*"My Jesus,
I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.
I love You above all things,
and I desire to receive You into my

Christmas 10:00 AM

The child to be born will be called holy, the Son of God.

—Luke 1:35

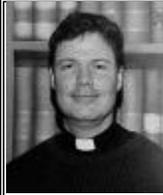

THE ETERNAL GOD

King David wished that the ark of God might have a more permanent home. David may have envisioned something like the cedar palace where he resided. God had in mind something more: a throne where David's descendants would rule forever, a kingdom where Jews and Gentiles alike would be welcome.

Mary's prayerful nature led to an even more disturbing message. She would conceive and bear a Son though she was not yet married. "How can this come about?" Mary wondered. "The Holy Spirit will come upon you," she was told (Luke 1:35).

Mary's acceptance of this difficult challenge ushered in this, the final age of God's reign. What was once a secret known only by chosen people like King David and his descendants must now be made clear to all so that, as Saint Paul wrote to the Romans, we can be brought to the "obedience of faith" "according to the command of the eternal God" (Romans 16:26).

FROM THE DESK OF OUR PASTOR

Dear Sacred Heart family,

Thank you again for your continued prayers and support following my latest surgery. Although I will not fully know its success for six weeks, I am confident, with so many prayers on my behalf, that it will be a favorable outcome. I am feeling much better and continue to progress positively. I am back at the rectory and looking forward to being more actively involved in parish life!

A few days ago, as did many of you, I received an alert on my phone, of another lockdown in the state. Certainly, our prayers go out to the great many businesses and individuals who are struggling most in this time. These actions enforced by the Governor are perhaps, to many of us, inappropriate and frustrating.

This led me to reflect, in this Advent season, of the difficult journey of Joseph and Mary, so soon with Child. An inappropriate tax was levied upon the people and they were obligated to make this journey to Bethlehem to be registered. It would be a journey that took days and be wrought with possible dangers and difficulties. Certainly, it was a journey they would prefer not to make. Yet, with every step, their faith and hope never wavered! They knew Who was about to enter the world and live amongst us! Arriving in Bethlehem they were faced with the saddest words ever spoken by humanity, "there was no room for them in the Inn". God had to enter the world through a back door. And so He did!

With our churches only partially open, sadly, I begin to ponder just how little things have changed. For so many of us, there is no room for Him in the Inn of our hearts. Our loving and ever present God must enter our hearts through a back door. In this Advent season, we should be preparing ourselves for the newborn Savior to enter our hearts anew and to be daily reborn within us! Christmas is not just a date. Every kind act of love, every time we put a face on the love of God, we bring the joy, peace and hope of Christmas into the world! We remind our brothers and sisters to not waver in hope and faith because God, Emmanuel, is always and ever with us!

Mark Twain use to say, "the two most important days in your life are the day you were born and the day you find out why." Christmas should be a reminder to us all that we will only find peace in our hearts when we realize that we belong to one another and that we are children of God.

I bring you tidings of great joy! God is with us! Peace and joy to us of good will. In this holy Advent and Christmas season may God Bless you with His peace, His joy, His love and may each day of this new year be filled with a hope that every day we will share that Christmas promise which defines why we are here! Merry Christmas and God Bless us everyone!

Stewardship thought for the week:

In the Christmas Mass at dawn we have the Gospel reading that God has entered quietly into the world. Not into the great city of Jerusalem, but into a small village about five miles south. Not into a noble family, but to an outcast couple keeping the newborn in a manger. Not announced by royal edicts, but to common shepherds, the first human heralds of Christ's birth. As Christian stewards we simply allow Christ to live in us no matter what our circumstances happen to be. We allow Christ to share his love with us and reflect that love out to others. We now are the heralds of Christ's Incarnation. What an unimaginable gift from a generous Lord. Good stewards rejoice in this gift and give glory to God.

LIVE THE LITURGY

What does the greatest command hinge upon? Love. What will be the defining characteristic of followers of Jesus? Love. What will never pass away, even after faith and hope are gone? Love.

Love is the mark of the disciple. Jesus said that "By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another" (John 13:35). Not our Bible knowledge. Not our fasting. Those things are important indeed, but according to Jesus, the defining mark of Christian discipleship is love. Simple enough, except for the fact that this word – love – has been so overused that it no longer has much meaning. Consider how many times you've heard the word love today. For that matter, consider how many times you've used the word love today. We "love" foods, sports, celebrities, puppies, and our moms. We love movies, nature, long walks on the beach, and everything in between. We are a culture, it seems, that is in love with being in love.

As a result, to say that "love" is what marks the disciples of Jesus means very little. Not with a word as diluted as this one is. And yet when we turn to the life of Jesus as penned for us in the pages of Scripture, we see a very different definition being lived out than the one that passes for love in the world today. Christian love – the "Jesus" kind of love that would mark His disciples – ought to stand out in its uniqueness. This is how we are to love. To love like Jesus. To love in a sacrificial, demonstrated, and initiative-taking kind of way. This is unique, and indeed it should be. May we be the people who are marked by this kind of love so that the world will know the Jesus whom we claim to represent.

MINISTERS OF THE WORD

The Workbook for Lectors, Gospel Readers and Proclaimers of the Word for this new Liturgical year (began November 29) are available and may be obtained from the parish office ($13 each.) Please recycle your old workbooks.

In Blaise Pascal's work, Pensees, he says: "What else does this craving, and this helplessness, proclaim but that there was once in man a true happiness, of which all that now remains is the empty print and trace? This he tries in vain to fill with everything around him, seeking in things that are not there the help he cannot find in those that are, though none can help, since this infinite abyss can be filled only with an infinite and immutable object; in other words by God himself."

We have a difficult time accepting that fulfillment and happiness are not achieved by our own merits but through a relationship with God. We are hardwired for this relationship and it is in our DNA. The simple fact is that we come from God and are designed to return to God. If our beginning and our end define who we are, why would we not want to seek the One who can truly satisfy? The world does not realize that it is waiting. It is waiting for the birth of God in time, within one's soul and in eternity. We get so confused by seeking other momentary satisfactions that we misinterpret the hunger within. We crave God.

The union of God and humanity, revealed in Jesus Christ, is precisely what sets us on a straight path, orders our relationships, establishes proper focus and goals and tells us whose kingdom we really are meant to serve. We are so lost. God is with us. The prophet Nathan told this to King David, the angel said this to Mary and the birth of Christ brings this Good News to us. We do not need to be busily looking for more things but must learn to find contentment and blessing in the One Presence. This is the beautiful simple message of Advent!

If you are feeling unsettled, anxious, angry, disgruntled, disconnected, unhappy, worried, fearful, off center, becoming overly self-indulgent, unable to spend time alone and without distraction, then there's a good chance you are lost. Now is the time to allow God to find you! Ponder the holy simplicity of Mary's call to be the Mother of God. "Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord. May it be done to me according to your word." When we are helpless and at home with our emptiness, God will fill us. Our Savior has come.
