WELCOME!

Dear friends in Christ,

As we move into August, we continue our deep dive into the sixth chapter of the Gospel of St. John, and on this 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time, Jesus makes abundantly clear that he himself is the eternal bread of life that has come from heaven. Just as God rained down manna for the Israelites while they were on their journey in the desert, so too does he give us food – Jesus! – that is life for the world.

I love the line from the people who hear Jesus' words, "Sir, give us this bread always." It's oddly formal and polite ("Sir"), and yet so simple in its declaration. They hear of the bread of life and so they want the bread of life. Ah, but do they really know what they are asking for? Are they prepared to conform their life to His to truly receive what is being offered? Or do they simply want to fill their bellies while they continue to seek out so much else that fails to satisfy them? Those same questions are good "food for thought" for us as we approach the table of the Lord.

School will be back in session in just a few weeks, but before we say goodbye to summer I wanted to give you an overview of what the youth at CtR have been doing the past few months. We had a busload of our high school students attend the annual Steubenville Mid-America conference in Springfield, MO and from reports it was a spiritual blessing for all. This weekend we've got another group attending the local Archdiocesan Youth Conference at the Hilton of the Americas in downtown Houston and that's always a great event. And then next week we'll have yet another group (this time junior high students) off in Medina, TX, for a camp aimed to grow them in their faith.

Add in that weekly Mass and bible studies in the Youth Suite in our Redeemer Activity Center (RAC) and you can see it's been a productive summer. It's all to help them grow in discipleship and the parish can be rightly proud of the good things the youth are doing. When you think of it, that's really why we are all part of the Church. The Lord desires us all, young and old alike, to grow into life-long intentional disciples that seek to make Him known in all we say and do. As we continue to resume more and more of our former activities at church, at school, at home, and at work, let's keep that foremost in our hearts and minds.

Speaking of our youth, next weekend at all masses we will offer a blessing for all our school children, youth and young adults, as well as staff members, who will soon be heading back to school. We've been blessed to have many of our college students home over the summer and we wish them God's blessing as they go off to their respective universities. In particular I want to encourage our students to continue their faith life back on campus. College is often a time young adults can drift from active participation in the life of the Church. In fact the numbers of college-age students that leave active participation in the faith is staggering. But it doesn't have to be that way.

Nearly every college or university has a Newman Center where students can connect with fellow Catholics and the larger Catholic community. Named after St. John Henry Newman, these centers allow Catholics to "find a place" within the Church when they are away from their home parish. We're blessed that our three most popular public universities in the state, UT, A&M, and Houston, all have vibrant Catholic populations where students can be engaged in the faith, as does Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin, Texas State, Texas Tech, and on and on. I encourage parents and grandparents to gently encourage your college students (you might even "expect" it) to attend Mass on a regular basis. If they can find time to attend football games and parties, or find time to go to the library, there is no reason that they can't also find an hour on Sunday to go to church, too. It'll help them in more ways than they can imagine as they grow into the disciples the Lord calls them – and all of us – to be.

After a break last year during the pandemic, today we again resume our participation in the annual Missionary Cooperative Appeal of the Archdiocese of Galveston-Houston as we welcome Father Osas Onaiwu of the Somascan Fathers to CtR. As you may recall, each year we host a visiting sister, priest or brother to inform us of the good work their religious order is doing in spreading the Gospel to all people throughout the world. It is our chance to unite our hearts with those at work in the missionary fields and to offer our support for their service. Missionary appeals are the chief ways these orders sustain their work, so I'd ask you to please be generous in the second collection that will be taken.

Father Osas is a member of the Somascan religious order of priests, and if that sounds familiar, it's probably because it is the same order of our new Auxiliary Bishop Italo Dell'Oro, who has visited us several times at CtR. Known as "Company of the Servants of the Poor," the Somascans originated in 1534 under the direction of St. Jerome Emiliani in Venice, Italy, and today they minister throughout the world with a special emphasis on the care of orphans, youth, and the poor. All the proceeds from the second collection will be forwarded to the Somascan missions to help foster their initiatives on behalf of all of us. Please join me in welcoming Fr. Osas to CtR.

Peace, Fr. Sean

PRAYER FOR THE SICK

Father, your son accepted
our sufferings to teach us the virtue of patience in human illness. Hear the prayers
we offer for our sick sisters and brothers. May all who suffer pain, illness or disease realize that they have been chosen to be saints and know that they are joined to Christ in His suffering for the salvation of the world. We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen.
