Goodness in, Goodness out.

Certainly you've heard the adage "you are what you eat." And our computer geeks are fond of saying "garbage in, garbage out." The point being in both of these sayings . . . something becomes in large part the sum of what was put into it. Good health comes from a good diet. A dependable computer program only works with good data input. (The bible was on to this when 3,000 years ago it said "You reap what you sow.")

It works like that with our spiritual life too. We are greatly shaped by what we think, and hear, and see, and touch. What we allow to enter through our senses creates the raw data for the kind of person we become.

So for example:

- Child psychologists tell us that hours spent watching violent images on television elevates the likeliness of children acting out violently.
- ◆ Constant attention to a hand-held game boy or ipod inhibits a young person's ability to interact with real people.
- ◆ Non-stop images of negative, argumentative relationships create the impression that this is how people naturally interact. Yelling, whining, cursing, name calling becomes the norm. Talk Radio is full of this stuff.
- ◆ Pornographic web sites demean the human spirit and unleash a powerful darkness.
- ◆ Pretty much any television called "reality TV" has little grasp of what's really real.

Why not put a stop to the "garbage in, garbage out" syndrome? We don't have to drink from the media world what it calls "reality". Why not dedicate ourselves to "Goodness in, Goodness out"?

What does this mean? It means putting a guard over what we let our eyes see and ears hear. I'm being literal here. Change the channel or turn off the TV when it becomes crass or trashy. Walk away from conversations that are only meant to hurt others reputations. Put away the electronic games or instruments when people are present to talk to.

And in their place? . . .

- Great music
- Good books and reading
- Cook something!
- Visit someone lonely
- Take in the world of nature
- Good conversation and listening
- Hobbies are great.
- At least 10 minutes of prayer each day (in a chair . . . talking/listening to God)
- Good TV or movies

I hope you are enjoying your summer days. This is a time to renew yourself with family and fun things. I hope you dedicate yourself to celebrating LIFE!!

Fr. Tim

September

Written by: Sara C. Tate

September, September the first month of fall,
It's the first month of school and football.
September has the holiday Labor Day,
And in those fall leaves we love to play!
You might need to wear your favorite sweater,
With all this changing weather!
Eating apples and sipping cider,
Our smiles can't get any wider.

Looking for Answers?

Are you searching for:

- A deeper relationship with God?
- A sense of belonging to a faith community?
- A greater fulfillment of your mission in life?
- An understanding of what it means to be Catholic?

If you are asking these questions, or questions like them, RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults) may have the answers you are looking for. Each week an adult catechist will introduce a topic that explains an element of our faith. Conversations flow to topics of our human experience where stories and laughter are shared. There is also plenty of time for questions. Sessions begin on Sunday, October 3 at noon when we will meet in the Gathering Space.

For more information, please contact Mary Kramer: mary.kramer@dor.org or (585)943-0372.

Prayer for Vocations

Heavenly Father, bless your church with an abundance of holy and zealous priests, deacons, brothers and sisters.

Give those you have called to the married state and those you have chosen to live as single persons in the world, the special graces that their lives require. Form us all in the likeness of your Son so that in Him, with Him, and through Him we may love you more deeply and serve you more faithfully, always and everywhere. With Mary we ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Stewardship by the Book

St. James warns in today's second reading that those who hoard their wealth and live only for themselves will be condemned. But in the Gospel, Jesus assures us that all who give of themselves for His sake will be rewarded.
