From the Seminarian

August 1, 2021

Hello everyone! I hope you are all enjoying your summer thus far. It started off with a week of very little sleep and lots of sports, pranks and prayers with the young men of the diocese at Quo Vadis Days camp followed by a week of vacation where there was sleep abundant, golf almost daily, visits with friends and Mexican Train Dominoes with family. Now, with school out and here for the rest of the summer, I will be following the schedule of the priests, serving daily Mass, going on sick calls, office hours, etc. This also means that instead of serving solely at St. Patrick's, I will be around all three parishes. Hopefully, this will allow me to meet and get to know even more of you before I leave for theology. As a way of "re-introducing" myself to you all, I will be writing the next few bulletins. In my remaining time, I thought it would be fitting to briefly share my vocation story as, thanks be to God, it has brought me to Walla Walla. Along with sharing my past and some experiences this year in Walla Walla, I thought some of you might also like to know what the application process to seminary is like and what the next few years will look like.

So, as some of you know, I am not actually from Eastern Washington. In fact, until I went to Gonzaga, I had only occasionally been east for a weekend soccer or baseball tournament. I grew up in the Seattle area and like the good, intelligent, civilized city boy that I was, I hated Eastern Washington. It was too hot, boring and every other cliché city folk have about country living. That opinion changed quickly after living here for four years, but I digress. I am a cradle Catholic and grew up in a fairly faithful household even altar serving when I was old enough. I remember rarely missing Mass but when we did it was almost always for two reasons, either dad forgot to set the alarm and wake everyone up or one of my brothers, I am the oldest of three, was having a meltdown as young ones sometimes do. I was even active in the parish youth group too. However, that changed dramatically once I started playing competitive sports and was in baseball or soccer tournaments every weekend; I even got to go to Denmark and Sweden for a summer and represent America against sixty-four other countries. Eventually, it became too difficult to balance sports and practice my faith so, even though I still believed, I stopped practicing.

Fast-forward three years you can imagine my surprise and anger when dad told me I would not be going to the public high school with all my friends but to Kennedy Catholic, his alma mater. I knew I would miss my old friends but was able to calm down knowing I would make new friends, and, at the end of the day, I still had what mattered most, my family. Then, one day while doing homework on the computer, my dad came home and said he and mom were getting divorced. This began a nasty divorce proceeding. I was struggling at this point. I was athletic, smart, good looking, popular; all the things the world said someone my age needed to be happy and yet I was so far from it. I looked at some of my friends at the school going through similar struggles and, to my confusion, they all seemed to be handling it better than me.

Instead of going to lunch, one day I went to the Chapel. For the first time in a long time, I went to prayer and asked God about all of this. The answer I received brought a lot of peace and joy. In that time God told me my talents were gifts. I have grown them, but they will not make me happy because they have not been used with God in mind, the very person who gave them to me. This also gave insight into why my friends seemed to be more peaceful and happier than me, they had a relationship with our good and loving Father that I did not. I left the Chapel knowing it was time to re-order some things in my life. This is what began my return to the Church and, from there, my call to priesthood.

DISCIPLESHIP: As Christians we try to follow God's will in our lives. The US Catholic Catechism for Adults (page 487) explains: “What is God's will? In creating us, God established a plan for how to live in a fully human and spiritual manner. Jesus came to us to show us exactly what that means. The Lord Jesus asks us to be his disciples and shape our lives by faith. The Second Vatican Council reminds us that 'the disciple is bound by a grave obligation toward Christ...to understand the truth received from him, faithfully to proclaim it and vigorously to defend it' (Declaration on Religious Liberty [Dignitatis Humanae] no. 14)

CHARACTERISTICS OF DISCIPLESHIP: There are many aspects of being a disciple.

The Call – Jesus calls us to follow him. In John 1:35-51 see how John the Baptist sees Jesus and calls him Lamb of God. Because of this two of his disciples follow Jesus. “He asks them “What are you looking for?” They said, 'Rabbi, where are you staying?' He answered, “Come and see.” In the following lines of Scripture Andrew (one of the two who began to follow Jesus) invited his brother Simon (Peter) to come see. Then Jesus found Phillip and Nathanael. Jesus does the calling and invites us to invite others also.

REFLECT: Do I feel I have been called by Jesus to follow him? Why or why not? Do I believe out of habit or tradition? Have I ever invited others to 'come see' Jesus? The Church teaches that Jesus calls each of us personally and repeatedly. How can I respond to this call?

ACT: The call of Jesus can come in many ways: through prayer, the sacraments, reading scripture, conversations with believers, committing acts of charity, reading about the saints, learning about urgent issues facing society and how the Church responds to them, contemplating life's experiences. Pray for inspiration from Jesus to follow him more closely & ask others to pray for you

Act with love and compassion toward others through donations to organizations such as Catholic Charities, Catholic Relief Services, Catholic Extension, The Pope's Missio.

Help others through volunteering in groups such as Birthright, St. Vincent de Paul, Christian Aid Center, WW Human Life, Soup kitchens, Blue Mt. Food B

August 6th | Transfiguration of the Lord Franciscan media.org

“All three Synoptic Gospels tell the story of the Transfiguration (Matthew 17:1-8; Mark 9:2-9; Luke 9:28-36). With remarkable agreement, all three place the event shortly after Peter’s confession of faith that Jesus is the Messiah and Jesus’ first prediction of his passion and death. Peter’s eagerness to erect tents or booths on the spot suggests it occurred during the week-long Jewish Feast of Booths in the fall. According to Scripture scholars, in spite of the texts’ agreement it is difficult to reconstruct the disciples’ experience, because the Gospels draw heavily on Old Testament descriptions of the Sinai encounter with God, and prophetic visions of the Son of Man. Certainly Peter, James, and John had a glimpse of Jesus’ divinity strong enough to strike fear into their hearts. Such an experience defies description, so they drew on familiar religious language to describe it. And certainly Jesus warned them that his glory and his suffering were to be inextricably connected—a theme John highlights throughout his Gospel. Tradition names Mount Tabor as the site of the revelation. A church first raised there in the fourth century was dedicated on August 6. A feast in honor of the Transfiguration was celebrated in the Eastern Church from about that time.”

EVANGELIO— En aquel tiempo, los apóstoles volvieron a reunirse con Jesús y le contaron todo lo que habían hecho y enseñado.

Entonces El les dijo:

“Vengan conmigo a un lugar solitario, para que descansen un poco”, porque eran tantos los que iban y venían, que no les dejaban tiempo ni para comer.

Jesús y los apóstoles se dirigieron en una barca hacia un lugar apartado y tranquilo. La gente los vio irse y los reconoció; entonces de todos los poblados fueron corriendo por tierra a aquel sitio y se les adelantaron.

Cuando Jesús desembarcó, vio una numerosa multitud que lo estaba esperando y se compadeció de ellos, porque andaban como ovejas sin pastor, y se puso a enseñarles muchas cosas.

CARTA DEL PARROCO

1 DE AGOSTO DEL 2021

¡Hola a todos! Espero que todos estén disfrutando de su verano hasta ahora. Comenzó con una semana de muy poco sueño y mucho deporte, bromas y oraciones con los jóvenes de la diócesis en el campamento de Quo Vadis Days, seguida de una semana de vacaciones donde se durmió mucho, golf casi a diario, visitas con amigos y Dominó de tren mexicano con la familia. Ahora, con la escuela fuera y aquí por el resto del verano, seguiré el horario de los sacerdotes, serviré misa diaria, iré a las llamadas por enfermedad, horas de oficina, etc. Esto también significa que en lugar de servir únicamente en St. Patrick's, Estaré en las tres parroquias. Con suerte, esto me permitirá encontrarme y conocer aún más de ustedes antes de irme a la teología. Como una forma de "volver a presentarme" a todos ustedes, escribiré los próximos boletines. En el tiempo que me queda, pensé que sería apropiado compartir brevemente la historia de mi vocación ya que, gracias a Dios, me ha llevado a Walla Walla. Además de compartir mi pasado y algunas experiencias de este año en Walla Walla, pensé que a algunos de ustedes también les gustaría saber cómo es el proceso de solicitud para seminario y cómo serán los próximos años.

Entonces, como algunos de ustedes saben, en realidad no soy del este de Washington. De hecho, hasta que fui a Gonzaga, solo ocasionalmente había estado en el este para un fin de semana de fútbol o un torneo de béisbol. Crecí en el área de Seattle y, como el chico de ciudad bueno, inteligente y civilizado que era, odiaba el este de Washington. Hacía demasiado calor, era aburrido y todos los clichés que la gente de la ciudad tiene sobre la vida en el campo. Esa opinión cambió rápidamente después de vivir aquí durante cuatro años, pero estoy divagando. Soy católico desde la cuna y crecí en una casa bastante fiel, incluso sirviendo en el altar cuando tenía la edad suficiente. Recuerdo que rara vez faltaba a misa, pero cuando lo hacíamos era casi siempre por dos razones, o papá se olvidó de poner la alarma y despertar a todos o uno de mis hermanos, yo soy el mayor de tres, estaba teniendo un colapso como a veces lo hacen los pequeños. Incluso participé activamente en el grupo de jóvenes de la parroquia. Sin embargo, eso cambió drásticamente una vez que comencé a practicar deportes competitivos y participaba en torneos de béisbol o fútbol todos los fines de semana; Incluso pude ir a Dinamarca y Suecia por un verano y representar a Estados Unidos contra otros sesenta y cuatro países. Con el tiempo, se volvió demasiado difícil equilibrar los deportes y practicar mi fe, así que, aunque todavía creía, dejé de practicar. Tres años después, puedes imaginar mi sorpresa y enojo cuando papá me dijo que no iría a la escuela secundaria pública con todos mis amigos sino a Kennedy Catholic, su alma mater. Sabía que extrañaría a mis viejos amigos, pero pude calmarme sabiendo que haría nuevos amigos y, al final del día, todavía tenía lo que más importaba, mi familia. Entonces, un día, mientras hacía la tarea en la computadora, mi papá llegó a casa y dijo que él y mamá se iban a divorciar. Esto inició un desagradable proceso de divorcio. Estaba luchando en este punto. Yo era atlético, inteligente, guapo, popular; todas las cosas que el mundo decía que alguien de mi edad necesitaba ser feliz y, sin embargo, yo estaba tan lejos de eso. Observé a algunos de mis amigos de la escuela pasando por luchas similares y, para mi confusión, todos parecían manejarlo mejor que yo. En lugar de ir a almorzar, un día fui a la Capilla. Por primera vez en mucho tiempo, fui a orar y le pregunté a Dios sobre todo esto. La respuesta que recibí trajo mucha paz y alegría. En ese tiempo Dios me dijo que mis talentos eran dones. Los he cultivado, pero no me harán feliz porque no se han usado pensando en Dios, la misma persona que me los dio. Esto también me dio una idea de por qué mis amigos parecían ser más pacíficos y felices que yo, tenían una relación con nuestro buen y amoroso Padre que yo no. Salí de la Capilla sabiendo que era hora de reordenar algunas cosas en mi vida. Esto fue lo que inició mi regreso a la Iglesia y, desde allí, mi llamado al sacerdocio.
