OUR PATRON, SAINT BARNABAS

Barnabas sacrificed himself to be instrumental in God's cultivation of His Church. Paul makes specific mention of the fact that Barnabas, who willingly impoverished himself in the interests of the Church, labored with his own hands to support himself on his missionary journeys. In Acts 4:36, Luke translates Barnabas to mean "son of encouragement" or "son of consolation." The original Greek word rendered "encouragement," paraklesis, means encouragement, consolation, comfort, exhortation and entreaty. It may be that the Apostles who gave Joseph the name Barnabas, saw all of these qualities in his character.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

When I was a young boy, my parents told me about their wedding. Then a few years later, they showed me my mother's wedding dress and my dad's suit. It was astonishing to see and touch garments that connected me to the event that led to my existence. Of course, I already believed they were married based on their word. But these holy garments made the event real and tangible for me.

Something like this is at play when St. John reports encountering in Jesus' tomb, "the cloth that had covered his head, not with the burial cloths but rolled up in a separate place" (John 20:7). Those two separate cloths, for his head and for his body respectively, meant a great deal to St. John and to the early Christians. Some years after the resurrection, there surfaced reports of two cloths with unusual characteristics, one bearing the image of a crucified man's body, another smaller one with the image of a wounded man's face. Some call them the Shroud of Turin and the Veil of Manoppello; they both can be seen today.

These two cloths have a long and complicated history, and scholars debate aspects of them. If you're curious, I encourage you to read about them. To be clear, I believe in the resurrection of Jesus because of the testimony of eyewitnesses and the gift of faith in the Church. Nevertheless, seeing these two mysterious cloths have made the life-giving event of Jesus' resurrection more real and tangible for me. Maybe they will for you, too.

April 20, 2025

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Easter Blessings to you! Traditionally the priest greets the people on Easter: 'The Lord is risen!' And the people respond: 'He is truly risen!' This echoes the joy of the believing community in affirming and proclaiming the Easter message. Our hearts are certainly in jubilation as we rejoice at the resurrection of our Lord.

The empty tomb points to two realities: First, to the bodily resurrection of Jesus. And second, because Jesus has risen, we can also look forward to our own resurrection. The empty tomb is an amazement for the women and the dispirited Apostles. Then the risen Lord himself appears to them intensifying their experience. The encounter with the risen Jesus brings tremendous joy and hope for the disciples. The Lord invites us for the same experience as well. The communion with the risen Christ will certainly empower us to become a beacon of light to the world, just like Mother Theresa of Calcutta who was a shining light of Jesus to every person she served. Let our experience of the risen Lord empower us to do the same.

We recognize several individuals in our Parish Adult Faith Formation (OCIA) who are desiring to experience the risen Lord through the Sacraments of initiation. We have been praying for them as they have journeyed with us in their faith formation process. We congratulate the newly baptized and continue to pray for the Candidates who are preparing to receive their First Holy Communion and Confirmation. Let us also pray for our Parish Children receiving their First Holy Communion on May 17, 2025, and the confirmation candidates who will be confirmed on May 18, 2025, by Archbishop Jose Gomez. We congratulate them and pray that they continue to be joyful Catholics.

All of you are a blessing to our Parish. I appreciate your commitment to live out your faith in the risen Lord by celebrating Mass on Sundays and other days. You exemplify your love for Jesus by serving our Parish through various ministries. And I appreciate your support to our Parish in kindness and with the financial needs.

Together with Fr. Xavier Arockiasamy, Fr. James Dass, Parish Office Staff, the Parish Pastoral and Finance Councils, I entrust you and your loved ones to the gracious blessings of our Lord who is alive in our midst!

With Easter Blessings,

Rev. Antony Gaspar

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC

Mini Reflection: Everybody's trying to find God. They may not admit it. They may not even know it. But the search defines them, and it defines us.

The Search

Everybody's trying to find God. They may not admit it. They may not even know it. They may talk around it, shy away from saying the name, both to others and to themselves: God. But I know for a fact that every person who was ever born into this world spent their lives searching for Him - somewhere, somehow, even if the only place they thought to look was in money or drugs.

It's a comforting fact, really — a reminder of how alike we all are. Catholic, Jewish, Muslim, atheist, rich, poor, Black, white. When it comes right down to it, the history of humanity is a never-ending Easter morning scene that plays in perpetuity. The sorrow, the shock, the confusion. Again and again, as each newborn baby opens his eyes, the search begins anew. Where did he go? What has happened? Where can I find him?

Catechesis isn't enough. Even those who learn about Jesus Christ, who accept his word, hang hesitantly outside the tomb, afraid to go in. Jesus' best friend — the disciple whom he loved — ran faster than Peter, so desperate he was to find his Lord. But when he got to the tomb and saw it empty, he got spooked. He froze.

Sometimes, we expect God to be right where we left Him — in a certain parish, with a certain priest, in a certain relationship, at a certain job. We show up, and we're heartbroken to see that our expectations have been turned upside down. He's left us, we think dejectedly, but we're wrong.

There is no one who has been abandoned by God. There are only those who stop looking for Him.

Don't let the empty tombs define you. It's the search that defines you

— Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Catholic Life Explained Question:

How do I discern if a call to do something big is really from God?

Answer:

Each day we face plenty of decisions about following God: whether or not to pray, how to treat people, and how to prioritize our time. Sometimes there can be something much more significant we discern: a vocational call, a promotion at work that requires a move, or a new ministry position at church. In addition to a pro-con list or a cost-benefit analysis, here are a few things to prayerfully consider and to talk over with trusted individuals.

Does it conform to God's will revealed in the Church? God doesn't call us to do something that contradicts the moral law. Will it encourage spiritual growth? Sometimes we need to choose between multiple good options. Consider the personal impact on you and others you are responsible for, like family. Other times we might be invited to do good for others, but when we assess our other life commitments, we see that saying yes to this would actually impede our prior responsibilities in the long run. Does the call seem consistent? This isn't to say that God won't do something new. Even so, consider if the call is consistent with your gifts and abilities. Can you see a "through-line" so to speak, with how your experiences have led you to this point? Do others confirm it? Share your reflections with trusted, insightful confidantes. Have they seen the same things you have, or are they bringing up new points to consider? Humbly add their relevant points to your considerations. Don't forget your gut. After you've carefully considered everything in your mind, don't neglect your instincts. Does your heart say yes or no?
