Nineteenth Sunday In Ordinary Time

Praised be Jesus Christ!

You might sometimes hear the Church’s principal teachings on the Blessed Virgin Mary referred to as the Four Marian Dogmas.

Dogma #1 – Mary is the Mother of God – From all eternity she was chosen by God for the singular and extraordinary privilege of being the Mother of the Incarnate Redeemer, and thus rightly referred to as the Mother of God.

Dogma #2 – Mary is Perpetually Virgin – Mary’s Divine motherhood in no way detracts from her Perpetual Virginity—a virginity that is preserved physically intact before, during, and after the birth of Christ.

Dogma #3 – Mary is the Immaculate Conception – Mary’s pre-election for the great and unique dignity of Divine Motherhood is reflected in the fact that by a prevenient grace given in view of the merits of her Son, she is conceived without original sin and, by a special grace, preserved free from all personal sin.

And finally, the dogma that we celebrate in the Holy Day of Obligation this week (August 15th)...

Dogma #4 – The Assumption of Mary

Simply stated, the doctrine of the Assumption of Mary is the Church’s firm faith that at the end of the course of her earthly life, Mary was taken up, body and soul, into heavenly glory.

Notice how the belief in Mary’s Assumption flows so harmoniously from those first three doctrines mentioned above.

- There is something abhorrent in thinking that Jesus would allow the body of his Mother (the same body which served as his own fleshly “tabernacle” for whole nine months of pregnancy) to experience corruption in the tomb. (Dogma #1)
- It makes sense that her virginal womb which remained miraculously preserved even during the birth of Jesus would also remain miraculously preserved from the decay of death. (Dogma #2)
- Furthermore, Mary’s Assumption follows from her Immaculate Conception. (Dogma #3) After all, sin and death go hand in hand. Death entered this world as a punishment for sin. The corruption of death is Satan’s temporary boast. St. Paul tells us that that “the wages of sin is death” (Romans 6:23). But Mary is at complete enmity with Satan (Genesis 3:15), and being preserved from all taint of sin (original and personal), she was also preserved from all taint of the punishment of sin—specifically, the bodily corruption of the grave.

There are other important Scriptural passages which point us in the same direction. Psalm 16 primarily foretells the Resurrection of Christ when it says: “Therefore my heart is glad, my soul rejoices; my body also dwells secure, for you will not abandon my soul to Sheol, nor let your holy one see corruption.” But the same logic also applies to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Her sinless body also “dwells secure.” She, as the Holy and Immaculate Conception, is not allowed to “see corruption.”

Psalm 131 has also been seen as pointing toward the Assumption of Mary. In it, the psalmist prays: “Arise, O Lord, and go to thy resting place, you and the ark of your strength.” Here, the “ark” referred to is in the first place the Old Testament Ark of the Covenant. But there are numerous passages in the New Testament establishing a prophetic link between the Ark of the Old Covenant which held the tablets of the 10 Commandment and was placed in the holiest part of the temple, and Mary as the Ark of the New Covenant whose womb contained Jesus—the giver of the New Law of the Gospel and the true “temple of God” on earth.

One of my favorite places to see this connection is in the very last book of the Bible, Revelation. At the end of chapter 11, John the Apostle recounts a spectacular heavenly vision in which he sees the Ark of the Covenant: “Then God’s temple in heaven was opened, and the ark of his covenant was seen within his temple; and there were flashes of lightning, loud noises, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and heavy hail.”

Fr. Van Lieshout’s Article Continued

But then don’t stop at the end of chapter 11! Keep reading with the first lines of chapter 12 (keeping in mind that the chapter divisions of the Bible are conventional, but not part of the inspired text). What does St. John say he sees when he views the ark of the covenant in heaven? ---- “And a great sign appeared in heaven, a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars” (Rev. 12:1).

It’s the Blessed Virgin Mary—the Ark of the New Covenant—who is gloriously reigning, body and soul in heaven.

In the hearts of Jesus and Mary,

Father Peter Van Lieshout
