4TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Jesus Casts Out the Devils: Julius Schnorr von Carolsfeld

NOT TO DESTROY BUT TO GIVE LIFE

A man who has lost his faith in God will ordinarily hide from the deeper loneliness of soul that accompanies his time of unbelief. He is loath to face his real aloneness and inner absence. But if he recovers his religious faith, it is impossible to ignore the change within his soul. No more does he feel as if trapped in a closed room of senseless partitions and blocked entryways, looking for exits and finding none. A door has opened, a release has taken place.

Perhaps no one in that new state of soul can say whether he has escaped a confinement or if someone else has entered and ended his isolation. What is known is that his soul is no longer alone. Companionship with God can seem a simple occurrence in those days and an easy delight. And there can be a naïve expectation that the friendship is only beginning and will be permanently enjoyed in this manner. But the gift is temporary, an interlude before the real friendship begins.

In time a new experience of solitude introduces itself, a different loneliness that has changed along with the change in the soul. A man comes to know it in seeking a Lord who hides himself more often and in waiting for his return in prayer, a wait that may stretch at times beyond days and weeks. Once, however, the waiting and the loneliness are understood as a new form of gift, a hunger for God can commence that has no limit over a lifetime. If a man is faithful to returning to it and does not fear it, nothing in this life can diminish that hunger and nothing can replace it.

- FR. DONALD HAGGERTY

Lives of the Saints

ST. BLAISE

Feast Day: February 3

We know more about the devotion to Saint Blaise by Christians around the world than we know about the saint himself. His feast is observed as a holy day in some Eastern Churches. In 1222, the Council of Oxford prohibited servile labor in England on Blaise's feast day. The Germans and Slavs hold him in special honor, and for decades many United States Catholics have sought the annual Saint Blaise blessing for their throats.

We know that Bishop Blaise was martyred in his episcopal city of Sebastea, Armenia, in 316. The legendary Acts of St. Blaise were written 400 years later. According to them

Blaise was a good bishop, working hard to encourage the spiritual and physical health of his people. Although the Edict of Toleration (311), granting freedom of worship in the Roman Empire, was already five years old, persecution still raged in Armenia. Blaise was apparently forced to flee to the back country. There he lived as a hermit in solitude and prayer, but he made friends with the wild animals. One day a group of hunters seeking wild animals for the amphitheater stumbled upon Blaise's cave. They were first surprised and then frightened. The bishop was kneeling in prayer surrounded by patiently waiting wolves, lions and bears.

The legend has it that as the hunters hauled Blaise off to prison, a mother came with her young son who had a fish bone lodged in his throat. At Blaise's command the child was able to cough up the bone.

Agricolaus, governor of Cappadocia, tried to persuade Blaise to sacrifice to pagan idols. The first time Blaise refused, he was beaten. The next time he was suspended from a tree and his flesh torn with iron combs or rakes. Finally, he was beheaded.
