17TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Milagro de la multiplicación de los panes y los peces: Bartolomé Esteban Murillo

THE FOOD THAT CAN'T BE BOUGHT

For many Christians, I fear, the notion of the Blessed Sacrament as the bread of life is somehow only a poetic or symbolic phrase used by Jesus in the Gospel. Yet what a source of sustenance it was to us then, how much it meant to us to have the Body and Blood of Christ as the food of our spiritual lives in this sacrament of love and joy. The experience was very real; you could feel its effects upon your mind and heart, upon your daily life. For us it was a necessity, to foster the life of the soul, just as much as our daily bread was necessary to sustain the body. There were so many of the exiles here in the Urals who were deprived of it and seemed indifferent. God in his own way took care of these spiritually starved people, I have no doubt, just as he was taking care of us in a special way. Who of us can fully understand the ways of God? For us though, this bread of life, this Eucharist, was truly a source of communion with him and with those whom we longed to bring him.

The five long years in Lubianka brought this home to me more forcefully than ever. I was deprived of that spiritual food and the reality of that communion. I turned to God in prayer, made frequent acts of spiritual communion throughout the day, but I literally hungered to be able to receive him once again. Every day I said from memory the prayers of the Mass and sometimes I think these prayers served only to emphasize my sense of deprivation of the Eucharist. In those days of torment and stress..., I knew I desperately needed that source of strength the bread of life might have provided—and I could not have it. I prayed to God, I talked to him and asked for help and strength, I knew that he was with me. All this I had, and yet I could not have him in my hands, I could not have his sacramental presence. And the difference to me was very real. It was a hunger of the soul as real to me as the bodily hunger I constantly experienced through those years.

- SERVANT OF GOD, WALTER CISZEK, S.J.

Fr. Ciszek was an American Jesuit priest convicted of being a "Vatican Spy" in WW2. He spent 23 years in Soviet prisons.

Lives of the Saints

ST. PETER CHRYSOLOGUS

Feast Day: July 30

Peter Chrysologus, the “golden-worded”, served as a 5th century bishop of Ravenna, the governmental seat of the Western Empire. Empress Galla Placidia heard his first sermon and gave her support to his building efforts in Ravenna, one of the most beautifully adorned cities of Christendom. Of Peter’s writings, several of his sermons and one letter which urged the heretic Eutyches to remain in union with the Church survive. His homilies were vivid yet concise—full of moral applications and sound in doctrine.

In addition to his zeal in the exercise of his office, Peter Chrysologus was distinguished by a fierce loyalty to the Church, not only in its teaching, but in its authority as well. He looked upon learning not as a mere opportunity but as an obligation for all, both as a development of God-given faculties and as a solid support for the worship of God. Peter labored among his flock in Ravenna until his death, around the year 450. He was declared a Doctor of the Church in 1729.
