31ST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The Catechism Lesson: Jules-Alexis Muenier

JESUS, OUR MODEL OF HUMILITY

I did not come to be ministered to, but to minister...

Everything we find in the mystery of the Incarnation of Christ teaches the greatest humility and shows an immense love. For on account of love he descended from heaven; for love of us he was baptized; for love of us he fasted and suffered trials, afflictions, opprobrium, and finally death. He showed this admirable love as well in the Last Supper, instituting the Most Holy Sacrament of his Body...The holy Evangelist says, Jesus knowing that his hour was come, that he should pass out of this world to the Father: having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them unto the end (Jn 13:1), as if meaning to say; since he had always given signs and performed deeds of his singular love toward his own, so he persevered unto the end, continuing to show forth the same kind of deeds with the greatest and most perfect love until his death...our lord, who knew he had received all things from his Father, had gone forth from his Father and was to return to God in glory, nevertheless did not disdain to wash the feet of poor fishermen...to all he showed an equal proof of goodness and gave a sign of his love.

- ST. CHARLES BORROMEEO

*You will show me the path of life,
The fullness of joy in your presence,
O Lord.*

PSALM 16:11

New Bible Study Series

CATHOLIC SCRIPTURE STUDY AT ITS FINEST.

The Gospel of Mark has long been regarded as the authoritative teaching of Peter, composed by his follower, Mark. This study is a deep dive into this most foundational book of the Bible.

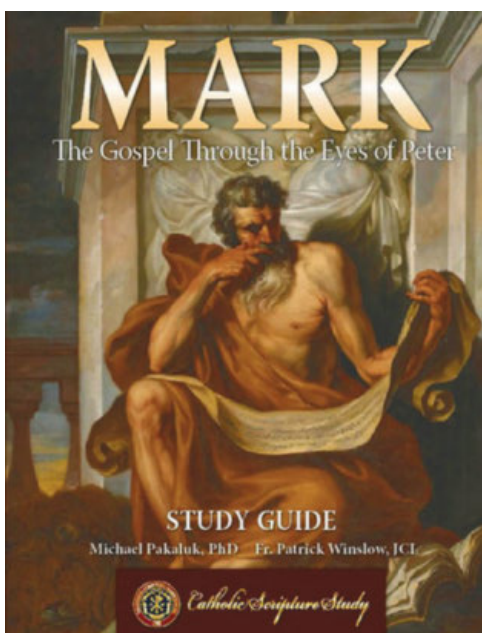

In this engaging eighteen-week verse-by-verse study, join Fr. Patrick Winslow, JCL, and Michael Pakaluk, PhD, as they examine this compelling introduction to the Christ. See Jesus through the eyes of Peter. Experience him first as a “worker of mighty deeds” who expels demons and heals the sick, who teaches that the Kingdom of God has arrived in power. And learn with Peter why it was necessary for the Christ to suffer.

This fascinating, compelling study of Mark: The Gospel through the Eyes of Peter is a life-changing experience of following Christ as an original disciple. Like those disciples, you will hear the Lord’s call—and understand it like never before—so that you can go out into the world as His follower and tell the Good News.

BEGINNING NOVEMBER 7

SCHOOL NEWSLETTER—NOVEMBER 2023

PUMPKINS EVERYWHERE

The second-grade students, led by Sister Daniela, used their measurement knowledge to weigh and record the dimensions of a pumpkin. After observing the outside, the students cleaned out the pumpkins for a seed count. The winning pumpkin had 690 seeds.

BOOK RECOMMENDATION

School parents are encouraged to read both spiritual and intellectual books to foster family growth. Additionally, parents earn volunteer hours for reading our suggested books or ones recommended by Father Lappe within the parish.

One of our suggested books is Why Boredom Matters by Kevin Hood Gary.

Review: "Gary's book helps parents and teachers think about how they can help children sit with boredom in ways that open up new possibilities for life. We won't get there through distractions or chasing the next best thing. We only get there through the power boredom has to reach us in the depths of our humanity."

Lives of the Saints

ST. MARTIN OF TOURS

Feast Day: November 11

Born of pagan parents in what is now Hungary, and raised in Italy, this son of a veteran was forced at the age of 15 to serve in the army. Martin became a Christian catechumen and was baptized when he was 18. It was said that he lived more like a monk than a soldier. At 23, he refused a war bonus and told his commander: "I have served you as a soldier; now let me serve Christ. Give the bounty to those who are going to fight. But I am a soldier of Christ and it is not lawful for me to fight." After great difficulties, he was discharged and went to be a disciple of Hilary of Poitiers. He was ordained an exorcist and worked with great zeal against the Arians. Martin became a monk, living first at Milan and later on a small island. When Hilary was restored to his see following his exile, Martin returned to France and established what may have been the first French monastery near Poitiers. He lived there for 10 years, forming his disciples and preaching throughout the countryside.

The people of Tours demanded that he become their bishop. Martin was drawn to that city by a ruse—the need of a sick person—and was brought to the church, where he reluctantly allowed himself to be consecrated bishop. Some of the consecrating bishops thought his rumpled appearance and unkempt hair indicated that he was not dignified enough for the office.

Along with Saint Ambrose, Martin rejected Bishop Ithacius's principle of putting heretics to death—as well as the intrusion of the emperor into such matters. He prevailed upon the emperor to spare the life of the heretic Priscillian. For his efforts, Martin was accused of the same heresy, and Priscillian was executed after all. Martin then pleaded for a cessation of the persecution of Priscillian's followers in Spain. He still felt he could cooperate with Ithacius in other areas, but afterwards his conscience troubled him about this decision. As death approached, Martin's followers begged him not to leave them. He prayed, "Lord, if your people still need me, I do not refuse the work. Your will be done."
