practicing Catholic and had been to confession. I knew that God had forgiven me, but I was never able to forgive myself. During the retreat I finally found the faith and courage that I needed to trust in Jesus and through His Divine Mercy truly know and believe in the forgiveness that I had been given."

New Hiking Groups

ASCEND TO NEW HEIGHTS

Rise Up is a newly forming group for all ages and families, with hikes at many levels, plus prayer and service opportunities. St. Bernard of Montjoux is the patron saint of this group, and is known for his great service of hospitality and protection to backpackers in the Alps. We may not get to the Alps, but we can model ourselves after this adventurous saint!

The Pier Giorgio Frassati Group of South Puget Sound is a hiking/service/prayer group for Young Adults. Groups of all shapes and sizes are forming around the world under the patronage of Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati! For information about his life visit <https://frassatiusa.org/>

As a young adult, Pier Giorgio often climbed mountains with friends and when reaching the summit, taught them about God. He is well-known for his remarkable service to the poor. Follow the Pier Giorgio Frassati Group of South Puget Sound Facebook page for upcoming hikes and service projects. To the heights!

Contact Bene at breece@saintmichaelparish.org or (360) 292-7143 if you have questions about these groups.

NOTE ON INCENSE

The 7:30AM Sunday Mass will always be incense-free. If you are sensitive to incense, we invite you to attend the 7:30AM Sunday Mass on any weekend during which incense is to be used. We place bulletin notices in advance of any planned incense use.

NOTE ON DAILY LIVE STREAMS

We are no longer live streaming all daily Masses. Only Wednesday daily Mass and the 9:30AM Sunday Mass are live streamed. Please visit Facebook or our website for alternate daily Mass live streams.

HOMEBOUND?

If you are permanently or temporarily homebound in a private residence, adult family home, assisted living facility or are hospitalized and wish to receive Holy Communion, please contact Bene Reece at (360) 292-7143 or breece@saintmichaelparish.org. (If you are hospitalized at St Peter, please contact their Spiritual Care department and let them know you are Catholic and desire to receive the Eucharist. If you are hospitalized at Capital medical center, please contact Bene Reece as above.)

Financial Peace University

Today's Gospel reading consists of two parables about planting seeds. Financial Peace University plants the seeds of budgeting, financial stability, family focus, and wealth building for generous giving. Fall FPU class is coming in September on Thursday evenings for nine weeks. Cost is $50 with materials and resources.

FPU Alumni Meeting: Join us on June 26, 10AM–NOON via Zoom. Sign up for alerts in SMP Connect (Group: Financial Peace University). Everyone welcome!

Small Groups

Many small groups continue to meet year-round and are open to new members. Some groups continue to meet weekly and others meet once or twice a month during the summer. Some groups are meeting in person and others via zoom. Consider getting together with your small group for an outdoor cookout this summer! There are many materials your group can borrow from the parish and Formed is another great resource for materials. An example:

WHO AM I TO JUDGE? Responding to Relativism with Logic and Love. In this 8-part study program, Edward Sri uses engaging stories and the wisdom of the saints to unpack the Catholic moral worldview, and he equips us to engage relativism, appealing to both the head and the heart.

Health Corner

TIPS FROM A RECENT CATHOLIC MENTAL HEALTH CONFERENCE.

Why Mental health matters:

1. Mental health issues don't go away when you ignore them.
2. Priests are spiritual guides. They are not trained to be mental health guides.
3. We shouldn't be afraid of our feelings.
4. Our spirituality is formed by our learning of how to understand, live and share our faith.
5. Spirituality may have a focus on fear- such as fear of hell, or a focus on joy- such as living in gratitude. Fear can contribute to bad decisions.
6. Spirituality impacts our biophysical self- such as our ability to respond to illness or trauma. Learning to live in gratitude can improve our mental health.

Our Faith Gives us Principles for Making Healthy Decisions:

1. Are you in a state of grace? When we are not in a state of grace our will is weakened and we cannot see clearly. Confession will bring us back into union with God.
2. What is your goal? Be specific.

3. Define your state in life and its expectations and obligations.
4. Differentiate between your emotions and reason. How do you feel about the situation and what do you think about it?
5. Pray and seek God's will.
 - Make your heart known to God
 - Ask what His will is in the situation
 - Ask Him to give you a desire for what He wants
6. Pray for the grace of detachment.
7. Seek the counsel of others, those with expertise on the subject, those who share your values, those who have your best interests at heart with no personal agenda.
8. Learn from the past. What are the red flags? What are the common denominators? Be honest with yourself.
9. How do the upsides and downsides balance out?
10. Is it good of you or good for you? Optimally, it should be both.

FORMED PICK OF THE WEEK

Light of Love takes a deeper look into understanding the call...the "why" of religious life. By interviewing five sisters from five orders across the United States, the film places viewers face to face in intimate conversations with these amazing women.
