JANUARY 24, 2021

Saint Pius Tenth Church

Our Parish Mission:

"Everyday we reach to restore all things in Jesus Christ"

3RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

He walked along a little farther and saw James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John. They too were in a boat mending their nets. Then he called them. So they left their father Zebedee in the boat along with the hired men and followed him. - Mk 1:19-20

Do You Know Someone Going through a Difficult Time?

Do you have a friend, neighbor, co-worker, or relative who has been struggling with the loss of a loved one, loneliness, cancer, a layoff, relocation, divorce, a spiritual crisis, recuperation, single parenthood, or any of countless other life challenges? Our Stephen Ministers can provide them with the focused care, encouragement, and support they need to make it through the crisis. If you know of someone who is hurting, talk with one of our Stephen Leaders: Emily (224-6296) or Dick (469-0615). They can talk with you about how we can connect the person you know with one of our Stephen Ministers. It's a great way for you to show how much you care!

Good Morning World. It is January 19th, Tuesday of the second week in ordinary time. The readings for today's pass (including an audio version) may be found at usccb.org.

The gospel is from Mark 2:23-28

I invite you, I encourage, I urge you to remember this teaching from Jesus.

"The sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath."

This teaching can deeply affect our image of God and our relationship with God.

If we believe that we were made to follow rules, then we could conclude that God is a rule maker. We please God by following rules. We earn eternal life by following rules.

If rules were made to give us guidance, we can come to a different understanding of God. God is a parent who offers wisdom and insight to beloved children. God is a sage who offers insights for growth and maturing. God is a creator who is fond of His creation. God is a lover who offers opportunities to deepen in love.

The sabbath was made for man.

The sabbath is a gift for us.

The following reflection is from Sister Kathleen Hughes on the sabbath:

Even God Rested

Over a portico of the Chartres Cathedral, there is a relief sculpture of the days of creation. To the far right is the image of God, head resting in hands, facial features weary. Yet God is clearly pleased with all that had been accomplished. It is the seventh day of creation: God rested.

Whatever happened to Sabbath time? Whatever happened to the rhythm of the week, the sense of leisure, the change of pace, the time for others, the time for God? Is that just one more nostalgic question about a way of life long past? Or, given the exigencies of every age, perhaps the question of Sabbath time is a fresh invitation to reclaim a human rhythm in imitation of the divine.

A few years ago, the journalist Cokie Roberts was answering questions from the audience after a talk at the Missouri History Museum. "What's your favorite Sunday morning talk show?" she was asked. "Mass," she replied, much to the surprise and amusement of the overflow crowd. Cokie was not being clever; she was being consistent. All her colleagues at ABC and PBS knew better than to call her on Sunday unless a truly urgent event required her presence. Sunday family dinner was sacrosanct in the Roberts household. Sabbath time was a priority.

This all reminds me of a provocative line in the play A Thousand Clowns: "You gotta know what day it is. . . . You gotta own your days and name 'em . . . or else the years go right by and none of them belong to you."

Maybe it's time to reconsider God's example, to own our days and name them, to reclaim Sabbath time.

(Kathleen Hughes, a Religious of the Sacred Heart, has written extensively on sacraments, liturgy, and spirituality.)

God invites us to the sabbath so that we may rest. The sabbath allows us time to acknowledge God's goodness to us and offer thanksgiving. The sabbath allows us time to acknowledge our need for God and place our petitions before Him. The sabbath allows us time to acknowledge our faults in our relationship with God and express our sorrow. The sabbath allows us to acknowledge God as God and to offer praise and worship to our Creator, Redeemer, Sanctifier, Lover God.

Sabbath is a gift.

We have a choice of whether or not we use this gift.

We have a choice of how we use this gift.

We can disregard the sabbath. We can embrace the sabbath. We can cherish the sabbath.

The sabbath is a gift that God made for you, World.

Learning About Color

Miss Christi Veitch

Color is one of the seven elements of Art, along with. line, shape, form, space, value, and texture. We learn about all the elements of Art, but color is always a favorite.

Color theory is the set of rules regarding the use and effects of color. Most of us are familiar with the color wheel which displays the primary and secondary colors. We start by learning the primary colors, red, yellow, and blue, then mix them to create orange, green, and violet, the secondary colors. The first color wheel was developed by Sir Isaac Newton.

It is fascinating to explore the meaning of color. Color meanings may be related to the natural world, or with psychological or cultural association. For example, blue is associated with the sky and water. It may also be a symbol of sadness, as in “having the blues”. In Western countries, black symbolizes death and mourning. In China, white symbolizes death.(colormatters.com)

We see in the Catholic tradition, the Blessed Mother is usually depicted in a blue outer garment. This is a symbol of purity, royalty, and divinity.

Color also has implications for marketing. An example may be found in the marketing of laundry detergent. Laundry detergent is often packaged in blue and orange, with blue symbolizing cleanliness, and orange evoking high energy. (colormatters.com) Red is said to be a stimulating color. It is often used in restaurant decor in an effort to stimulate the appetite.

All of this may be interesting, but to a young child, just mixing red and yellow to create orange is magical. Older children enjoy experimenting with various hues to create their own color mixtures. They also enjoy using color in imaginative ways. Who says an elephant can't be pink? A favorite project we tried once was to create pictures of snowmen in tie-dye colors, instead of snowy white. As we continue through winter, we'll be exploring the use of color in new projects

Youth Gatherings in January: Jan 24 Zoom Gathering, Jan 31 In Person Gathering at the St Padre Pio Chapel. We will be going in 2 groups, 11 am-12 pm and 1-2 pm. Sign up is online.

Youth Visit to Padre Pio Chapel

Padre Pio, also known as Saint Pio of Pietrelcina (Italian: Pio da Pietrelcina; 25 May 1887 – 23 September 1968), was an Italian friar, priest, stigmatist and mystic, now venerated as a saint in the Catholic Church.

Our Padre Pio Chapel at 141 Frank Dimino Way, is located in the Town of Gates off Manitou Road, The chapel is dedicated to St. Padre Pio and was completed and opened on May 25, 2008

They are the Hands of Christ...

These young people will be receiving a special recognition from Bishop Salvatore Matano in recognition of the many ways that they bless the community through their service, their compassion and their commitment to their Catholic Faith.

Congratulations to all of our Hands of Christ Recipients for 2021!

Adriana Agnello, Amy Brennan, Michael Daly, Luke Falk, Oriana Gelfuso, Geoffrey Greble Jr., Brandon Leonardo, Dominic Lippa, Kyleigh Penner, Zachary Riefsteck, and Nicholas Terrana

"Yours are the feet with which he walks to do good. Yours are the hands through which he blesses all the world. Yours are the hands, yours are the feet, yours are the eyes, you are his body. Christ has no body now on earth but yours." St Theresa of Avila

Teens Helping Seniors with Tech

We have a great group of teens who would be willing to help with this. You don't have to be a tech person to do this. You only need to be willing. Note: We will set you up with learning basic tech options and all your contact with the Parish Elder will be by phone. Please contact Barb if you're interested!

National Honor Society & Catholic Schools

We congratulate Kevin Howse, Nathan Freitas, and Sophia Raetz who were named to the National Honor Society at Aquinas Institute this year!

We are so proud of the many ways that our students are not just overcoming the challenges of this pandemic year but really excelling! If you'd like us to shine a spotlight on the good work your teen is doing please email Barb.legere@dor.org!

NEW TO THE PARISH??

We request that you complete a parish registration card. Pick one up at the reservation desk at Mass, stop by the Parish Office when we are open or find one online at <https://saintpiustenth.org/register/> and email it to us.

LOW GLUTEN COMMUNION HOSTS

If you have gluten dietary restrictions and would like to receive communion at Mass please see Deacon Jim. We can have low gluten communion hosts (that are approved by the USCCB) available for you at Mass.

"Did not our hearts burn within us, as he talked with us along the way and opened the scriptures to us?"

Luke 24:32

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

"Repent, and believe in the gospel." Some type of honest and sincere repentance is necessary for any type of authentic growth and maturity. We have to come to the realization, unless we are happy wallowing in immaturity and superficiality, that the way we have been doing things is not the best or the healthiest. There isn't a human being alive who hasn't acted foolishly or erratically at the cost of almost losing a treasured relationship. "Why did I act that way?" is a question we often ponder after some reflection and enlightenment. Faith works the same way. Stumbling through life and bumping up against meaninglessness, a person can begin to see that something significant is missing. They see that there is merit to a relationship with God and an embrace of faith. Before these can take root, sincere sorrow for past wrong doing, missed opportunities, errors in judgment, and short sightedness is necessary. Repentance is necessary. Then having realized that we were walking in darkness, we can rejoice that by God's grace we now see the light.

A MOMENT WITH TODAY'S SCRIPTURES

It was a normal day by all accounts, but John just wasn't feeling himself. He was a little lightheaded and out of sorts. Later in the afternoon, he experienced a sharp pain in his chest and arm. Quick thinking and action brought John to the emergency department with a diagnosis of a significant heart attack. Surviving this ordeal, he found himself face to face with his cardiologist, having an honest conversation about things that needed to change. "I came close to death," John found himself thinking. Then came the remorse. He was a young man with a loving wife and children who were very close to facing life without him. John found himself with intense sorrow for living an unchecked and self-indulgent life that almost brought him to his demise. He wanted to change.

We all have our wake-up calls. We have experiences and encounters that force us to really think twice about choices we have made and directions we have taken. Often, we find ourselves looking at those we have hurt square in the eye and wallowing in our foolishness. We regrettably realize that we have allowed our needs to lure us into making some cruel mistakes. We impulsively say things and flippantly do things that reveal our unredeemed and unhealed self. It is a self we stumble over and try to tame but can't quite seem to master and control. Help!

We spin our wheels, naively thinking that we will somehow, perhaps through persistence, get ourselves unstuck. But, we don't. We just get out of the car, feeling very helpless, and ignorantly look at the mess we got ourselves into. Did we ever think to ask someone for help? Or, taken the advice of One who is wiser and avoid this route altogether? "Come after me," are words that Jesus says to all of us. In order to heed his invitation, we must leave our ego-self behind and follow.

When we really see and understand the freedom, peace, justice, and love he offers, we find ourselves with such sorrow in our hearts for how foolish and silly we have been. All the misguided choices and sinful actions come full view and we see how risky our random impassioned behaviors really have been. Repentance is beautiful. When done with a sincere and contrite heart, it directs us to the glory that can be ours, ignites us with the challenge of living a life in service of others and reminds us that all is well.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Give Until It Hurts

One of the characteristics of Everyday Stewardship is to be committed — to persevere daily in a way of life acknowledging that everything belongs to God.

I know, I know. Easier said than done.

Just ask Zebedee. It's quite an image we get from the Gospel, after all. "So they left their father Zebedee in the boat along with the hired men and followed him."

There was Zebedee, about his business, mending nets with his two sons, who were undoubtedly his best workers — they had to have been more dedicated than the hired men, who worked for wages rather than for family. And in an instant off they go, following this strange man.

I don't know about you, but if my kids left me on a hot summer day to finish the lawn by myself, I wouldn't be too happy.

But Zebedee must have been someone quite special. Perhaps he realized that his sons didn't belong to him — not really. They belonged to God, and from the beginning of time, it had been appointed that they would be among the first disciples of Christ. He passed, he called, they followed, and Zebedee obliged. He simply went back to mending his nets, I imagine.

Zebedee already understood what St. Teresa of Calcutta would say millennia later: "Give until it hurts."

"You're wasting my time." "I've done so much for her; she owes me this." How often do we think things, and even people and relationships, belong to us? The truth is none of them do. We must be ready, as Zebedee was, to surrender them to God when He comes walking past.
