FEAST OF THE TRANSFIGURATION OF THE LORD

Transfiguration of Jesus: Carl Bloch

THE GLORY OF THE TRANSFIGURATION

In the Church's prayer for the Feast of the Transfiguration, she proclaims that Jesus revealed his glory that day to chosen witnesses to prepare them for the scandal of the cross. For two of the three who followed Jesus up to Tabor, Peter and James, fear of the scandalous violence of the cross would keep them from following Jesus up to Calvary. But John, the third witness, followed Jesus on the way of the cross and remained to witness his salvific death. It seems that no matter how ugly things became on that first Good Friday, John remembered the glory of Jesus revealed at the Transfiguration, a glory that John still recognized even in the midst of darkness and suffering.

John's account of the Passion, which we read every Good Friday, emphasizes the divine authority of Jesus throughout his Passion and up to the very moment when the Son of God, of his own accord and in union with the Father's will, handed over his spirit.

When we approach the sacraments, whether bathed in beauty of grand architecture and gloriously executed music and insightful and moving preaching or in circumstances that are very ordinary, or even lacking according to our own estimation, let us not forget that it is the same Son of God who makes himself present among us. Let us look with the eyes and the memory of John in order to remain faithful to the glory who has come to transfigure us.

- FR. RICHARD VERAS

*Holy is the Lord;
holy are they who live in his presence.*

Lives of the Saints

ST. DOMINIC

Feast Day: August 8

Born in old Castile, Spain, Dominic was trained for the priesthood by a priest-uncle, studied the arts and theology, and became a canon of the cathedral at Osma, where there was an attempt to revive the apostolic common life described in Acts of the Apostles.

On a journey through France with his bishop, Dominic came face to face with the then virulent Albigensian heresy at Languedoc. The Albigensians—or Cathari, “the pure ones”—held to two principles—one good, one evil—in the world. All matter is evil—hence they denied the Incarnation and the sacraments. On the same principle, they abstained from procreation and took a minimum of food and drink. The inner circle led what some people regarded as a heroic life of purity and asceticism not shared by ordinary followers.

Dominic sensed the need for the Church to combat this heresy, and was commissioned to be part of the preaching crusade against it. He saw immediately why the preaching crusade was not succeeding: the ordinary people admired and followed the ascetical heroes of the Albigenses. Understandably, they were not impressed by the Catholic preachers who traveled with horse and retinue, stayed at the best inns and had servants. Dominic therefore, with three Cistercians, began itinerant preaching according to the gospel ideal. He continued this work for 10 years, being successful with the ordinary people but not with the leaders.

His fellow preachers gradually became a community, and in 1215 Dominic founded a religious house at Toulouse, the beginning of the Order of Preachers or Dominicans.

Dominic’s ideal, and that of his Order, was to organically link a life with God, study, and prayer in all forms, with a ministry of salvation to people by the word of God. His ideal: contemplata tradere: “to pass on the fruits of contemplation” or “to speak only of God or with God.”
