THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

The Three Kings on their Journey to Bethlehem: Joseph Binder

"They departed for their country by another way."

The wise men teach us a great lesson in that they went back another way into their country; and what they did, having received an answer in sleep, we ought to do. Our country is heaven, and when we have once known Jesus, we can never reach it by returning to the way, wherein we walked before knowing Him. We have gone far from our country by the way of pride, disobedience, worldliness, and forbidden indulgence; we must seek that heavenly fatherland by subjection, by contempt of the things which are seen, and by curbing the fleshly appetites. Let us, then, depart into our own country by another way.

-ST. GREGORY THE GREAT

Behold, the Lord, the Mighty One, has come;/ and kingship is in his grasp, and power and dominion.

Cf. Mal 3:1; 1 Chr 29:12

Thank you for your support and donations to help make this possible each year.

The Love Revealed in the Lord's Baptism

ST. ROMANOS THE MELODIST

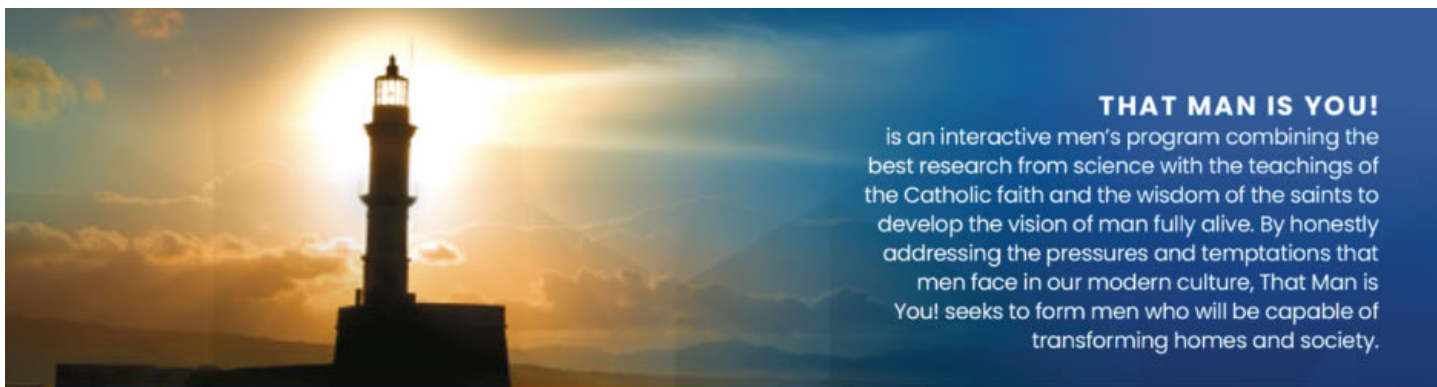

[The Baptist said:] “Why have you come to these streams? What do you wish to wash away, or what sins, you who, without sin, were conceived and born? You come to me, but heaven and earth are watching to see if I shall dare...Therefore, as Moses said, choose another, for what you ask of me, Savior, is greater than I, and I am afraid. I beg you. For how shall I baptize the unapproachable Light?”

He who foresees all, seeing the fear of the Forerunner, answers him, “It is good, John, it is good that you were afraid of me. Nonetheless, let be for now—for thus it is fitting—to fulfill what I have decided. Let be for now and shake off this cowardly fear; you owe me this ministry, and you must now perform it. Once I sent out Gabriel, and he performed his task well at your birth. You too then, send me your palm as an angel, that you may baptize the unapproachable Light.”

“Now you are frightened, Baptist, and tremble at this action as great. And so it is. But your cousin saw one that was greater. Look at Mary and consider how she carried me...Do not hesitate, baptize me. Just lend me your right hand. I dwell in your spirit and I possess you wholly. Why then do you not stretch out your palm to me? I am within you and outside you. Why do you flee from me? Stand your ground and grasp the unapproachable Light...”

“Let the people be taught from heaven who I am and whose Offspring I am, what I am going to bestow on those I love. I shall open the heavens, I shall send down the Spirit, which I shall give them as a pledge. So come now, draw near to learn from where I blaze out, the unapproachable Light.”

Saint Romanos the Melodist was a deacon in Constantinople who composed several chanted sermons.

Lives of the Saints

SAINT HILARY OF POITIERS

Feast Day: January 13

Born into a pagan family, Hilary is said to have studied his way into the Church, meditating in part on the prologue to John's Gospel. In 353 he was chosen Bishop of Poitiers, France, and only three years later was exiled to present-day Turkey by the emperor, a professed Arian.

There Hilary composed his great doctrinal work On the Trinity. "Anyone who fails to see that Christ Jesus was at once true God and truly man is blind to his own life: to deny Christ Jesus, or God the Spirit, or our own flesh, is equally perilous," he wrote.

He was declared a doctor of the church in 1851 by Pope Pius IX.

Saint Hilary of Poitiers, instead of being discouraged by your exile, you used your time to study and write. Help us to bring good out of suffering and isolation in our own lives and see adversity as an opportunity to learn about or share our faith. Amen
