Where Are They Now?

We’re catching up with some of our past Missionaries who served a year (or twol) here at Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish. Learn what our Missionary Alumni are up to today and continue to keep them in your prayers! This week, we hear from Tess Magin or should we say Sr. Mary Cause of our Joy!

Sister Mary, Cause of Our Joy
2016-2017 Missionary Intern
Year 4

It has been three and a half years since my time at Our Lady Star of the Sea, and the missionary adventure continues on! After a year as an OLSOS Missionary Intern (2016-2017), I discerned and responded to the call to my religious vocation. I entered the Novitiate of the Institute Servants of the Lord and the Virgin of Matará on August 15th, 2017. Shortly after, I took the blue and grey religious habit and received the name of Sr. Mary, Cause of Our Joy. With the many graces received through the hands of Mary, I professed my first temporary vows on November 1st, 2018, and since then have renewed them two times.

Our religious family has the double mark of being Marian and Missionary with the charism of prolonging the Incarnation of Christ: the evangelization of the culture. These past few years have been filled with mission trips, a pilgrimage to St. Peter’s in Italy, teaching catechism, leading youth and young adult groups, and above all being formed into a Spouse of Christ. I have been in our Juniorate House of Studies in Washington D.C. for two years studying philosophy, theology, languages, church history, and much more. In February 2021, I will continue my third year of formation in Bagnoregio Italy. Please keep me in your prayers.

Duc in Altum!
Prayer Request

Sister Maria Caeli asks for your prayers as she prepares to search and interview for next year’s Missionary Interns! Sister will be attending a Conference in Florida to advertise and look for possible young adults interested in the year-long program. Let’s pray for safe travels and for the Holy Spirit’s guidance in finding our future Missionaries!

Saint of the Week: Saint Josemaria Escriva
Feast Day: June 26

Born in 1902 in the small town of Barbastro in northern Spain, Josemaria was the second oldest of 6 children, only three who were to survive adulthood- a loss that was to have a profound impact on the family. He, himself, almost died at the age of 2 from a serious illness; but his devout mother commended him to the care of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and he made a full recovery, which he always attributed to the intercession of the Blessed Mother.

As a teenager, glimpsing the footprints in the snow made by the bare feet of a monk ignited in Josemaria a desire to give to God whatever He wanted, to make his life a pleasing gift to the lord. With this end in mind, he entered the seminary, was ordained a priest, and served in various ways- as pastor, confessor, and teacher, ministering to the poor, sick, and abandoned. It was not until the Feast of the Guardian Angels, October 2, 1926, that Saint Josemaria received the inspiration to found Opus Angelus, a movement to help ordinary people pursue holiness in their work, sanctifying the world around them, bearing great spiritual fruit for the whole Church. Despite a horrible persecution of the Church in his country, Saint Josemaria worked tirelessly for the next 50 years to further this mission, establishing lay groups and organizing priests to help carry out the work of growing in holiness through “ordinary life.” Today, Opus Dei has more than 80,000 members worldwide.

All his life, Saint Josemarie felt deep gratitude to God for the gift of his family, especially the formation in living a Christian life provided by the example of his parents. Throughout his priestly life, promoting Opus Dei, he would always regard the family as the first school of holiness, the place where both parents and children would learn to “sanctify themselves and sanctify others.”
