Sometimes It's Hard to Ask for Help

We're brought up to be strong, self-sufficient, independent people. We tend to think that if we ask for help, it is a sign of weakness. So we try to keep our struggles hidden, stuffed deep inside. However, that's not God's plan. Galatians 6:2 says, "Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." God wants us to care for others—and allow others to care for us in our time of need.

If you're sad or struggling inside, don't suffer alone. Ask for help. We've got a team of Stephen Ministers who are ready to listen, care, encourage, pray, and help you through a tough time. (It's confidential too!) Find out more about Stephen Ministry by talking with one of our Stephen Leaders: Emily (224-6296) or Dick (469-0615).

St. Pius X Pastor's Pastoral Page (Facebook) Tuesday, August 17, 2021

Good Morning World. It is August 17th, Tuesday of the twentieth week in ordinary time. The readings for today's mass (including an audio version) may be found at usccb.org.

The gospel is from Matthew 19:23-30

THE BUCKET LIST

The Bucket List is a 2007 American buddy comedy-drama film directed and produced by Rob Reiner, written by Justin Zackham.

Synopsis:

Corporate billionaire Edward Cole (Jack Nicholson) and working class mechanic Carter Chambers (Morgan Freeman) have nothing in common except for their terminal illnesses. While sharing a hospital room together, they decide to leave it and, with Cole's money, do all the things they have ever wanted to do before they die according to their bucket list. In the process, both of them heal each other, become unlikely friends, and ultimately find joy in life.

It's just a movie. For some viewers, it was a feel-good movie. For some, the main idea spurred them to draw up their own bucket lists. For others it was frustrating, knowing that their means would not allow them to accomplish some, or most, of their bucket list. And, in the end, it's just a movie.

In light of today's gospel, however, the movie helps bring forth a few realities.

1. All the money in the world cannot save a person from dying. Money can buy a lot of things. Money can be used to do a lot of good. But money cannot buy immortality. Some people even try to achieve immortality through cryogenics. But, as they saying goes, no one is getting out of this world alive.

2. All the money in the world cannot buy eternal life. Some people have that mindset - if I give enough to the church and to charity, God will let me into heaven. That is not how it works. And some people believe they can "buy" their way into heaven with good works. And that's not how it goes, either.

We are called to do good works from our faith, but heaven is not a reward for doing good things. Heaven is not a reward for being a good person.

Eternal life is a gift from God, given through Jesus His Son. This gift can be refused by the way we choose to live our lives. This gift can be accepted or refused by what we choose to believe or not believe. But eternal life cannot be purchased by us.

Eternal life has already been purchased for us.

The cost?

One life.

Who paid this price?

Jesus.

At the time of Jesus, the common thought was that God rewarded faith with riches and good health. If you were wealthy, healthy, had family and friends, then you must be a good and faithful person.

If you were poor, sick, a widow or orphan, you must be a sinner, because your situation was a punishment from God for your sins.

That concept is what prompts the disciples' question, "Then who can be saved?"

Jesus worked very hard at trying to break people from this false concept. This is not how God operates.

God operates from love, for God IS love. And God loves you.

World, maybe you have a bucket list you want to accomplish before you die. Maybe you don't.

Either way, I hope one thing you want after you die is to have eternal life with Jesus Christ.

Having you in heaven, World, is on God's list.

Getting To School Without a Struggle

By: Carol Fusilli Kindergarten Teacher

This year getting myself, a nine year old, and an eleven year old ready to go and out the door before 8:00 a.m. you could say was challenging at best! I, myself, am not exactly a morning person and neither is my eleven year old. The nine year old will pop out of bed ready to start his day. I am quite jealous of him. Most mornings are spent running around getting things put together and ready to go while I am yelling, nagging, and begging my oldest to get ready for the day. There are usually tears on both ends and I thought to myself there must be an easier way, so I started googling, and here's what I found!

Only about 20% of kids are auditory learners, so all of my yelling, nagging, and begging was not doing any of us any good. Making a check list with words or pictures, depending on the age of your child can help them visually see what they have to do before you leave the house. Every child is different, so a list might not work for them. You might try playing their favorite song and before the song ends they have to complete a certain number of responsibilities.

Try a little respect. With kids, even young kids, the question should be, "How does this work for everyone?" It's kind of a very simplified win-win situation. Try coming up with solutions together. The point is respecting each other, your differences and your efforts. Once kids realize their feelings and needs matter they can relax and you can work together to find a solution everyone can agree on.

A school day will actually start the night before. Being able to predict and prepare for what the next day will bring will help kids feel in control. Lay out clothes, pack book bags and lunches (this one is my downfall), and discuss morning routines, especially if there is going to be a change in the routine the night before.

Remember, that whatever way you handle the morning routine, it's setting a model for your children. At the end of the day what our kids see us doing with them is what they are doing in their own lives. This can relate to classroom behavior and how they relate to people out in the world. Parents have to be willing to reflect on their own behavior and adapt. That's key to finding the respectful way to parent and raise a respectful, responsible child.

Have you ever felt called to walk in the footsteps of St. Francis of Assisi?

The Secular Franciscan Order (formerly known as the “The Third Order”), was created more than 800 years ago by St. Francis for lay people – married and single – secular priests, and deacons who want to live out Franciscan spirituality in their daily lives.

The St. Padre Pio Chapel 141 DiMino Way, hosts the Glory of the Most High Fraternity of the Secular Franciscan Order. The Fraternity regularly meets in the Chapel the second Sunday of the month from 1-3 p.m. for prayer and study of Franciscan spirituality. The next meeting is scheduled for September 12.

Visitors are welcome to see if they are called to this Franciscan approach to life. For more information, call Lee Strong, OFS, at 426-7268.

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

What makes a person wise and intelligent? Certainly it is not the ability to memorize facts or minute details about a situation. What makes a person wise and intelligent is when their words and actions harmoniously unite and produce virtue. A person can know many facts and even do the right actions but still have a grave flaw in their character. We sometimes want to delude ourselves into thinking that as long as we are “doing” everything correctly, we are automatically in right relationship with all. Such is sadly not the case in the kingdom of God. We are called not to be just hearers of the Word, but doers as well. That means getting to the heart of what laws and rituals are meant to signify and nurture. If we do not bring the actions home, where they belong, and allow them to speak of the goodness, mercy, compassion, and love of God, then they are simply empty worthless gestures. Welcome the Word that has been planted within you so that you can be a truly wise and intelligent disciple of Jesus Christ. ©LPi

A MOMENT WITH TODAY'S SCRIPTURES

Albert Einstein said that the “true measure of intelligence is not knowledge but imagination.” Being a disciple of Jesus Christ requires a great deal of imagination. It is not enough to simply attend to facts, rules and rituals and consider the job done. Quite contrarily, the Gospels demands creativity, of trying to discern how to put flesh on the Beatitudes and properly serve God’s children. Jesus never doled out a top down agenda. Not once did he ever demand conformity over conversion or sacrifice over mercy. The Gospel is always about putting people in touch with their compassionate, forgiving, and unconditionally loving God and meeting them where they are.

For Jesus, it often meant breaking a few rules. Well respected and time-honored traditions had to be set aside in order to attend to what really mattered. God’s compassion, mercy and true conversion were always the trump cards. The story of the Good Samaritan, healing on the Sabbath, and bypassing of purification rituals all display this theme. Human beings can get too hung up on protocol and tradition. This is so much so that often preserving all of these things is of greater concern than the beggar knocking on our door or the sinner looking for mercy. It is no wonder, then, that we can easily become hypocritical. Many can see us on our knees in prayer while our true heart and actions, rooted in judgment and self-preservation, are hidden from others. It is a trap into which we can easily fall. Who cares how we live our lives as long as our hands are properly washed!

Here enters the need for imagination and the distinction of truly being a wise and intelligent person. It takes a good measure of creativity and a lot of guts to really be a doer of God’s word and not merely a hearer. Being a person who doesn’t just tell people about God but shows people God requires courage and ingenuity. That’s why people like St. Francis of Assisi and St. Teresa of Calcutta are timeless. Their genuineness speaks volumes generation to generation. It’s risky business taking the step to allow God into our hearts. Permitting God to release us from the grip of our evil thoughts, infidelity, greed, malice, sexual improprieties, licentiousness, envy, arrogance, folly, and the like takes courage. That’s why we prefer to spend our energy rearranging the future rather than take measures to secure a foundation that is most certainly crumbling.

August 21 & 22, 2021

The Offering report for August 21/22 was not available when the bulletin was sent to print. This report will appear in next week's bulletin.

JESUS LOVES ME

(Senior version)

Jesus loves me, this I know,
Though my hair is white as snow.
Though my sight is growing dim,
Still He bids me trust in Him.

Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
The Bible tells me so.

Though my steps are oh, so slow,
With my hand in His I'll go.
On through life, let come what may,
He'll be there to lead the way.

Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
The Bible tells me so.

When the nights are dark and long,
In my heart He puts a song.
Telling me in words so clear,
"Have no fear, for I am near."

Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
The Bible tells me so.

I love Jesus, does He know?
Have I ever told Him so?
Jesus loves to hear me say,
That I love Him every day.

Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
Yes, Jesus loves me,
The Bible tells me so.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Give it all Back

Pop culture has given us a unique idea of the term justice. Justice, we often think, is about taking. Taking what's owed. Taking revenge. Taking what we deserve. This worldview tends to make mincemeat of our Catholic social teachings. Seeking the good of the poor, a call to community and participation, solidarity — on the face of it, in a society where everything must be earned and we are encouraged to hoard for ourselves whatever success we can achieve, these principles look a lot like highway robbery.

But when you remember the presence of an omnipotent, all-loving and all-merciful God, it turns our gunslinging sense of justice on its head. For how does justice inhabit the same universe as a God who is so quick to give and indeed to forgive?

Well, very easily, when we remember Who exactly is the source of every good and perfect thing in this world. There is no law that cannot be traced back to the Word. And the Word saves our souls.

Is that justice? No, that is a gift. It is the reckless, indulgent gift of a father whose love is greater than His anger. What is justice in the Biblical sense?

The answer is simple. Look at your life. See the hours in your day? See your spouse, your kids, your grandkids? See the house they live in, the money in your wallet, the food in your fridge, the breath in your lungs?

Calling it all your own, refusing to share any of it — that's robbery. Giving it all back to the One who gave it to you — that's justice.
