Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe

It may not seem as if Christ reigns as king. Much of Western culture has turned away from the Christian religion in favor of an individualistic religion, with self-selected practices and spiritualities. As Pope Benedict XVI has said regarding the consensus about the nature of reality, the moral good, and the conditions for human flourishing that is enshrined in the founding documents of the United States: "Today, that consensus has eroded significantly in the face of powerful new cultural currents, which are not only directly opposed to core moral teachings of the Judeo-Christian tradition but are also increasingly hostile to Christianity as such." And Christians in the Middle East, Nigeria, China, and other places face intense, violent persecution. On top of all these struggles, the Church in many places has squandered her credibility to deal with these issues by failing to deal with corruption and immorality within her own ranks.

We should not become despondent. The faithful have always struggled. Daniel saw this vision when his people were in exile in Babylon. And the vision recounted in this reading begins with a prophecy of four terrible powers on earth imposing war and oppression. Moreover, John of Patmos related his vision in the Book of Revelation at a time when the early Church was undergoing persecution. As those who proclaim Christ's death at Mass and receive the body and blood of the risen Lord in holy communion, we put our hope in the Son of God who suffers and ultimately conquers death. Excerpted from USCCB website.

Solemnity of Christ the King

On the last Sunday of each liturgical year, the Church celebrates the Solemnity of Christ the King.

Pope Pius XI instituted this feast in 1925 with his encyclical Quas Primas ("In the first") to respond to growing nationalism and secularism. He recognized that these related societal ills would breed increasing hostility against the Church. His encyclical reminds the faithful that while governments and philosophies come and go, Christ reigns as king forever.

Secularism divides our public selves from our private selves. When governments limit the rights of religious ministries, secularists claim that religious freedom is not harmed because we still have freedom of worship – we are free in private but not in public. But the kingdom of God calls us to a whole life of worship and service in the public square. We cannot worship on Sunday and then deny Christ's teaching in the way we run our ministries throughout the week.

Nationalism, on the other hand, divides our loyalties. It is good to love one's country, but ultimate loyalty is due only to Christ and his kingdom. Ideologies that ask us to put our nation above Christ and his Church are incompatible with service to the kingdom.

We must work every day, with the help of the Holy Spirit, to draw closer to Jesus. In our own increasingly "post-Christian" society, we cannot be complacent in our spiritual lives. To acknowledge the kingship of Christ means that we should dedicate ourselves to prayer, to building up our families and our parish communities, and to bringing healing to a broken world.

Jesus inaugurates a kingdom that grows through humble acts of service. Even as her freedom to carry out her ministries is threatened, the Church must patiently continue to serve the poor, educate the young, welcome the migrant, visit the prisoner, heal the sick, bury the dead, and love others.

The kingdoms of this world at times are sustained by arrogance, rivalries and oppression; the reign of Christ is a 'kingdom of justice, love and peace.' For a Christian, speaking of power and strength means referring to the power of the Cross, and the strength of Jesus' love: a love which remains steadfast and complete, even when faced with rejection, and it is shown as the fulfillment of a life expended in the total surrender of oneself for the benefit of humanity.

Save the Date!

Oregon March for Life January 29, 2022 The new year is quickly approaching and we want to invite you and your congregation to save the date for the Oregon March for Life. Can you believe almost 48 years have passed since Roe v. Wade made abortion legal in the United States? The Oregon March for Life is a peaceful gathering to worship, pray, and hear an encouraging word. Most importantly, the March is a time to pause and honor the millions of lives abruptly ended by abortion. Your presence is powerful.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Father Amal will celebrate Mass at 9:00 AM on Thanksgiving day. After Mass, Father will bless the food donations that are brought by the parish. Thanksgiving day, after the Mass we will need volunteers to stay and help exchange the new Missals for the old. We need to take the old Missals out of the covers and insert the new ones into the covers. In the past, many hands have made this a very quick process. If everyone stays and helps, it only takes about 15 minutes for the exchange.

Visit the Gift Shop after Mass!

Many new items are in the shop. Beautiful Crucifixes, Advent wreaths and much, much more. Start your Christmas Shopping early!

WE ♥ OUR VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers are an essential and valuable asset to Sacred Heart Parish. We need volunteers who are dedicated and interested in helping from everything from gardening, light janitorial and maintenance duties, clerical skills and more.

Join us before daily Mass to pray the rosary. Rosary begins at 8:30 Tuesday through Friday.
