You Can Play an Important Role in Our Stephen Ministry

Because you may know of a friend, neighbor, co-worker, or relative who is going through a difficult time and who could benefit from the focused care, encouragement, and support of a Stephen Minister. If you know of someone who is hurting, talk with one of our Stephen Leaders: Emily (224-6296) or Dick (469-0615). They can talk with you about how we can connect the person you know with one of our Stephen Ministers. It's a great way for you to show how much you care!

St. Pius X Pastor's Pastoral Page

Monday, November 15, 2021

Good Morning World. It is November 15th, Monday of the 33rd week in ordinary time. November 15th is the memorial of Saint Albert the Great. The Responsorial Psalm is Psalm 119:53, 61, 134, 150, 155, 158

R. Give me life, O Lord, and I will do your commands.

Give me life, O Lord...

You are the one who first gave me life, Lord. You made me and you fashioned me in your image and likeness.

You gave me life, Lord, preserving me in spite of the stupidity of my youth. How many times my life could have ended, falling down a flight of stairs, plugging a lamp in the wrong way, being a passenger in a car that got hit by another car, learning to drive and being a typical teen-age driver, various illnesses and surgeries...

You give me spiritual life, Lord. You gave me the gift of belief. I heard the words of my family teaching me about you. I looked through that picture Bible, wondering what the stories were that went with the pictures. I was mesmerized by the church we went to, the tall steeple, the stations of the cross high on the wall next to the pew we sat in, the smell of incense and the ringing of the bells, the seemingly endless line of people who went up to receive Holy Communion, the statues and the crucifix. I believed it all.

You gave me spiritual life, Lord. You gave me the gift of faith. I not only believed it all, I believed in you. I knew you were real. I talked to you through the prayers I was taught. I talked to you by just talking to you, telling you things and asking you things, even though I knew I wouldn't hear an answer.

You gave me life to serve you, Lord. Altar Boy, Usher, Lector, Folk Group, Minister of Holy Communion, Seminarian, Deacon and Priest. But you also gave me life to serve you in feeding you and giving you drink and visiting you, doing for you whenever I did for others.

The psalmist is asking that you give him life, Lord. He's going through many trials and tribulations. He wants you to give him life, to preserve his life, so that he can do as you command, so that he can continue serving you.

Give me life, Lord, so that as my journey continues, no matter what comes, so that I can continue to believe and have faith, so that I can serve you in serving others no matter the trials and difficulties that come my way, until the day you give me life eternal with you.

World, I pray that you can, and will, also pray, "Give me life, O Lord."

On Sunday October 24th, Father Leo Patalinghug, founder of Plating Grace, put on a cooking demonstration in the Parish Center.

As we sat and enjoyed our delicious bacon wrapped chicken, we watched and listened to Father Leo while he prepared a dessert dish. I don't really remember specifically what Father Leo was preparing but I know that it had to be good since he is a trained chef. I was more focused on what he was saying spiritually, his "food for the soul." He spoke with so much energy and passion for God that he really had my attention.

The first thing he started out with was this question, what is the single most important thing you could do in raising your children today? Many things had crossed my mind and I knew it had to be centered around family. After a short pause, he gave the answer. It was everybody sitting around the kitchen table for dinner. I also knew it had to be connected to food, but it is so much more than just filling your stomach. This answer led me to think about when my wife and I were raising our three kids. No matter how busy our lives got, we always seemed to have dinner with everyone at the table. Even if we had to run to a practice or a ballgame, we would manage to be together for that half hour or so.

Then my thoughts went a little deeper. I started remembering about the dinners when I was growing up. With my parents and five brothers at the table, there was no shortage of conversation with all eight of us there. My father would go around the table and ask what's new or what's going on in our lives. He would even talk about his day at MCC where he worked. One of my brothers (who I shall not name) used to like to "challenge" my father on different topics and I think he did that to see how far he could go with it. This would be very entertaining for the rest of us. Dinnertime was an enjoyable break in the day that would bond and strengthen our family. This is a tradition that I learned from my parents and carried it down to my family. Hopefully our kids will do the same someday.

The importance of this family bonding time never really occurred to me until Father Leo mentioned it that night. How your family can be so strengthened by just taking the time to sit down and have dinner together. Oh, and I almost forgot, one important element. TURN THE TELEVISION OFF! We seem to get very complacent with having the TV on, that we don't think about turning it off for the half hour or so at the dinner table.

With our lives becoming busier than ever, we tend to get caught up in our hectic schedules and don't take the time that we should, to connect with our family. So much can be gained by taking that short amount of time to have dinner together, and by doing so, hopefully you will see your family grow stronger in God's love.

Art Room News

By: Christi Veitch

In Art, PK – 5th grade students started the year focusing on shapes and patterns. Students used colorful patterns to create artistic fall leaves. 5th grade students then created jack-o-lanterns with patterns filling the sections of the pumpkins.

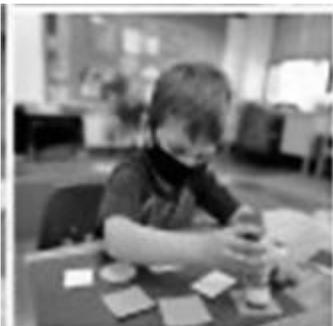

4th grade students explored the art of calligraphy while learning how to make block letters. They hand-lettered trick-or-treat signs for Halloween.

Kindergarten through 3rd grade made a variety of Halloween creations. All of their projects involved faces, so we talked about portraits in Art. Kindergarten students made jack-o-lanterns, and the 1st grade made pumpkin patches filled with jack-o-lanterns. 2nd grade students created witches and wizards in spooky settings filled with black cats, cauldrons, and bats. The 3rd grade made stacked pumpkin characters.

The PK has been learning about shapes. We read The Shape Game, and learned how to identify a variety of shapes. Then we created colorful shape collages.

We look forward to sharing more of our activities as the year goes on.

CELEBRATING CYO

BASKETBALL 2021-2022

CYO Basketball Season is just about to start and we're super excited! Even in this pandemic year with all sorts of new rules we are hosting 13 teams this year! We are eternally grateful to our great coaching Staff and Advisory Board! Our Coaches work to keep each player safe, to help each player feel appreciated and grow in skills and translate the lessons learned on the court to life long lessons and all of these kids will be growing in their faith through sports this year!

To break it down: we have 159 players, 135 families, 13 teams, 13 Head Coaches and over 14 Assistant Coaches, 14 Team Parents who will make sure our kids and spectators are safe and innumerable scorekeepers, time keepers, and just all around good folks who help out whenever asked.

Sports Medicine: Character We Teach It

This year we're excited to be using this program designed to be used from a systems approach for our sports teams. It is a simple and systematic guide with 5 minute scripted discussions. Every 2 weeks our coaches will focus on a scripture verse and related character trait. Everyone hears and teaches the same valuable lesson...This is your opportunity to cultivate character traits such as respect, integrity, character, confidence, mental strength, healthy choices...and more.

Coaches as "Facilitators of Faith"

Athletics provide our youth a positive environment in which to grow physically, emotionally, socially, and spiritually. The responsibility of fostering an environment in which athletes can mature in these areas often rests with the coach. Coaches are presented a unique opportunity to use the playing field as a mission field—to be a "Facilitator of Faith" in developing and furthering athletes' Christian character and values.

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Any human success requires vigilance. Opportunities and powerful moments of encounter can easily be missed when we are not attentive. It is all too easy today to live distracted and preoccupied lives. There is so much vying for our attention that it can be hard to be selective and really focus. Caught up in this whirlwind of busyness and anxiety, we become tired and almost sleepwalk through life. Advent is a time to selectively focus. These beautiful four short weeks are a time to look backward and forward and be attentive to the human journey and God's revelation. From the beginning of time, God has been seeking our attention. He constantly reminds us of the justice he desires to bring and the promise of his abiding unconditional love. Understanding and growing in these truths requires alertness so that we can be strengthened in our faith and prepared for whatever will come. ©LPi

A MOMENT WITH TODAY'S SCRIPTURES

Staying awake can often be a challenge, especially when we are exhausted. Life's demands have a way of zapping every last bit of energy out of us. When we are tired it affects us not only physically, but psychologically and spiritually as well. All of our senses are dulled and diminished. We can overlook details, become disinterested, lethargic and apathetic, and detached. Getting sufficient physical rest only helps so much. We need to be rejuvenated, refreshed, and reenergized in other ways. If we are psychologically exhausted, we need to understand what is draining our emotions and taxing our relationships. If we are spiritually tired, we need to find the necessary "shot in the arm" to put us back in touch with God. Unfortunately, exhaustion is seldom limited to just one part of who we are. When we lack energy and zeal it is usually the case that everything suffers. We not only are affected physically, but psychologically and spiritually as well. In short, when we run out of gas the engine stops.

And yet, our Lord's directive is clear, "Be vigilant at all times." Even Jesus knew what "the anxieties of daily life" can do to us. One day pours into another and time quickly flies by. Any one of us can take a moment and reflect on how many wonderful, creative opportunities we miss because there is always so much "stuff" to do and so little time to do it. Usually these are missed moments of love, and if we are missing love encounters we are also missing God. Sleepwalking through life, we check the boxes next to our list of "must and have to dos" and justify it all by convincing ourselves that tomorrow is another day and there'll be more time. It may surprise us, but tomorrow is here, and time is running out. While we may like to believe that we have an "eternity" of time to do all those things that require the focus, energy, and desire we do not currently have, we don't. We're on a limited ride and time is short.

Jesus is also clear on another point. "That day [will] catch you by surprise like a trap." If we are going to be judged on love and so easily justify not having all that much time to do so, then it seems we must shift focus a bit. St. Teresa of Calcutta tells us, "We desire to be able to welcome Jesus at Christmas-time, not in a cold manger of our heart, but in a heart full of love and humility, a heart so pure, so immaculate, so warm with love for one another." Getting to this place doesn't "just happen." It requires vigilance and discipline both with a knowledge of what is really of importance and what really needs to be the focus of our energy and time. Pray, starting now and not tomorrow, that we can stay alert, be strengthened in our faith, and prepared for whatever will come. Don't miss another opportunity to love. ©LPi

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Preparing the Manger

Where do you fall in the "Christmas-songs-in-November" debate — do you like them, tolerate them, or outright hate them? There's no theological problem with Christmas songs in November outside of worship, even if it's not everyone's cup of tea. But there is a problem with getting so caught up in the baggage of the season — the trimmings, the gifts, the celebrations, all of which are marvelous in their own way — that you forget to prepare the manger.

Every good Catholic knows that Lent is a penitential season. It's hard to miss that point — Lent doesn't even have any fun songs you can groove to on the radio. We are pretty good at recognizing that Lent calls us to examine ourselves. To deny ourselves. To give of ourselves. And most of all, Lent calls us to prepare, as a good steward does, for the return of our master.

It's harder for us to remember that with Advent, but Advent is just as much of an opportunity for penance, preparation, and reconciliation to God — and just as much reason, too. The very name of the season — "advent" — encourages us to focus on what is coming, not what is already here. Be on guard, the readings tell us today, "so that your hearts are not weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and the worries of this life, and (the coming of the Lord) catch you unexpectedly, like a trap."

So let us not forget — our master's advent is upon us. And let us ask ourselves: how can we prepare the manger?

— Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS
