Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord MK 16:15-20

We often cite Jesus' quote from today's Gospel of Mark: "Go into the whole world and proclaim the gospel to every creature." This was not a suggestion from the Lord. It was quite frankly a command, and it is one which still holds for each of us. Being an evangelist, being a disciple, being a steward is not a matter of choice for those of us who are Catholic Christians. It is something the Lord expects of us.

Often we like to spend time debating how to respond to this command, but that debate does not lessen the fact that it is something we are supposed to do. We need to acknowledge that even the original Apostles and followers of Jesus did not respond immediately. We learned they stayed in Jerusalem for some time, and it seemed to be only when the Church and its followers were persecuted that they began to reach out and truly share the "Good News."

"Go into the whole world and proclaim the gospel to every creature."

Once Christians accepted that charge from the Lord, they did indeed take the Word of God to all corners of the earth. Look at the Church today. It is incredible how this Church has grown from one Man/God and a small group into what it is today. That does not, however, get us "off the hook."

As much as we may argue about how to carry out this command from Jesus, the fact remains that our very lives need to stand as a representation of what it means to be a Christian, what it means to "love one another," what it means to live and to work as a disciple of Christ.

God bless you,

Fr. Mark

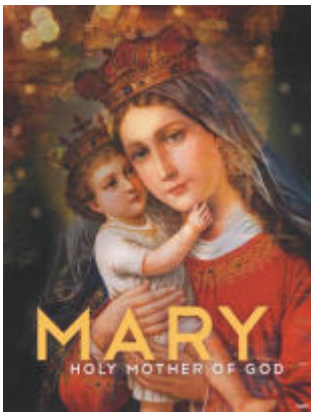
PRAYER TO ST. MICHAEL

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in the battle, be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray: and do thou, O prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God, thrust into Hell Satan and all the evil spirits who prowl about the world for the ruin of souls. Amen.

MAY IS THE MONTH OF MARY



This month of May is a special time for us Catholics to pay homage to our Blessed Mother Mary.

"Devotion to Mary is no spiritual etiquette; it is a requirement of the Christian life. The gift of the Mother, the gift of every mother and every woman, is most precious for the Church, for she too is mother and woman." - Pope Francis

SAINTS OF THE WEEK

St. John I, Pope and Martyr

St. John (+ 526AD) was a native of Tuscany and was elected pope when quite elderly. Despite his protest, he was sent by the Arian King Theodoric to Constantinople, where he was to convince Emperor Justin to moderate his decree against the Arians. Theodoric threatened reprisals against Orthodox Christians in the West if he failed. When John returned, Theodoric had him arrested on suspicion of conspiring with the emperor. He died in prison of ill treatment.

SAINTS OF THE WEEK

St. Rita of Cascia

St. Rita of Cascia lived in Italy from 1377 to 1457. Against her wishes, her parents arranged for her to marry a man who ended up abusing her. She had two sons with him; both followed their fathers' bad example. Rita's husband converted toward the end of his life, but he was murdered by an old enemy. Her sons died soon after. Rita was refused entrance to an Augustinian monastery several times because she was a widow, but eventually she was admitted and lived there until her death. She is depicted with a wound in her forehead because she asked to suffer in union with Jesus and was given a wound from a thorn in his crown.

STEWARDSHIP Patrick Sharkey, Parish Administrator

(253) 851-8850 • parishadmin@stnicholascc.org

FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR'S DESK

Happy Ascension Sunday! Today before ascending to heaven Jesus gives His disciples the Great Commission to "Go into the whole world and proclaim the Gospel to every creature." This statement has been called the mission statement of the Church and we echo this great commission in the opening line of our own parish mission statement.

"St. Nicholas Roman Catholic Parish is a community of disciples called to grow in holiness and lead all to the Father through Jesus Christ*."*

An organization's mission statement is an important tool. It can communicate to those outside of the organization what that particular group is all about. It can give direction to those within the organization as they plan and should inspire and motivate their work. Like all tools though, a mission statement is only helpful if you pick it up and use it. Sadly, we've all seen groups form an exciting "catchy" mission statement, only to forget it a month or two later. They create this powerful tool but then never pick it up and use it to start building. Instead of being a powerful tool it just ends up as words that they put on their website and at the top of the Annual Report.

This Great Commission, to carry the message of Jesus to all people, should inform all that we do as Christians. I challenge you this week to sit with this gospel reading. Ask yourself how this divine directive, given to each of us by Jesus Himself, informs your daily life. Are you proclaiming the gospel to your family, friends, co-workers through your words? What about through your actions? How might God be challenging you to help spread in a new way the word about Him and His great Love for the world?

One way that you can participate in the mission to spread the message of Jesus is to support the current Annual Catholic Appeal. This appeal has an immense impact on the Church in Western Washington and beyond. Though it, hundreds of thousands of people are served and touched by the message of Jesus.

Year OF THE Eucharist
Archdiocese of Seattle

The Eucharist sends us forth to love and serve

At the end of every Mass, we are not merely dismissed, but sent forth. "Go forth, the Mass is ended." "Go and announce the Gospel of the Lord." "Go in peace, glorifying the Lord by your life." These words, spoken by the priest or deacon, echo the last words of Jesus to his disciples before his ascension into heaven:

> "Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, until the end of the age." (Matthew 28:19-20)

Mission and presence: this is what happens at every celebration of the Eucharist. Here, Christ's promise to be with us always is fulfilled again and again. When we participate in the Eucharist, and receive the sacrament of Christ's Body and Blood, we don't just witness that promise: we become part of it. We are incorporated into his Body. And, like the disciples, we receive the great commission as well: we are sent forth to love, to serve, and to glorify God by the way we live our lives.

The Eucharist overflows in each of us in different ways to help build up the Kingdom of God in our midst.

- In parents, catechists, teachers, and pastors, sharing the faith with children and young people
- In sponsors and godparents, helping adults and young people on the journey to full initiation in the Church
- In praying with and providing concrete support to families in need, to women in crisis pregnancies, to those experiencing homelessness
- In extending the love of Christ to the homebound, the isolated, the imprisoned, and those living on the margins

The Eucharist unites us with the worship offered to God eternally in heaven; the Eucharist also grounds us here on earth. The Eucharist unites us in the Body of Christ, and challenges us to look at the world with Christ's eyes, and respond with Christ's love.

It all starts with the Eucharist!

Archbishop Paul D. Etienne
The Work of Redemption: Eucharistic Belief and Practice in the Archdiocese of Seattle
Read the whole pastoral letter at NWCatholic.org

"When we receive the Body and Blood of Christ, we become what we receive — we are incorporated into Christ's Body.... And to be Christ's Body is to carry on the mission of Christ in the world. This mission at its core is to proclaim the Word of Christ, to celebrate his sacraments, and to extend his love through lives of charity. The Eucharist commits us to the poor." – Archbishop Etienne, The Work of Redemption

For Reflection

Is the celebration of the Eucharist an important part of my life? How does the Sunday Eucharist impact my life the rest of the week?

Do I live out my faith in concrete acts of love and service?

There are countless ways to serve in the Church and in the broader community and no one can do them all. What forms of service call to me?
