10TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Madonna and Child with St. Anne, Caravaggio

HOW TO CONQUER SATAN

“In everything of life, we shall be judged on love.” With this dazzling expression the great 16th-century mystic St. John of the Cross expresses theologically the same mysterious reality that Jesus presented to his disciples shortly before offering his life in redemption for mankind. Portrayed majestically by Matthew in chapter 25 of his Gospel, Jesus tells us that each thing we have done, or have not done, to each of the least of our brothers and sisters, we will have done, or will not have done, to him (Mt 25:31-46). Therefore, the last judgement issued on our life will be based on love. Indeed, we ourselves shall reveal the naked truth of our reality to all when we appear before God’s presence. This is the heart of Christian life: charity, mercy, and acceptance. At the sunset of our life, all that will remain is that particle of love that we have placed in each thing. There is, however, another side to this coin: besides being judged on love, we shall also be judged by Love, that is, by God...Each man who seeks repentance and pardon is given the hope that no sin, no situation in life, and no human failure can be excluded from God’s love...The enemy of the human race... also wishes to make us lose the hope of love and joy in each moment of our lives, including the final moment, when through God’s mercy we shall have restored to us the possibility of redeeming ourselves, after having been separated by original sin from total communion with the Creator. The devil, through his extraordinary action...tries to destroy the confidence of each man & woman to love and to be loved. (But may our hearts be filled) with the hope that is based on the rock, the Word of God, that neither rain, nor the overflowing rivers, nor the blowing of violent winds—or any other dramatic experience from which we could borrow metaphors—can destroy.

OUR LADY STAR OF THE SEA CATHOLIC SCHOOL

SCHOOL NEWSLETTER: JUNE 2024

OUR PHYSICAL EDUCATION PHILOSOPHY

The goal for a physical education program should be to prepare students for a lifetime of health and fitness, just as the goal of a classical education is to prepare them for a lifetime of learning. Children today need the “lost tools” of physical education more than ever. Physical literacy, understanding how and why the human body works and how it was created to move, is a vital skill that has been lost.

-JENNY CROCKETT

“No citizen has a right to be an amateur in the matter of physical training...what a disgrace it is for a man to grow old without ever seeing the beauty and strength of which his body is capable.”

- SOCRATES

THANK YOU FR. DEAN

OLSOS faculty and students are grateful for FATHER DEAN MBUZI who has spent the last year being a good shepherd while visiting and instructing classes every Tuesday and celebrating Friday School Masses. We are sad to see Father leave, yet wish him peace and success in his new placement as Parochial Vicar of Immaculate Conception Mission, St. Frances Cabrini, and St. John Bosco.

WE ARE HIRING!

If you are practicing Catholic and interested in working at OLSOS, please consider these full or part-time positions.

Lives of the Saints

ST. BARNABAS

Feast Day: June 11

Barnabas, a Jew of Cyprus, comes as close as anyone outside the Twelve to being a full-fledged apostle. He was closely associated with Saint Paul—he introduced Paul to Peter and the other apostles—and served as a kind of mediator between the former persecutor and the still suspicious Jewish Christians.

When a Christian community developed at Antioch, Barnabas was sent as the official representative of the church of Jerusalem to incorporate them into the fold. He and Paul instructed in Antioch for a year, after which they took relief contributions to Jerusalem.

Later Paul and Barnabas, now clearly seen as charismatic leaders, were sent by Antioch officials to preach to the gentiles. Enormous success crowned their efforts. After a miracle at Lystra, the people wanted to offer sacrifice to them as gods—Barnabas being Zeus, and Paul, Hermes—but the two said, “We are of the same nature as you, human beings. We proclaim to you good news that you should turn from these idols to the living God” (see Acts 14:8-18).

But all was not peaceful. They were expelled from one town, they had to go to Jerusalem to clear up the ever-recurring controversy about circumcision, and even the best of friends can have differences. When Paul wanted to revisit the places they had evangelized, Barnabas wanted to take along his cousin John Mark, author of the Gospel, but Paul insisted that since Mark had deserted them once, he was not fit to take along now. The disagreement that followed was so sharp that Barnabas and Paul separated: Barnabas taking Mark to Cyprus, Paul taking Silas to Syria. Later they were reconciled—Paul, Barnabas and Mark.

When Paul stood up to Peter for not eating with gentiles for fear of his Jewish friends, we learn that “even Barnabas was carried away by their hypocrisy” (see Galatians 2:1-13).
